

The Centre Democrat. BELLEFONTE, PENNA.

WALKER BROTHERS... Proprietors A. C. DERR... Editor PAUL M. DUBBS... Associate Editor CECIL A. WALKER... Business Manager

Issued weekly, every Thursday morning. Entered in the postoffice at Bellefonte, Pa., as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 per year... if paid in advance $2.00 per year... if not paid in advance

The date your subscription expires is plainly printed on the label bearing your name. All credits are given by a change on the date of label the first issue of each month.

Matters for publication, whether news or advertising, must reach The Centre Democrat office not later than Tuesday noon to insure publication that week.

All reading notices marked (*) are advertisements. Legal notices and all real estate advertisements, 10 cents per line each issue.

Subscribers changing postoffice address, and not notifying us, are liable for same. All subscriptions will be continued unless otherwise directed.

CIRCULATION OVER 7,000 COPIES EACH WEEK

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

STATE-WIDE

For Judge of Supreme Court HERBERT FUNK GOODRICH, Philadelphia

For Judge of Superior Court J. HAROLD FLANNERY, West Pittston

EDWARD J. THOMPSON, Phillipsburg WILLIAM H. KELLER, Lancaster

COUNTY TICKET

For Sheriff W. C. WITMER, Spring Township

For Treasurer CHARLES H. LEE, Walker Township

For Prothonotary RUSSELL P. BEEZER, Bellefonte

For Recorder D. A. McDOWELL, Spring Township

For Register HARRY A. CORMAN, Spring Mills

For County Commissioner CHARLES F. HIPPLE, Bellefonte

FRED C. MENSCH, Millheim

For Auditor HENRY M. HOSTERMAN, Boalsburg

J. VICTOR BRUNGART, Rebersburg

For Coroner CHARLES SHECKLER, Milesburg

EDITORIAL

You'll be surprised how soon you will be reading "Shop Early" advice again.

"America for Americans" is a nice slogan, but the Indians think it is a bit late.

Don't let Herr Hitler fool you. The German people are basically a good people.

One thing this war should settle is the argument about the relative merits of battleships and airplanes.

Mussolini is on the fence, so far as the war is concerned, and if he knows how good a fence can be he will stay where he is.

Reports from South America indicate that Germany is waging a desperate propaganda campaign, directed against Great Britain and the United States.

Whether the war continues or not, the President is losing no time in having the War and Navy Departments continue their expansion programs.

The difficulty in remaining aloof from the rest of the world in the present European conflict is well illustrated by the debate over the proposed repeal of the embargo on arms, munitions and implements of war.

Many others have been asking themselves the same question, especially the heavily burdened taxpayers.

Of course many have gone back to work who have never been on relief. In every community there are thousands who have tided themselves over by doing odd jobs, using their savings and husbanding their resources.

When a real job opens they seek it—perhaps it is the very one they had before the depression.

Then it must be remembered that thousands upon thousands are on relief now who never did work and since they can get a "good living" out of the Government will never even try to work.

Many young people, too, who have been out of school since last year or for several years and have lived at home have gone after the jobs as they have opened up.

Many of them have been taken on because of their youth and because many on relief have really forgotten how to work.

Employers naturally seek those who are best fitted—the most competent and not necessarily those who are in greatest need.

Another reason is that our whole system of relief has become so bureaucratized, has so much red tape and over-loaded with workers on good pay that it has been impossible to reduce the rolls.

It is to the interest of too many people to keep the relief rolls up.

Sooner or later there will be a "new deal" in relief.

you buy for investment, based upon dividends, you might get stung very badly, but if you are buying to take the profit out of an expected surge upward, keep your money where it is or put it where you can watch it.

We've often wondered what will eventually become of people's leg muscles, if they have to jump into the automobile and ride whenever they want to cover a distance of a quarter of a mile.

One thing very noticeable at most of the county fairs was a distinct emphasis on power machinery for farming.

According to Robert E. Woodside, Republican member of the house from Dauphin, and his party floor leader, a special session of the legislature is "inevitable."

When we know other men and women and still prefer our own true love we will know that we love him better than other people and married him for that reason and not because we had bound ourselves with promises before we looked around and knew what other men and women were like.

Suppose you do promise each other not to go with other people and then suppose that at the end of three or four years, one of you gets awfully tired of your bargain.

So, my advice to you, in Love, is to go with your friend and like him best, if you wish, but don't confine yourself absolutely to him.

It took a lot of somebody's work to earn that money.

