

Williams Sentenced In Fatal Shooting

(Continued from page one) to where the "groundhog" had been sitting, and was so horrified upon finding he had shot a man, that he fled from the scene and returned home without reporting the matter, police said.

State Police Officer James H. Griffith, formerly of Rockview barracks, who made a statement to the court regarding the Winters shooting, declared that in February 1938 Williams' hunting license had been revoked when he was apprehended stealing from traps in Clinton county. June 18 he borrowed a rifle from a neighbor, Frank Myers, to hunt deer which he had seen in the woods near his home. June 19 he hunted deer (illegally) in Clinton county, and on June 20, the day of the fatality, he came into Centre county to hunt.

The charge against Williams is a game code violation and the jail sentence is specifically called for, rather than incarceration in a penitentiary. Williams, when asked whether he had anything to say in his own behalf, submitted the statement made by Officer Griffith in every particular. It is reported that in the event he fails to pay the $500 to relatives of the deceased, additional time in jail will be substituted.

3 Fugitives Sentenced Among other defendants who entered pleas of guilty Monday were three inmates who had escaped from Rockview penitentiary. David Clark, who fled from Rockview on June 9 while working at the sawmill along Spring Creek, had his 2-to-6-year term from Elk county doubled. Clark was apprehended near Valley View several days after his escape, the capture being made by A. L. Mayer, William Mayer and Doris Eckley, whose suspicions were aroused by Clark's actions.

Clark, who since his capture had failed to plead guilty to escaping and who was confined at the Centre county jail, was removed to Rockview Sunday, after jail attendants discovered that he had sawed through the steel bars of his cell door with a razor blade, and that he had removed stones in the cell in an apparent effort to escape. Charles Edward Porter was sentenced to serve an additional 4 to 10 years when he pleaded guilty to escaping from Rockview on July 24. Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads said Porter was transferred to Rockview on July 7 and was assigned to drive a team. On the day of the escape he drove the team to Spring Creek and then left the motor in front. Three days later he was picked off a truck at Ebensburg by officers who were halting traffic in a search for the fugitive.

Alexander Winkles, aged 27, who escaped Rockview last Thursday by jumping off a truck which was carrying a group of inmates from the fields to the prison buildings, and who a short time later was rendered unconscious in a fall over a pile of rocks in the McBride Gap area, appeared in Court to plead guilty to an escape attempt. His original sentence from 2 to 4 years in Philadelphia county was doubled.

Several hours after his escape, Winkles was found lying unconscious at the foot of the stone pile. A guard revived him and he was later brought to the Centre County Hospital, Bellefonte, for treatment of lacerations and severe bruises about the nose. He appeared in court with a large patch over his nose.

Drunken Drivers Plead Three persons pleading guilty to drunken driving charges were among Monday's long list of defendants.

George N. Miller, of State College, arrested on July 5 in Spring township by State Motor Police Officer G. N. Finnin who had received a complaint that Miller's truck was being operated in an erratic manner on the Centre Hall mountain road, was sentenced to pay the costs and to serve 30 days in the county jail.

Orrin Dubbs, of Julian, also pleading guilty to a drunken driving count, was sentenced to pay the costs and serve 30 days in jail. He was arrested June 22 in Boggs township by Officer Finnin after his car had swerved off the road, upset and skidded along for a distance, coming to rest in the road. Three or four children in the car received injuries, Finnin reported.

The third drunken driver to plead guilty was Morris Auman, of Halfmoon Hill, Bellefonte. He was arrested May 20, in Boggs township by State Motor Police Officer C. J. Conahan, of Pleasant Gap, who claimed the Auman car was zig-zagging along the Milesburg-Bellefonte highway. Auman was sentenced to pay the costs and serve 30 days in jail. He was given the option of spending 10 days in jail and paying a fine of $100.

Admit $150 Theft Rodney Struble, 20, and William Royer, 17, of Houseville, admitted the theft of 2 auto horns and a carburetor, valued at a total of $150 from a junk yard near State College on July 17, and were placed under probation for three years upon payment of the costs and making restitution of the goods taken. Both are first offenders and the prosecutor in the case was Private Joseph Jordan, of the Motor Police at Pleasant Gap.

Brothers on Probation Herbert Auman, 19, and Clarence Auman, 25, brothers, of Spring Mills, entered pleas of guilty to breaking and entering charges resulting from two thefts at the S. W. Healey service station in Gregg township from which 40 gallons of gasoline and 7 gallons of oil were taken. The prosecutor was Officer Wayne C. Myers, of the State Motor Police at Rockview.

