HEROINE BLOWS HER WHISTLE TO STOP BULL

An angry bull broke loose at Kansas City's American Royal Livestock Show. He scattered one school band and headed straight for the Trenton, Mo., high chool musicians, led by natally attired plumed majorette Arlie Ham-

Miss Hamilton stood her ground in the face of the charge, She raised her whistle to her mouth and soted a shrill blast, then another. The bull stopped dead in his tracks and pawed the ground. Handlers rushed up and captured

Miss Hamilton declined a heroine's honors.

"Really," said she, "I was fust blowing off steam. I was too ex-cited to know it would work."

Amazing as it may seem, the following act was actually passed in England:

"That all women of whatever age, housekeeping in the near future. rank, profession or degree, whether virgins, malds or widows, that pose upon, seduce and betray into subjects by the scents, paints, cos-stand null and void." A similar act was passed, about the same time, by the assembly of the province of Pennsylvania.

Probably the very absurdity of the act prevented its application, for there is no record of prosecutions under it. Perhaps, like many another ancient and forgotten law, it's still on the statute books.