WHY RELIEF ROLLS DO NOT DROP (From Washington Observer)

Governor James wants to know why the relief rolls do not go down—or go down very slowly when there has been such a rise in private employment.

Many others have been asking themselves the same question, especially the heavily burdened taxpayers.

Of course many have gone back to work who have never been on relief. In every community there are thousands who have tided themselves over by doing odd jobs, using their savings and husbanding their resources.

When a real job opens they seek it—perhaps it is the very one they had before the depression.

Then it must be remembered that thousands upon thousands are on relief now who never did work and since they can get a "good living" out of the Government will never even try to work.

Many young people, too, who have been out of school since last year or for several years and have lived at home have gone after the jobs as they have opened up.

Many of them have been taken on because of their youth and because many on relief have really forgotten how to work.

Employers naturally seek those who are best fitted—the most competent and not necessarily those who are in greatest need.

Another reason is that our whole system of relief has become so bureaucratized, has so much red tape and over-loaded with workers on good pay that it has been impossible to reduce the rolls.

It is to the interest of too many people to keep the relief rolls up.

Sooner or later there will be a "new deal" in relief.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa: I am sixteen years old and have been going steady with a boy my own age for almost a year.

Both of us are planning to go to college. How can we persuade our parents that we are doing the right thing?

IN LOVE—ARIZ.

ANSWER: I hate to tell you so, but I think your parents are right, in this case.

To begin with it will be at least five years before you and the boy can get married, or before he is old enough to get married, and it may be several more years before he is able to make a living for the two of you.

In long engagements the girl stands to lose much more than the boy. She becomes known as Tommy's girl and no other boys bother with her.

Perhaps one out of many couples can stand the strain of a long engagement and do eventually marry, but say what you will, much of the bloom of romance is killed by weary waiting.

Now and during the next several years is the time when you two young things should be enjoying life.

We are so much in love that we know it will last until we are ready to marry. Consequently, we will not let each other down with foolish promises.

When we know other men and women and still prefer our own true love we will know that we love him better than other people and married him for that reason and not because we had bound ourselves with promises before we looked around and knew what other men and women were like.

Suppose you do promise each other not to go with other people and then suppose that at the end of three or four years, one of you gets awfully tired of your bargain.

So, my advice to you, in Love, is to go with your friend and like him best, if you wish, but don't confine yourself absolutely to him.

It took a lot of somebody's work to earn that money.

WHY RELIEF ROLLS DO NOT DROP (From Washington Observer)

Governor James wants to know why the relief rolls do not go down—or go down very slowly when there has been such a rise in private employment.

Many others have been asking themselves the same question, especially the heavily burdened taxpayers.

Of course many have gone back to work who have never been on relief. In every community there are thousands who have tided themselves over by doing odd jobs, using their savings and husbanding their resources.

When a real job opens they seek it—perhaps it is the very one they had before the depression.

Then it must be remembered that thousands upon thousands are on relief now who never did work and since they can get a "good living" out of the Government will never even try to work.

Many young people, too, who have been out of school since last year or for several years and have lived at home have gone after the jobs as they have opened up.

Many of them have been taken on because of their youth and because many on relief have really forgotten how to work.

Employers naturally seek those who are best fitted—the most competent and not necessarily those who are in greatest need.

Another reason is that our whole system of relief has become so bureaucratized, has so much red tape and over-loaded with workers on good pay that it has been impossible to reduce the rolls.

It is to the interest of too many people to keep the relief rolls up.

Sooner or later there will be a "new deal" in relief.

THE OFFICE CAT "A Little Nonsense Now and Then, Is Relished by the Wisest Men"

DOPEY'S POEM In the seethe of leap year fancies This one rises to the top: Does the girl who pops the question Have to go and question pop?

Picnic Suggestion Always wrap the sandwiches in waxed paper. The baby ants have a lot of fun sliding over it.

She Knows Better Now Landlady (in hall talking to a gal)—"I thought I saw you taking a gentleman up to your apartment last night, Miss Smythe."

Watch Your Step Life Insurance Agent—"Do you want a straight life?" Prospect—"Well, I like to step out once in a while."

Must Have Been Beer Mugs A girl went out one evening with three brewery salesmen. When she got home she had a Blue Ribbon in her hair, Schlitz in her skirt, Budweiser.

