

Prominent Speakers on Institute Program

elect a delegate and an alternate. Salom Rizk, who will appear on the institute program, is recognized as being in the foremost ranks of America's speakers. He is a definite force for good with his own life as a challenge to others.

His early success as a lecturer came as a direct result of his inspiring story. He was attending school and, one day, the teacher asked him to tell his story to the class. The pupils liked it. It was the first time Salom Rizk had ever talked to a group. He was quite as enthralled by his interested listeners as they were by his thrilling story. Other teachers asked him to speak to their classes and he came to be more and more in demand. His fame spread from tongue to tongue, from community to community. He came to the attention of leading educators including Dr. J. W. Studebaker, Federal Commissioner of Education; Dr. Florence Hale; Dr. Agnes Samuelson and all urged and encouraged him to continue. Everywhere his appearance has met with the same enthusiastic response.

Dr. Allen Stockdale, another institute lecturer, until recently was pastor of the First Congressional church, Washington, D. C. and is an educator of recognized standing.

No Hope For Federal Aid For Schools

not provide materials, or whatever the board's share of a building program would be under a federal grant.

The Board authorized school officials to provide no-draft ventilators in the windows of Academy class rooms. It was reported that the only way to ventilate rooms is by opening the windows, and that objectionable drafts result. The ventilators may be made by the school janitors, with the help of the manual training department. Approximately 28 ventilators will be required, it was reported.

The steel flag-pole in front of the old High School property on North Allegheny Street, is to be removed and re-located in front of the Academy building, the Board decided. The West Penn Power Company is to be asked to aid in moving the pole, while N. Y. A. Belp is to be used in preparing a base for the pole on the Academy property.

The board ordered an investigation of a report that several of the ceiling radiators in the basement of the Bishop Street School are not securely fastened to the ceiling. Board member Troupe was authorized to examine the radiators and instruct workmen as to how to fasten them to prevent any accidents.

It was reported that all male teachers in the High School have volunteered to serve without pay as ticket-takers and gate attendants at Bellefonte High School football games. Each teacher will be called upon for three games, it was reported. For games played on the Community Athletic field the school pays 20 per cent of the gate for field rental. Last Saturday's game resulted in proceeds of about $150 after all expenses had been paid, it was reported.

Kofman & Co., contractors retained to remove the demolished high school building, are to be paid in full providing the finished job is found to meet the conditions of the contract, and providing other necessary items have been carried out.

The Board decided to take steps to protect the two boilers which have been on the school commons since being salvaged from the building.

The Board adopted a new policy in regard to teachers' absences. Under the set-up teachers are permitted to be absent from school five days a year without any salary deduction. The 5-day each year are cumulative—if they are not used one year they can be carried over and added to next year's allowance.

Heretofore teachers absent longer than the 5-day period have been required to pay the substitute teacher. Under the new regulation, the teacher will be required to return his entire salary for the day he is absent, and the board will pay the substitute.

Thomas Morgan was employed at a salary of $25 a month, to take care of janitorial duties at the Dale school building, North Allegheny Street.

One of the garage buildings in the year of the academy building has been provided with benches, cupboards, lights and heat, and is to be used as a shop by the vocational agriculture groups.

The Board authorized the posting of notices in all school buildings to discourage solicitors, agents, salesmen and others from interviewing teachers and pupils on school property during school hours. Such interruptions often cause serious disruption of school routine, it was reported.

The dental hygienist reported that of 160 dental examinations made, advice cards were given in 122 cases. The report showed that all the pupils examined use a toothbrush, but that only 98 use them daily. The others use toothbrushes occasionally.

The Board renewed its membership in the State School Directors' Association.

Titan Buys Silk Plant

that manufacturing departments may be established there in the future.

The property was purchased from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which has had possession of the building since October 1937, when the C. K. Eagle company succumbed to a series of financial reverses.

Announcement of the purchase of the building came as a pleasant surprise of Chamber of Commerce members at their annual dinner. The sale brought to a successful end two years of effort on the Chamber's part to dispose of the property to a going concern.

The building is located across the creek from North Water Street, has 36,000 square feet of floor area, and has been kept in good repair since it was abandoned as a silk-throwing plant in 1927. The property includes a lot 200 by 180 feet adjoining the building, providing for future expansion.

The newly acquired building compares favorably in size with the mill department at the Titan plant, which is the largest department in the local industry. There are no plans for moving the Titan offices into the silk mill property, officials reported.

The Eagle Silk Mill was built in 1919 and an addition was erected four years later. Total cost of the structure was $110,000. The industry succumbed to the effects of the depression after having given employment to as many as 300 persons over a period of nearly two decades.

Snow Shoe Operator Dies

garage building. As a youth he went to the Snow Shoe section, where he was employed about the mines and where he learned the coal business from practical experience.

For a time Mr. Redding conducted the Redding House in Snow Shoe, and for a period of 32 years was proprietor of the Mountain House in that city. His first practical experience as a coal operator came about 35 years ago when he was affiliated with the Catala Coal Company. Then he and the late David Chambers went into partnership in the coal business. Later he and the late Judge Orvis and Hugh Taylor organized the Valentine Coal Co., which was conducted successfully for some years.

Mr. Redding extended his coal interests to Cambria county where he was a member of the Big Four Coal Company. In the meantime he owned and operated several private mines; one at Cherry Run called the Snow Shoe Coal Co. and one at Pine Glen, which was called the Pine Glen Coal Co. These mines employed about 100 men and have been working for some years.

Although he had been a resident of Snow Shoe practically all his life, he always had a warm spot in his heart for his native town, Bellefonte.

He was an ardent sportsman and owned a cottage in the Alleghenies, along the Renovo road, where he usually spent considerable time during the hunting and fishing seasons. Mr. Redding was a baseball and football fan, and frequently would drive miles out of his way to watch a baseball or football game. Some years ago he and John P. Kelley had a paid baseball club in Snow Shoe, and the team won the Centre-Clinton County League pennant. Mr. Redding was a charter member of the Clearfield Elks lodge.

Mr. Redding, the former Mary Kelley, of Snow Shoe, passed away in 1937. Surviving are these children: Thomas Redding, Mrs. Leo Kelly, Miss Marcella Redding and James Redding, all of Snow Shoe.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock this Thursday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church, Snow Shoe, with the Rev. Father J. P. Connor officiating. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

DENY RECEIVING PROMISES

The Library and Historical Corporation, which is about to open a County Library in the Humes building, desires to make the following statement:

We are naturally anxious to see a board of commissioners elected who will continue to support a project which means so much to the citizens of the whole county. However, we have not been promised anything at any time or in any way from Mr. Mensch, Mr. Hippie, Mr. Weber or Mr. Keeler, nor will we ask anything from the new board which the citizens of Centre county might oppose.

ELIZABETH B. BEACH, President.

CAROLINE M. WAITE, Secretary.