Judge Walker, after questioning the boys at length, declared that the court was not favorably impressed with their attitude, but had decided to give them another chance since they both are first offenders. As a result the boys were placed under probation for five years each, upon payment of the costs and making restitution to Mr. Healey.

Clarence Youths Sentenced Four youths charged with participation in a series of small-time service station burglaries, including one at Julian in which Albert Ludwig narrowly escaped being struck by a bullet fired by the station attendant, entered pleas of guilty to charges of breaking, entering and larceny.

Among the burglaries committed by the group were ones at the John Bolsh store, Clarence; the Wharton Oswald store, Clarence; and the Joseph Weller service station at Julian, Harold D. Ream, of the State Motor Police at Rockview, was the prosecutor.

Sentences handed out to members of the group are: Andy Hramonik, 16; Harry Hill, 16; Andy Botson, 16 and Albert Ludwig, 19, each probation for three years, costs of prosecution and restitution of goods taken. In addition Botson was sentenced to serve 60 days in jail and Ludwig was sentenced to serve 3 months in jail.

Admits Auto Theft Lester N. Fryer, of near Lewisport, admitted the theft of a DeSoto car owned by Samuel W. Wagner, of Lewisport, from the Raynor Lodge, Potter township, on August 10, 1938. Both men were attending a Lewisport garage men's picnic at the lodge at the time, but were not together. Fryer drove away in the car, in which the keys had been left in the ignition switch. Upon his apprehension in Milfill county he was charged with drunken driving and with taking a car without the owner's permission and has just completed serving a year in the county jail on those charges.

In view of his punishment for the crimes in Milfill county, the local court was lenient on the local charge and sentenced Fryer to pay the costs of prosecution and to serve 30 days in jail.

Scrap Iron Expensive John Benzie, aged 52, of Buffalo Run Valley, charged with larceny in connection with the removal of the iron portions of some six mine cars from the Chemical Lime Company quarries, was placed under probation for three years upon payment of the costs of prosecution and making restitution to the Chemical Lime Company in the amount of $50.

According to Private Myers, the prosecutor, Benzie burned the wooden portions of the six cars and then hauled most of the scrap iron to his home, where much of it was recovered.

CCC Boy Sentenced A member of the CCC Camp near the Hosagra 2 nursery admitted the theft of 2 suits of clothing and a camera from fellow camp members and was placed on probation for three years upon payment of the costs and making restitution. In addition, camp authorities gave him a dishonorable discharge from the CCC organization. The defendant, Arthur E. Yates, aged 18, is a resident of Philadelphia, and the thefts occurred on August 3.

Chicken Thieves Plead Lester Confer, 22, Glenn Confer, 19, Cornelius Confer, 20, and Elmer Robinson, 20, were sentenced to serve indefinite terms at the State Industrial School in Huntingdon when they pleaded guilty to a series of chicken thefts in various parts of the county. George Robinson, who was charged with having provided shelter and with having disposed of incriminating evidence, has been serving a jail sentence on a drunken driving count. He was sentenced to serve an additional 30 days in jail at the expiration of his present term. Private James H. Griffith, formerly of Rockview, who investigated the chicken thefts and made the arrests, reported that the gang used a cabin about 20 miles from Moshannon along the Renovo road as a base for their operations. There they rested before foraging to chicken houses and then they stored crates, bags and other equipment of their illegal trade, the officer reported. The chickens were disposed of at city markets.

PINE GLEN

Church services are at 7:30 p. m. Epworth League at 6:30 and Sunday school at 10 a. m. The Senior class of young people having the largest attendance last Sunday are holding the banner. Maybe you can help your class, get a new member and the banner. Make our Sunday school the shining spot of the community. You'll be glad you come.

Were you at the Sunday School picnic? The Whispering Pines proved to be such an ideal place that the school unanimously voted to go back there next year, and asked for the same date. The ball games were between Grassflat and Pine Glenn. Grassflat being the winner defeating the home team badly. After the dinner the table was set for the picnic. The boys were quickly forgiven as one player said even Babe Ruth couldn't play ball after eating dinner at the Pine Glen Sunday School picnic table. Come again Grassflat we don't picnic every day. There were eighty members at the table and all did justice to the feast. The children enjoyed the play grounds so well that they thought the day far too short. We thank all the older folks that took so much interest in the little tots and made it a real day of fun, a day to be remembered, and hope all enjoy the Sabbath School services well.

The Hoover boys purchased a Chevrolet truck last week to use on their lumber job and farm. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Burkey and family attended the Bukey reunion at Johnston, on Saturday.