Our Modern Highways Don't know whether you've noticed it or not, that the old narrow trails where two cars could barely pass without colliding are being replaced by splendid wide highways on which six or eight cars can collide at one time.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH? Beneath the spreading chestnut tree The smith works like a deuce, For now he's selling gasoline. Hot dogs and orange juice.

The Depression is Over This story is about the president of a large educational institution who recently married his secretary, a lady at least a generation younger than he.

Customs Have Changed What is the difference between an old-fashioned girl and a modern girl? An old-fashioned girl blushes when she is ashamed and a modern girl is ashamed when she blushes.

Barber Shop Talk Barber—"What's the matter? Ain't the razor takin' hold?" Victim—"Yeah, it's takin' hold all right, but it ain't lettin' go again."

Tough Times, Indeed When asked to describe the chief difference between pre-depression and depression days, Able replied: "Before the depression it was wine, women and song. But now it's beer, pretzels and mama."

Breaking It Gently Johnson was a cattle rancher with tact. He'd been losing a lot of cattle, but he didn't want to accuse anybody of rustling. Wandering over to the next place one afternoon, he said:

Listen To This "Jones is running for sheriff," yelled a bystander in the old man's ear. "Who's he? Never heard of him," commented the deaf farmer.

Sure, In the Best of Families Perplexed Oriental—"Our children vely white. Is velly strange." Oriental Spouse—"Well—occidents will happen."

She Wanted To Know Mrs. Winfield Douglas Bedford Smith was quite a proper old dame whose morals were unquestioned and who made strenuous efforts to improve the citizens with her importance.

Get the Gong The foreman of an electrical repair shop was interviewing a bright boy who was applying for a position.

Little Oscar They're telling the story about "Little Oscar," the seven-year-old (Continued at bottom next column) equal parts of spiced pickled fruit juices and water.

Brush Bristles Dipping the bristles of a brush into a solution of equal parts of milk and water will stiffen them.

NEURALGIA You need suffer no longer from the terrible pains of neuralgia. KA-NO-MOR Capsules will relieve you immediately no matter how severe the attack may be.

Mustard Foot Bath. Be sure, when preparing a mustard foot bath, to dissolve the mustard in cold water first.

Variety of Flavors. A variety of flavor in roast beef or veal can be effected by boiling during the process of cooking with

KA-NO-MOR CAPSULES QUICKLY RELIEVES PAINS AND ACRES

CHICHESTER'S PILLS THE DIAMOND BRAND THE POINTS OVER 50 YEARS

Query and Answer Column

PROBLEM: After eating a square meal a tramp began complaining. When asked what was the matter, the tramp replied: (Answer elsewhere in this department. What was the reply?)

B. M.—Why was President Roosevelt's middle name "Delano"? Ans.—Immediately after President Roosevelt was born he was given the name "Delano," after his mother, which was her maiden name.

H. V.—In what part of Canada is the Canadian River? And which cities are located on its shores? Ans.—The Canadian River is not located in Canada. It is a river that rises in the northwest corner of New Mexico and empties into the Arkansas River about fifty miles southeast of Muskogee, Okla.

R. G.—What is Arky Vaughn's age? Ans.—Arky Vaughn, the baseball player, will be 38 years old on the 8th of next March.

L. W.—To settle an argument will you please answer which are the three largest baseball parks in organized baseball? Ans.—In seating capacity the Yankee Stadium leads all with 75,000; Briggs Stadium (Detroit) 55,000; Polo Grounds (New York), 54,000.

E. F.—Why does fog seem to rise up out of the ground? Ans.—When there is moisture in the air, it is generally nearest to the ground where it is in contact with damp vegetation, and if there is any cold air anywhere about, it sinks to the ground. The mixture of moist air and cold air then makes the fog.

W. G.—Can you tell me how petroleum is formed? Ans.—Petroleum is formed from organic materials buried in rocks, and much of it came from animal remains, such as fish, shell-fish and the bodies of tiny microscopic animals instead of plants. It passes through rocks, seeking always to reach a higher level.

C. A.—Why does benzine take grease out of clothes when soap and water will not? Ans.—Nearly all kinds of greases and fats are soluble in benzine, just as sugar is soluble in water. The benzine simply dissolves the grease and washes it away.

A. W.—When we boil water, does that remove all impurities? Ans.—No. It simply kills the germs in the water, and that is the reason why doctors recommend that impure water be boiled before drinking. There is much more danger from the presence of germs that might cause disease than from any chemical impurities.

