

Police End Reign of Calf Thief

(Continued from page one) Selecting a wide board at the rear of the building, the thief drilled a series of holes with a brace and bit in cutting out a hole large enough to permit him to enter the structure.

May 19 the Korman Service Station at Martha Furnace was entered in the same fashion, the burglar drilling a series of consecutive holes in a shutter to permit his entrance. He drank three bottles of pop and carried off a carton of matches.

About May 25, police say, Carmack hit a calf on the O. C. Spaekman farm at Martha, with a piece of iron and butchered the young animal taking away some of the meat. June 7 he killed a young calf in the pasture of the D. H. Way farm along the railroad one mile west of Port Matilda. Carmack hit the calf on the head, cut off about 5 pounds of meat and cooked it in a can, he told police.

June 14 he entered the William Weiser barn one mile west of Port Matilda, gnawing the necks of four chickens, gathered up a few eggs, and departed. But someone saw him in the vicinity and notified police, who by this time were mighty anxious to catch up with the gray-haired stranger who always seemed to have been seen in the vicinity when calves were killed or buildings entered. He was apprehended the same day and soon confessed the entire series of robberies.

According to report received from the FBI offices in Washington, D. C., Carmack's criminal career began in 1929. He has served time in the State Industrial School at Huntingdon; the Eastern Penitentiary; the Western Penitentiary, the New Jersey State Penitentiary at Trenton, and various jails and lock-ups. His record was revealed when local officers sent his fingerprints to Washington.

shal's office in Harrisburg, and of floor L. L. Pitar was sent here to aid in the investigation. Monday night, while being questioned by Tice and Pvt. H. D. Ream, of the Rockview State Police, Dunkle is said to have admitted that he had set fire to the barn during a fit of anger after a dispute with his girl.

Officers said Dunkle admitted driving up to the barn about 10:30 o'clock, getting out of his car and walking into the structure where he threw a lighted match on the floor. He was alone at the time, he claimed.

When the arson charge was read to Dunkle at the hearing, Tuesday, the youth's attorney entered a plea of "not guilty," and the officers were called upon to present their testimony. At the conclusion of the hearing, Squire Cowher found sufficient evidence to hold the defendant for court. The crime of arson is not bailable by a Justice of the Peace.

Police report that they have a signed statement from Dunkle admitting his guilt and explaining how and why the barn was fired. The alleged confession, however, was not introduced at the preliminary hearing.

At the time the fire was discovered by a Hubersburg man, Friday night, Mrs. Motz was the only one at home. Firemen from Howard were immediately called, but by the time they arrived at the scene, the building was doomed. Water from a nearby well was used to prevent the spread of flames to adjacent buildings.

In the barn were about 60 bushels of wheat, a hammer mill, a fanning mill, and other farm equipment. No livestock was in the structure at the time. Two silos, which stood beside the barn, were destroyed.

28 Aliens Admitted As U. S. Citizens

D. A. R. members who directed the program were: Mrs. Charles Mench, Regent of the Chapter; Mrs. P. Lyon; Miss May Taylor, Miss Olive Mitchell, and Miss Helen Harper.

Several of those who became American citizens, Monday, were born citizens of this country but lost citizenship when they married aliens. It was necessary for them to go through the same procedure as those who were born in foreign countries.

As far as the United States is concerned, Czechoslovakia is still a republic for natives of that country in pledging allegiance to the United States were required to renounce allegiance to the "Republic of Czechoslovakia."

Following is the text of Judge Walker's address to those who became full-fledged American citizens, Monday.

"Dr. Paul Schwarz, veteran of the German diplomatic service, came to New York for the Weimar Republic, said some time ago as he became an American citizen."

"I love this country. It is the only one in the world where unrestricted political freedom prevails, and this freedom for me is essential to the pursuit of happiness."

"We must realize that freedom is not a selfish possession but a portion of the common wealth which all must share, or none; that it is based on the mutual toleration of all sorts of differences; and that it is not handed down to us by the immortal dead but must be retained in each generation by that generation's strength and courage."

Auto Crash Victim Dies

Urban, who has been living in Pittsburgh, where he worked, was unconscious when dragged from his wrecked car, and remained in that state for 57 hours, suffering from a fractured skull. Urban was placed under an oxygen tent at the hospital but failed to rally from shock.

All four men were unconscious when taken from the badly-damaged car, but three of them revived after receiving treatment.

William Joseph Urban was a son of Vincent and Verra (Waldka) Urban and was born in Pittsburgh on March 19, 1912. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Helen Miller, niece of Squire R. C. English, of Port Matilda, R. D.; his mother, three sisters and a brother: Mrs. Joseph McCurry, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Edward Adamitz, State College; Mrs. Harold Callahan, Pittsburgh, and Paul Urban, at home. He was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic church of Tyrone. Funeral services were held in the church Monday morning, with the Rev. Father John O'Toole officiating. Burial was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

A coroner's jury empaneled Saturday to inquire into the accident deemed that a possible defective steering wheel caused the wreck. Members of the motor police testified that the car occupied by Urban and the three others had too much play in the steering gear and that the bushings on the steering were loose.

Firemen Plan Big Carnival

(Continued from page one) At 11:30 o'clock amateurs from all over the county will compete for the three prizes of $7.50, $5, and $2.50.

Any amateur in the county is invited to compete in the contest. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Sauer's store in State College. Judges are H. R. Kinley, J. E. Kennedy, and Frank Holmes.

The big pet show will be held at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the Fourth. Prizes will be awarded for best cat, best dog, best "miscellaneous," and best of show. Pets are judged on their characteristics as pets rather than on pedigree.

The parade will begin at 6 o'clock with prizes offered for best business costumes, marching groups, and comics. The Lemont Band, Ferguson Township Band, and the American Legion and Auxiliary Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will take part in the parade.

The midway will be open until midnight of the Fourth with the 1939 Pontiac Deluxe Six, 4-door touring sedan being awarded at 11:30.

Four Gypsies Jailed Here (Continued from page one) other parts of the country. Their photos and fingerprints have been forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Identification, at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Thompson reports that the sedan bearing the two young couples stopped at his service station about noon, Saturday while a small purchase was made. While Mr. Thompson made change inside the station, one of the gypsies reached into his pocket and removed a wallet. Thompson claims The service station proprietor reached into a nearby drawer and drew out a gun, demanding that his property be returned. The gypsy complied and the four sped toward Lock Haven in a sedan bearing New York license plates.

Thompson notified State Motor Police at Pleasant Gap and Lock Haven, and the strangers were apprehended near the latter city and were brought to Nittany for identification. Later they were brought to the county jail to await developments. Up until late yesterday no reply had been received from the FBI at Washington.

IT SHOULDN'T TAKE AN HOUR TO FILL A BATHTUB! Buy a Full Capacity MYERS WATER SYSTEM CAPACITY is the very first requirement of an individual water system for suburban and country homes. Some owners, attracted largely by price, have mistakenly purchased water systems with sustained capacity barely sufficient to supply one faucet at a time. Try filling the bathtub in such a home while others open faucets elsewhere in the house... and the water flow sinks to an aggravating dribble. Protect yourself against such disappointment by installing a full capacity MYERS Water System. Be sure of all the water you need - in kitchen, bathroom and laundry - at outside hose taps for sprinkling and fire protection - in lines to barnyard and outbuildings should you live on a farm - with a reliable, precision built MYERS.
