

Lime Kills Many Fish

that the Chemical Lime Company has agreed to pay a minimum fine of $100 for Friday morning's mishap.

According to reports from agents of the Department of Health, which has charge of investigating stream pollution, the hydrated lime came from a large storage bin at Plant No. 1.

Out of control, the lime overflowed its regular channel and escaped into the stream through a drift in which had been boarded up five or six years ago when a similar accident happened.

According to reports, most of the fish killed by the lime were suckers, although there were some trout. They ranged in size from fingerlings to 18 and 20 inches in length.

Fishermen claim that the strong alkali acted on the fish in the same manner as a strong acid, burning the tender portions about the gills and mouth.

Officials who investigated the matter declared they thought most of the damage was done in the area immediately below the plant and that the lime had no effect upon fish after the waters reached Spring Creek.

Persons who helped in gathering up the fish Friday morning declared that "more fish were taken from the stream than could be put in a railroad box car."

Parking Meters Not $2,609.45 State College Borough has collected $2,609.45 from parking meters from August 22, 1938 to April 18, 1939.

John Uniek, of Rush township, perennial defendant in the Centre County Courts, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and undergo three months in jail when he "led" guilty to setting fire to the property of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Uniek, who was the prosecutor in the case.

His sister-in-law told the court that on April 15, while she was at home, John set fire to the house outside her house, and that if neighbors had not extinguished the blaze her property might have been destroyed.

Grand Jury Ends Session of liquor laws; Adolph Ruggenst, State College, worthless check; Harold Jackson, State College, false pretense, and Thomas Hartshorne, Phillipsburg, violation of vehicle code.

The case of John Klett, of Ehrenfeld, Cambria county, charged with f. and b., was continued. A case against Chester Spicer, of Curtin, charged with a morals offense, was dropped by the prosecutors.

Of the inspection of the County property the Grand Jury report, in part, is as follows: "We find everything in good condition. The jail house side porch needs repaired and should have a banister. The ground could be landscaped at very little cost to the county since all materials and labor would be taken care of by the State through Rockview penitentiary.

"The men's cell room, although clean, are dark and the noted cell rooms have no electric lights. Considering the prisoners can be kept here as long as nine months, this is almost an absolute necessity. The cell rooms are quite dark and with little ventilation. The kitchen as well as the ladies' quarters were in excellent condition. There should be, however, a steel crate to carry the cooking and eating utensils. The framework of the building should be painted.

"In regard to the inspection of the Court House we make the following comments: Library, good condition. Men's rest room on first and second floors need new sanitary toilet seats. During our stay there were no paper towels at any time. Ladies' rest room should also have sanitary type seats. There were no paper towels and there should be other sanitary facilities.

"New indirect lights have been installed in many of the offices, showing up the County Superintendent's office, which has none. A window in the door opposite the Treasurer's office, marked "Private," is broken. The Court room is very pleasant looking, having been improved considerably by installation of new indirect lights. The Jury room should have some ash trays and a waste paper basket. The glass on the door to the lavatory should either be changed or painted as it is practically transparent."

4 Sentenced In Lotteries

bar, was sentenced to pay fines totaling $150 and serve 60 days in jail on three counts of selling treasury bond tickets. Catherine went into court with a record of two previous offenses, and with the stigma of never having paid the fines and costs imposed for those crimes.

Phil Poulos, bartender in the Elias Giannopolis restaurant and bar, was sentenced to pay fines totaling $200, and undergo probation for a year when he pleaded guilty to one count of possessing lottery tickets, and three counts of selling them. Poulos was a first offender.

Former Senator Edw. J. Thompson, of Phillipsburg, representing the defendants, declared that the sale of lottery tickets throughout Pennsylvania is so general that it is almost an accepted practice. He declared that his clients were the first persons arrested in the state, insofar as he knows, for selling treasury balance tickets.

The arrests were the first to be made since Centre County District Attorney Musser W. Gettig recently announced his intention to crack-down on violations of the lottery laws. It is understood that the action was taken by the District Attorney chiefly because of complaints received from the Phillipsburg area.

Five Phillipsburg boys charged with using motor vehicles without their owners' permission, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced. Dallas W. Keith, aged 21, single driver of the gang and the only one ever to have been in court before, was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term in the State Industrial School at Huntingdon, on two counts. The current arrest was his fourth.

William Kyer, aged 17, pleading guilty to two counts of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, was sentenced to pay the costs and serve 60 days in jail. The other three members of the group: Andrew B. Dick, 18, Raymond R. Ryer, 17, and John McDonald, 19, were sentenced to pay the costs and serve 30 days each in jail.

According to officer R. J. Crozier of the State Motor Police, Phillipsburg, Keith took a car owned by Gary A. Myers from a Phillipsburg garage on April 6 at Keith, driver, who had taken Catherine Hill's car without permission, at Sandy Ridge where they traded "borrowed" cars. The other boys were joyriders on the expedition, and according to their story, thought Keith had a right to use the Myers car because he frequently drove it with the owner's permission.

John Uniek, of Rush township, perennial defendant in the Centre County Courts, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and undergo three months in jail when he "led" guilty to setting fire to the property of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Uniek, who was the prosecutor in the case.

This was John's twelfth appearance in court and he has not paid any of the fines and costs imposed on previous violations. He told the court that drinking is his trouble, and that when intoxicated he becomes "haywire." He is not married and is employed in a small mine several days a week—not sufficient, he said, to pay his court fines and costs.

His sister-in-law told the court that on April 15, while she was at home, John set fire to the house outside her house, and that if neighbors had not extinguished the blaze her property might have been destroyed.
