MEETINGS OF PRODUCTIVE CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS

Officers and directors of the Hollidaysburg Production Credit Association will attend a group directors' conference with representatives from ten other associations, to be held at State College, August 15-17. Secretary-Treasurer William H. Bishop stated today.

Those from the local association who will attend in addition to Mr. Bishop, are Directors S. T. Blough, Johnstown; Harry Cornish, Spring Mills; Harry Snobinger, New Enterprise, and V. Ross Nicodemus, Martinsburg.

Much of the conference this year will be devoted to discussions of ways to increase the services of production credit associations in order to serve farmers more economically and efficiently. Mr. Bishop said. These annual get-togethers, at which mutual problems are discussed in open, round-table fashion, constitute one of the highlights in the progress associations have made in providing a sound production credit lending system for farmers, he stated.

GREGG TOWNSHIP F. F. A. BOYS MAKE TOUR

The boys of the Gregg Township Chapter of Future Farmers of America took a one week tour through the south, starting Monday, July 31, and returning August 5. Each year the boys plan to raise some money through their activities in order to arrange for an educational and pleasure trip of this nature.

The chapter usually has funds enough to pay for transportation and the members furnish their food and supply their own sleeping equipment. The group stopped at camping sites, farm lots, municipal grounds, etc. when camping for the night.

During the week the boys traveled approximately 1600 miles through Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, Tennessee and West Virginia, stopping at important points of interest.

The weather was ideal, road good, and the hospitality of the south was of the best. Farm crops were found to be good in most sections; sweet potatoes, tobacco, corn, cotton and peanuts were excellent in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee. Water melons were plentiful at less than 10 cents per piece out of the fields. Corn was mature in the southern sections, tobacco stripping was well along, and cotton was maturing rapidly. Heavy rains and green floods have covered many sections during the past few weeks.

Members of the F. F. A. who made the trip are as follows: Fred Feltenberger, Marshall Wolfe, Eugene Wolfe, Glenn Proff, Dean Spayd, Malcolm Yearick, LeRoy Duck, Harold Kenneley, Joseph Myers, Russell Houder, Kenneth Albrecht, John Treaster, Walter Shively, Warren Connor, Richard Feltenberger, Harold Walker and John W. Decker.

Wets, Drys To Be Heard

room owners claim that the proposed referendum should not be held because the petitioners asking for the votes are faulty in the following respects: (1) There are only 56 days between the primary and general elections instead of 60 as required by law; (2) some signers of the petitions asking for referendums are not registered voters; (3) some persons signed the petitions under a misapprehension of fact, and (4) some of the signers have moved to other districts since signing.

The Bellefonte taproom owners' petition sets forth the following: that the highest vote for any office in November 8, 1938 was 2626, 25 per cent of which is 657. On the petition asking for a referendum, there are 690 signers. Of this number, the Gryetco-Tanney petition alleges, 41 are not qualified electors and 47 signed under misapprehension and have asked to have their names withdrawn.

The Plink petition from Phillipsburg sets forth that the highest vote last fall was 2044, 25 per cent of which is 511. On the petitions asking for referendums there are 524 signers, of which the following should be disqualified for the following reasons: 5 signed twice; 3 are not residents of the borough; 20 were under misapprehension of fact; 1 is an incompetent; 3 signed by mark; 71 are not qualified electors and 1 is non-existent.

The Alexander petition from State College, is based solely on the contention that only 56 days elapse between primary and general elections instead of 60 as required by law. The Kohlbecker petition from Boggs township claims that the highest vote cast last fall was 692, of which 25 per cent is 173. There were 181 signers on the petition asking for the Boggs township referendum. Of this number, the Kohlbecker paper alleges, 16 are not electors because they are not properly registered.

