To Distribute Christmas Funds

showed a slight decrease during the year, the totals being: 1938, $26,000, and 1939, $25,500. State College showed an increase of from $27,000 last year to $28,600 this year. Phillipsburg's total increased this year to $60,000 from about $54,000 in 1938.

The Community Bank at Port Matilda and the First National Bank of Howard both show increases, while the figures for the First National Bank of Spring Mills indicate a decrease. All banks carrying Christmas Savings Funds this year expect to open funds for 1940 within the next month. Payments are made each week in most instances, although this feature is optional with depositors.

The First National Bank of Centre Hall; the Rebersburg National Bank, and the Farmers National Bank of Millheim do not conduct Christmas Savings Funds. The fund at the Peoples' National Bank, State College, is termed a "Thrift Fund," but most payments are made at Christmas time and the figures have always been included in the Christmas Savings summary. All banks, with the exception of the Peoples' at the College distribute funds by mail.

Following is a comparative table showing Christmas Funds in the various banks for 1937, 1938 and 1939. All figures are given approximately:

Table with columns for bank names and amounts for 1937, 1938, and 1939. Includes Bellefonte, State College, Spring Mills, Port Matilda, and Comm. Bank.

Nearly 200 At Legion Banquet

"peace" plans of those who are either poorly informed or misinformed. The second aim—the citizenship—can be achieved by the electing into national, state, county and local offices, men and women who are absolutely honest and sincere, he said.

Captain Herbert M. Beezer, commanding officer of Battery E, 108th Field Artillery, Bellefonte, and also commander of the Legion Post, presided at the banquet. The evening was spent in playing cards and Chinese checkers.

Other guests introduced included: Councilman William Doll, father of one of the war heroes for whom Brooks-Doll Post was named; Council President Thomas Beaver; Karl E. Kusse, secretary of the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce; Councilman Harry Badger; the Rev. Squire B. Schofield, of Williamsport, who last week delivered the annual peace sermon at St. John's Episcopal church; Arthur Boob, chief of the Logan Fire Company; Philip Saylor, fire marshal, and newspapermen.

Highlights of Commander McDade's address, which was the one he was scheduled to have made at the Armistice Day services in the morning, but which was canceled when his car broke down en route to Bellefonte, included a condemnation of the cheapness with which Americans hold their oath.

McDade warned the public to beware of pacifist talk that the Legion is trying to get us into war. "The best denial of this rash statement," he continued, "is that we, who suffered the horrors of war 21 years ago, now have children who would be eligible for service in case of war. Would we condemn our children to the same things that we went through?" McDade asked.

"The Legion demands that those who served during the World War shall be taken care of by the government—particularly those who were maimed or whose health was wrecked through war service," he continued, adding that the Legion aims to keep the price of war at a high level. "By keeping the cost of war high," he said, "we are insuring ourselves against future wars."

To Broadcast X-mas Music

A number of county organizations, including the County Federation of Women's Clubs which will have charge of a program on December 22, have indicated a desire to participate in the broadcasts. All individuals and groups desiring to participate are requested to get in touch with Karl E. Kusse, secretary of the Chamber, who will arrange schedules.

The interviews of pedestrians will be made each night. Shoppers will be chosen at random and will be asked questions regarding some subject pertaining to Christmas. Each person so selected will receive a card entitling him to some gift from a Bellefonte store. Virtually all Bellefonte business places are cooperating in the plans for the Christmas music.

On the Diamond the loudspeakers will be located on the large Christmas tree to be erected in the safety zone. The speakers will be of the short-range type to eliminate any possible objectionable noise. The system is to be installed and operated by W. K. Snyder, of Wingate, formerly employed in Bellefonte. Mr. Kusse will serve as announcer during the various programs.

Members of the committee in charge of the event are: J. H. Yeager, chairman, Bossart DeHaas, S. H. Poorman and Grover Corman.

Two-year-old Marjorie Colbert, of Altoona, faced with the loss of one of her fingers, has about made up her mind that tiny tots shouldn't help mother with the washing. Monday while her mother was washing Marjorie placed a hanky in the wringer and forgot to let go. Her left hand and arm went through the wringer. Her screams attracted her mother who stopped the machine. The left thumb of the child's hand was almost torn off and the middle finger was seriously injured.

F.D.R. For 1940 Declares M'Adoo

Former Senator Expects Party to Draft Roosevelt; Will Win, He Says

Returning from Washington to his home in California, former Senator William Gibbs McAdoo expressed the belief that President Roosevelt, whose nomination he helped obtain in 1932, would be nominated and "overwhelmingly elected" for a third term in 1940.

McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury under President Wilson, former chairman of the board of the American President Steamship Lines, said he would support the President for a third term.

McAdoo's political remarks were appended to a statement concerning the status of the American President Lines but obviously were intended as more than an afterthought.

"Naturally," the statement said, "I discussed this question of the next President with a number of outstanding Democrats (in Washington.) There was a general consensus of opinion that Roosevelt will be the nominee in 1940. Who is there comparable to him in experience, wisdom and high human ideals, and who so well as he can direct the affairs of the American people in the great crisis now confronting civilization?"

"Notwithstanding the galaxy of able men in the Republican and Democratic parties, Roosevelt has not a peer. Everyone wants to know if he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination—if he is seeking a third term I cannot answer that, but I do not think it makes the least difference whether he is a candidate or not. The people will force the Democratic Convention to nominate him in 1940.

"Will he accept? Expressing my own opinion, and having no authority whatever to speak for the President, I unhesitatingly say that if the Democratic party nominates him, of course he will accept. How could any man decline such a demand from his party and his country in these critical times? The third term tradition is mere dogma anyway. We don't want to observe it unless we want to. Whenever the condition of the country calls for the services of a certain man, he must submit as a patriot, no matter what personal sacrifice is involved. Personally, I intend to support Roosevelt for a third term. I am confident that he will be overwhelmingly elected."

Four Named To Job Committee

The other members of the county group are N. E. Robb and Lee C. Lynn, both of Bellefonte.

Sixty-seven county chairmen and a group of prominent state industrialists have been designated as an advisory council to aid Governor James and other administration leaders in the drive.

In the letter of appointment the Governor pointed out that there are one million employable Pennsylvanians who are without jobs. These people, he wrote, are being supported by the taxes paid by the persons who are working. This is costing the state about $9,000,000 monthly, he said.