About 30 employees of the Bonton store in Altoona, partook of a sumptuous chicken dinner at the Flesher restaurant, on Sunday.

Geo. Dillon had the misfortune to be struck in the eye with a ball while playing in the game at Martha. It was necessary for him to go to the hospital for examination.

Guests at the C. Meyer home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keck and three children, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hunter and three children and Mrs. Boyd Myers, of Turtle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Herr, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leo and baby of Mrs. Harry Armstrong, of Phillipsburg; and his sister Mrs. Mary Webb of Houzard; Mr. and Mrs. Regis Whalover and Edward Myers and family and Donald Irwin of Milesburg.

Games of all kinds were enjoyed by the ladies and children. After the ball game, the procession headed for the college dining room where the evening meal was enjoyed. This meal featured the seasonal dish of fried chicken and everything that went with it. After the meal, games for the men were enjoyed until dusk when everyone adjourned to Deyle hall for a two-hour entertainment program featuring group singing, selections by the Wolf orchestra and an amateur choir.

Employees of the different stores competed for prizes. Judges for the amateur hour were: Dr. James Sloan, of Johnston; Merle Martin, of Phillipsburg; Robert P. Good, of Altoona; Kathleen Wesley, of Tyrone; Ida Bolman, of Altoona; Grace Poorman, of Bellefonte; R. Brummel Brugler, of Lewistown; and Richard Beiler, of Altoona.

Results of the amateur contest were: Branch stores, first prize, John Davis, of Phillipsburg store; second prize, Lewistown store group, and third prize, Bellefonte store group. The third prize going to Bellefonte was an artist sketch act provided by William Irvine and Albert Osman.

The Wolf orchestra members included Mary Nicholson, Marie Steiner, Eva Bell and William Irvine. Climaxing the entertainment at Deyle hall was a grand march with every one present participating. Winners of the march were Herbert Wolf, Jr. and James Sloan, Jr. of Johnston. The entire program was under the supervision of Freddie Glover as master of ceremonies. One thing planned that helped make it more enjoyable was the exhibition of a sound system by the Wolf's radiolion, Charles Rudisill.

Prize winners included Grace Keenan, Bellefonte, who received one of the ladies awards.

Among those present at the outing were these employees of the Bellefonte store: C. M. Stewart, manager, William Irvine, Albert Osman, Earl Milton, Brose Watson, Grace Poorman and Pauline Mong.

W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Erma Steele last Tuesday evening.

Elks To Convene At Bethlehem, Pa. (Continued from page 1) that it should be so, for the little settlement was formed nearly two centuries ago by a little band of Moravians and named on Christmas Eve, after the Holy City at a vesper held in the settlement's first home, which housed both man and beast.

Industrially, the community is becoming a city of varied interests, though its outstanding product is steel from the world famous Bethlehem Steel Company mills. Musically, it is the home of the renowned Bach Choir, whose festivals annually are attended by music lovers from many parts of the nation and beyond, and the Bethlehem Maennerchor, which holds State and National sangerfest titles, won after the keenest type of competition.

It is noted as an educational center, being the home of Lehigh University, one of the country's great engineering schools, of Moravian College and Theological Seminary, and Moravian Seminary and College for Women, oldest Protestant Girls' School in America. The community also claims preeminence athletically and in sports teams in many branches of sports.

Its rose gardens and other parks, its historical shrines with interesting traditions, are a few of the places visitors will wish to see and enjoy while attending the Elk's Convention.

Wolf Employs Annual Picnic

(Continued from page one) volleyball, baseball and in fact all entertaining type games were played outdoors. Roller skating also was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

Plans for this Wolf Furniture company picnic were formulated over two months ago when it was decided to make it one of the largest and best picnics ever held, and to do this it was necessary to close the stores the entire day. This was done and promptly at 8:45 a. m. a caravan of thirty automobiles started for the mountain top.

A mushball game was enjoyed by a team of the sales force and the shipping force, with the shipping force emerging the winner, 21 to 17. After the mushball game, everybody felt like enjoying a meal which was served in the college dining rooms.

Following the luncheon, a period of recreation was enjoyed and the big annual baseball game was staged between teams captained by Geo. A. and Herbert T. Wolf. The team of Herbert T. Wolf was the winner—the score being 12 to 9.

Games of all kinds were enjoyed by the ladies and children. After the ball game, the procession headed for the college dining room where the evening meal was enjoyed. This meal featured the seasonal dish of fried chicken and everything that went with it.