Shirk Reunion

A group of the descendants of Joseph and Agnes Shirk, deceased, of Potter township, with their families spent a very enjoyable day together at Whipple's Dam, August 8th. Those present were: Clayton Fetterhoff and daughter Carrie, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baney, of Warriors Mark; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gentzel and children, Dick, Donald and Joyce, of Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Decker and son Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bloom and children, Charles and Jeaney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burris and family, Rosella, Harry, Jr., Ruth, Thelma, Francis Mae, Fred, Twila and Larry, of Centre Hill, and Miss Kate McCormick, of Fleming.

Three Generations Present

When the infant son of the Rev. Walter H. Eastwood, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Milton, was baptized Sunday, three generations were represented in the ceremony. The infant, Walter H. Eastwood, Jr., was held by his father, and the latter's father, the Rev. F. W. Eastwood, D. D., of Washington, Iowa, performed the rites, and delivered the sermon. Dr. Eastwood made the trip east especially to take part, despite injuries recently received.

Recovers From Bee Sting

Johnston bus driver Robert Lindsey is back on his feet, none the worse for wear and tear, after recovering from the sting of a bee Saturday. Stung on the arm while driving on West Fourth street in Williamsport, he managed to steer the bus to the side of the street and get out, before collapsing on the pavement from the effects of the bee poison.

ported. The 1939 duplicate shows a total assessment of $1,822,035. In 1933 the assessment was past the two-million dollar mark, and this year's total is about $166,000 less than the total for 1938.

Under the 1939 assessment, the anticipated revenues for borough purposes, levied at the rate of 13 mills, will be $25,009.06.

Several Councilmen expressed grave concern over the steady decrease in revenues through the assessment drop, and suggested that assessors be called before Council to explain the reason, with a view toward correcting a condition which shows every indication of causing a severe curtailment in revenues.

Councilman Thomas reported that he had learned that Chief of Police Harry Dukeman was slated for appointment as constable in the south ward, to succeed the late George Glenn. A motion was unanimously passed that Council is opposed to any police officer also holding a position as constable.

According to the report, the motion was voted upon, Council members are against borough police holding more than one "job" at a time.

Council heard a report by the Fire and Police committee in regard to the proposed installation of traffic lights at various intersections in the business district, but action was deferred until representatives of houses supplying lights have studied traffic conditions here and have made some recommendations as to the number and type of lights needed.

By resolution Council unanimously approved the installation of stop signs at the intersection of Allegheny and Bishop Streets by the Highway Department. These signs create another of the dangerous intersections for which Bellefonte is becoming known. There, as well as at the corners of Allegheny and Linn and Bishop and Spring Streets stop signs are placed at two successive corners, and the other two successive corners are open to through traffic creating confusion to local and outside motorists alike.

Acting upon a petition of ten residents of North Spring Street, Council authorized the secretary to notify the City Steam Laundry, North Water Street, to repair the plant's smoke stack, and to erect a ten foot fence higher than the present 4' one. The petitioners claimed the present stack is badly eroded and permits soot, smoke, and unburned coal particles to blanket the area.

Council unanimously passed a new water ordinance, similar to one in force, but prescribing penalties for violations. The Centre County Library Association was extended for the payment of water and sewer tax on the property at the corner of Allegheny and Howard Streets.

An application from former Council president John S. Walker for a position in the borough for the revision of the ordinance regarding dog licenses was received and filed. Liability insurance on both Logan and Undine Fire Houses was directed to be purchased.

Tax Collector O. A. Kline was exonerated of taxes totaling $1,033.16 on the 1938 duplicate to enable him to furnish a surety bond for the collection of 1939 taxes. He was instructed, however, to continue his efforts to collect the taxes from which he has been exonerated.

William Colyer, of Colyer, a Bellefonte curb market dealer appeared in Council to protest that his regular place at market has been usurped by others. After a discussion Council referred the matter to the borough police with instructions to assign dealers to the same stalls they had last year and to see that the dealers were in their own spaces.

