

Echoes From the Past

Fifty Years Ago

M. I. Gardner, who for over three years had been employed at the Howard rolling mills as bookkeeper, moved to Bellefonte this week and has gone into the insurance business with Mr. Woodring. Their office is in the Bush Arcade.

On last Monday night Mr. George W. Rhoads, of this place, died at his home. Mr. Rhoads had been in ill health for some time. He was a man of about forty years and his death was not looked for by his friends and family. He leaves a wife and child.

Rev. Miles O. Noll has been elected pastor of the Reformed congregations of Bellefonte and Zion. He will assume his pastoral duties next summer after finishing his studies in the Theological Seminary at Lancaster. Rev. Noll is an able young man and is a good selection for this charge.

On last Friday evening ex-Sheriff William Musser, of Millheim, died at his home. Mr. Musser had been in failing health for some time and his recent illness was too much for him to withstand. He was sheriff of this county many years ago, and was well known in the county and in his community as a prominent figure.

Almost every hunter comes home with an immense string of squirrels. They seem to find them mostly along Bald Eagle Valley and Buffalo Run. They report the woods full of "pineys" and gray and black squirrels also are plentiful. There are no beech nuts in the northern part of the state and there seems to be a general migration of squirrels this way.

Trousers are midway between the tight and the loose. The sort called moderately wide are what the man or youth of taste will wear this fall and winter. In patterns, down stripes, plaids and checks are all good. In the latter small effects are recommended. When you buy a coat see that the collar sets well. Many a man, otherwise well dressed has his appearance marred by being indifferent to the aspect of this very important detail of his attire.

Prof. Scull, of Millinburg, is in Bellefonte this week giving the band instructions. The band left for Sunbury on Wednesday morning to attend the G. A. R. Reunion and was in fine trim. Mrs. Isaac Baney died on Monday and was buried on Wednesday. Mrs. Baney was a young woman and had been married but a few years. Her maiden name was Miss Maggie Scanlon. The dedication of the new Catholic church will take place Sunday, October 13. The music on this occasion will be fine as the choir has been practicing for some time for the event.

John "Monte" Ward, the famous short stop of the New York ball club which won the League pennant this year, was in Bellefonte on Monday. His wife accompanied him. Fred Reynolds is home from his trip abroad. In his absence he received the sad intelligence of the death of his father at Lancaster, Pa. The regular monthly sociable given by the Lutheran congregation will be held this evening at the home of Mr. Leumel Markle. Scott Harris made a short visit to town this week. He is located at Hastings, Pa. The new gas plant at the nail works proves to be quite a success. Frank Stover has improved

Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: Stanley Flashanko, Phillipsburg, and Mary Legwar, Morrisdale; Clyde W. Lamber, Milesburg, and Besale E. Kuhn, Eastburg; Thomas M. Jurett, Pittsburgh, and Mary E. Snoke, Unionville.

Because he suspected some of the Bellefonte Academy students were accompanying "sweets" to the campus at nights, against the rules of the institution, Prof. James R. Hughes watched and waited and caught one of the girls in front of a Bishop Street residence.

A new Dodge car driven by a woman, collided with the iron electric light post on the corner at the Griffin & Ulrich store in Millheim. Fortunately the speed of the car was checked, and the only damage resulting was the breaking of the large globe and the pole was broken loose from its foundations.

Sixty-foot steel observation towers were to be erected by the State on the various forest reservations as a part of the forest fire protection service. One of the towers was to be located on the top of Big Poe Mountain, near Coburn, this county. The towers were to be equipped with closed towers on top, so constructed that they would command a view of the forests in all directions.

Someone placed a railroad signal cap on the street in front of the Odd Fellows Hall in Millheim and the wheel of Samuel Orndorf's spring wagon passed over the signal, exploding it with a loud report. The man had a difficult time in keeping his team from running away. An examination of the spot where the explosion occurred revealed that a hole several inches deep had been blown into the surface. It was believed that had the horse stepped on the cap, the animal would have lost its foot.

Ellis Orvis Gillette and Miss Bernice May Hall, popular young Snow Shoe couple, were united in marriage at Cumberland, Md., and returned to Snow Shoe where they expected to reside with the groom's parents for the time being. Mr. Gillette was a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gillette and was a member of the boat Machine Gun Troop and 169rd Field Signal Battalion. He was wounded in the Argonne and had just returned from France, being the first of the soldier boys from this section to take a bride. Miss Hall was a daughter of W. B. Hall, landlord of the Washington House at Snow Shoe.

Dorothy Young, aged 9 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Young, fractured a bone in her left wrist when she fell from a porch at the rear of her parental home. The distance was only a few feet, but in falling her arm twisted under her.

Harry Winton was awarded the contract for carrying the mail between the Bellefonte postoffice and the railroad station. Under the regulations the railroad company had to pay for transporting the mail to and from the postoffice, and in this item the postoffice department saved approximately $800 a year.

George R. Meek, of Bellefonte, parked his Ford truck in front of his home one night and when he arose in the morning, found the vehicle had been stolen. A search was immediately begun and the car was found by Mr. Meek in front of Blackford's Restaurant on Bishop Street. There were no clues as to who had taken the machine.

The old stone stable on the rear of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. lot was razed and in its place a modern two-story building was to be erected to house bowling alleys, dressing rooms and lockers. The stable was one of the oldest buildings in town, and was in such condition that props had to be put in place to keep the walls from falling. Fifty years previously it was used as a stable where John Irvin kept thoroughbred horses.