D. R.—Why do we see more stars in the sky some nights than others? Ans.—Because on some nights there is mist or dust in the air that will obscure some of the fainter stars. On very clear nights we can see a great many more.

M. H.—Please give some information about the inventor of the synchronized airplane machine gun. Ans.—Roland G. Garros, French aviator, is credited with the invention of the synchronized airplane machine gun. He is known in France as the father of air dueling which changed the mode of air fighting considerably.

M. M.—What is the greatest distance possible for a gun to shoot? Ans.—In the American Army the sixteen-inch gun has the longest range, approximately thirty miles. The Paris guns used in the bombardment of Paris during the World War had a possible maximum range of 72.5 miles, the longest range of any gun known.

J. W. H.—Why was Louis allowed to use the kidney punch in his fight with Schmeling? Isn't it illegal? Ans.—The kidney punch is legal when it is used at long range while both men are in action but it is illegal when used at close range in a clinch. Louis' use of the kidney punch in the Schmeling fight was proper because it was never delivered while holding with one hand.

A. L. B.—For how long a period did Congress extend the Civilian Conservation Corps camps? Ans.—Congress extended the Civilian Conservation Corps to June 30, 1943.

C. H. J.—How is glycerine used to test linen? Ans.—A drop of glycerine may be placed on the material. If it is linen, the spot will be translucent, but if the material is cotton, when it is held to the light, the spot will look opaque.

H. M.—What troop ship carried the largest number of United States soldiers during the World War? Ans.—The largest number of troops carried on one voyage by an Army transport was 12,087. This was when the Leviathan returned from France April 26, 1919.

T. B. H.—How many wives did King Solomon have? Ans.—King Solomon had 700 wives and 300 concubines.

T. B. H.—How large is a swordfish? Ans.—The average length of a swordfish is seven feet, and the weight is about 250 pounds, but specimens weighing from 600 to over 800 pounds are recorded.

T. L.—What was the first United States air unit to participate in fighting on the Western front? Ans.—The 94th Aero Pursuit Squadron, of which Eddie Rickenbacker was commanding officer, was the first American aviation unit to engage in combat on the Western front. This unit was credited with sixty-nine victories, the largest number of any American unit. Rickenbacker headed the list with twenty-six victories.

Answer to Problem: The corners of that square meal are piercing my stomach.

brat. Little Oscar went to the zoo and saw his first elephant. He arrived home all excited and told his mother about the animals.

"Gee, mom," chortled little Oscar. "The elephant was the craziest animal. Why, you oughta seen the tail he had. I saw him pick up cabbages with it."

His mother smiled tolerantly and asked, "and what did he do with the cabbages?"

"Gee," stammered little Oscar, "I couldn't tell you that."

Time Will Tell The young wife was boasting to a friend about what a big man her hubby was. "Why, he's bigger than Ford," bragged the wife, "he's even bigger than Roosevelt."

The friend asked, "Is he bigger than God?" "Well, I wouldn't say that," replied the wife, "but he's young yet."

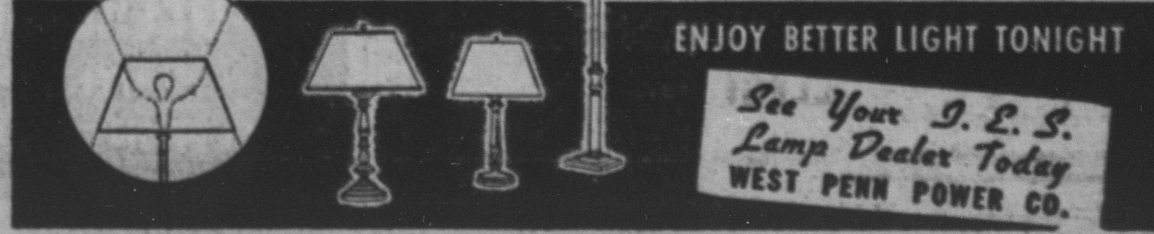

That's all, folks. We know that the savage tribes of the desert have no taxes to pay. Why, then, are they savage? —SCAT

SAVE SIGHT

with J. E. S. Lamps

READING, sewing or studying under poor light can tire one just as much as though hard manual labor were performed for the same length of time!

To overcome this possibility in your home, invest in two or three I. E. S. lamps. The soft, well-diffused light will protect you and your family from eyestrain and fatigue. And I. E. S. lamps cost so little.

ENJOY BETTER LIGHT TONIGHT See Your J. E. S. Lamp Dealer Today WEST PENN POWER CO.