Frank "Posey" Downing, of Potter Street, appeared in Council to lodge a complaint against his neighbor's dogs, which he claimed are a nuisance because of their barking and other practices. L. A. Hill, of East Bishop Street, was present to ask for a reduction of his water and sewer taxes in view of the fact that his garage property is no longer used for garage purposes, but solely as a warehouse.

Mr. Hill also asked for an agreement from Council regarding a sewer line which passes through the rear of the Hill property. Both matters are to be investigated.

George Emel, of West Beaver Street, was present to ask that the width of that street be definitely established. Until the matter is settled, Ralph Caparelli, who is reported to be erecting a building on what may be found to be borough property, is to be instructed to discontinue operations.

In a letter, the Armstrong Tree Service offered to conduct regular inspections of trees in the borough to determine whether they are in need of treatment. Whatever treatment they recommended would be done by local persons, the letter set forth. No action was taken on this matter.

Townsend Meeting

Club No. 1 of the Townsend Recovery Plan is sponsoring a meeting to be held in the auditorium at Spring Mills on Monday evening, August 14, at 7:30 o'clock. The speaker will be George Vose, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

you have listened awhile, you will ride on into Bellefonte. "Once upon a time not so very long ago, the pulse weakened during a Democratic landslide which loosened a lot of dirt in various parts of the country, but its slow recovery has been marked by a gradual strengthening throughout the whole body of the Commonwealth. Yes, Bellefonte continues to hold her own, and so does the rest of Pennsylvania."

"As the European Czacherboard presents a more and more complicated game, and even Philadelphia suffers from an attack of the Cramps, the simple-hearted citizens up here in the woods have nothing more severe to endure than sporadic labor pains, would-be children of the New Deal. These attacks come and go, cause slight groans from a harried manufacturer or two, and then disappear whence they came. Life resumes its peaceful aspect."

"While Philadelphians spend their time getting all steamed up over their political hot spots, up here in Bellefonte we have had the same Mayor for 15 years.

"Any morning he may be found standing at the bank corner, chatting informally with policemen, Councilmen, bicycling boys and marketing housewives. He tells us to cut down our weeds, to clean off the snow, to shut up the dogs. Sometimes we obey—sometimes we suit ourselves."

"Occasionally and much to our surprise, we find we have elected a Democratic judge. We make the best of it and are soon grudgingly admitting that 'he isn't such a bad egg after all.'"

"Senator Jack Thompson came down from Phillipsburg (which is also in Centre county) to make a speech at the Kiwanis Club about his hero, Andrew Johnson. Republicans were among the first to clap him on the back when he sat down."

"Now, when Uncle Dominick was up, he did not stay long enough to delve into everything, although by his own admission, our Mayor nearly trotted the legs off him. He saw the wide open spaces from mountain peaks, the thousands of young fry that gaped at him at the fish hatchery, and most of the bright spots recommended by Bellefonte's ardent boy friend, the Chamber of Commerce."

"But was he here long enough to see into the minds and feelings of the people, to realize how they reflect the atmosphere of the rural communities throughout the State, how they typify all the little particles of flint that go to make up this most versatile and beautiful Keystone?"

"Bellefonte is perhaps known to you as 'the home of the big fish,' real fish to you, who have known all kinds. Didn't you read in the paper just last week that Thomas J. Pendergast was 'formerly the big boss of politics in Kansas City?'"

"Up here real fish make headlines. The other day Grandma Trout turned her belly to the sun and floated down stream to fish heaven. The State College daily paper gave her space on the front page."

"But the most important fish of all is the longest one caught each year on April 15. He puts up a terrific struggle before he gives up the ghost. Grandma down by the spring was a lady old devil. For years she had lived upon the scrap of hamburger that tourists had thrown her."

"We are close to Nature up here. We plant our vegetable garden with an eye to pleasing the rabbits, who sit thumbing their noses at us, because they know that we have to get a special permit to kill them and that we love them too much to do it, anyway. On our farms we reserve a field of oats for the deer, and take care to fence it low enough to permit them to jump over."

"In our personal relations we are just as generous. Everyone knows our bank accounts, name of hair dye and age. "One chap, who has a State job, read in the paper recently, as part of Governor James' economic program, he had been appointed 'liaison official between his department and the State Authority.'"

"His wife looked up that word 'liaison' to find out what her husband really was, and discovered that the first definition had something to say about illicit love affairs. Now she views him with suspicion, an accomplice in him on all his business trips. These wives up here are on the job."

"If you've something you want to hide, stay in the city. If not, come up and see us, for we just do on the people's secrets and make them our own."

man, of Pleasant Gap, was damaged approximately $300 when it struck a culvert. Poorman suffered lacerations of the face and forehead and bruises on his hands. His companion, Betty Corman, of Bellefonte, R. D., received cuts about the face and head. She also lost several teeth, according to police who investigated the accident. The accident was caused when the car began to drag to the side of the road because of some mechanical trouble, the driver said.

Eighty-Four Concessions Granted On Midway At The Grange Fair

Above you see a picture of the midway at the Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair, always a lively part of the week's celebration held at Grange Park, Centre Hall. An enlarged entertainment section has been arranged for this year's occasion.

According to the Grange Fair committee, 84 concessions, 3 shows, 4 rides and a number of other interesting features have been arranged, not including the many exhibits shown annually and the special daily programs. Also, exhibitors from many of the business houses display at the Grange Encampment.

Bingo, hot dog stands and other entertainment and food booths line the Midway from one end to the other. Most of these entertaining features are popular after sunset. But during the day there are athletic events and special speaking programs. In the evening, the Grange Players and Amateur Hour holds interest as the "after supper" program gets under way.

Two Men Leap To Safety

The accident was investigated by Private S. Caion, of the State Motor Police, Pleasant Gap. The test freight began its run over the Bald Eagle Valley branch on unscheduled trips between Altoona and Lock Haven, early in June, the train being operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad on behalf of the Association of American Railroads to test out new high-speed freight train equipment being developed for use on the nation's railways. The train reaches speeds up to 100 miles an hour on its runs, and yesterday morning's mishap was the first to mar the test runs to date.

"THE GRASS GROWS GREENER"

The Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church and secretary of the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club, in his regular weekly letter to members of the club, gives his answer to the question: "What's Wrong With Bellefonte?"

Rev. Arnold, who last week departed for York for his annual vacation, writes that there's nothing wrong with the grass in our pasture. Here is his optimistic, enthusiastic comment:

"THE GRASS GROWS GREENER! OR DOES IT?"

"Just before leaving on vacation a fellow Kiwanian asked the secretary the question raised in one of our local papers, 'What is Wrong With Bellefonte?'"

"His cogitations on the matter were O. K.; but vacation sights have given us another slant on the proposition, too. Out through the wires of the fence the cows were stretching their necks to get the grass along the highway and outside of the fields in which they were confined. Yep, the grass was greener on the outside! It always grows greener outside the field!"

"Humans are that way too. The grass along the highways was dusty and burned; not much rain down this way. The cows were in mighty good grass, much better than the dirty, wiry stuff they were pushing after. What is wrong in Bellefonte is wrong everywhere; the grass is greener, it grows greener on the outside."

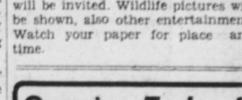

"Well, the truth is that there is some mighty good grass in Bellefonte and we'd do better to look at it. What's wrong with Bellefonte? Why not, 'What's right with Bellefonte?' If everybody would boost; if the hammers stopped knocking, and would build instead right where we are, what a forward step Bellefonte could take. We can name lots of fine things about the home town in addition to the best of water and big fish. Please conceal ought to be resurrected again to come around with his famed lecture, 'Acres of Diamonds.' We sing, 'Boost for Ki-
