Our community was awakened by an alarm of fire last Saturday morning when the home of Mrs. Flora Ballard caught fire. The fire company of the community immediately responded as well as the Milesburg and Bellefonte companies and they had some difficulty in getting at the fire because of it being between the partitions and they were on account of the caps. The weather was so extremely cold that it froze the water on everything it touched almost as soon as it landed.

The vines and trees around the house are a mass of frozen icicles. Some of the men's clothing was frozen stiff and icicles hanging from their hats and caps. The furniture was about all saved but the house is beyond repair. It was partly covered by insurance. Mrs. Ballard was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenhizer where she was confined to her bed for several days. Their future plans have not yet been revealed. Her daughter was with her at the time of the fire.

James DeLong, Mrs. Delbert Barnhart, Mrs. Clair Confer, Mrs. Paul Lomison, Mrs. Walter Shank, Mrs. J. E. Gillespie, Mrs. W. O. Gray, Mrs. Earl Lomison, Mrs. E. B. know them. They were Edwin N. Conner of Nanty Glo, and Margaret M. Connelly of Johnstown, Pa.

There are more crimes than murder in this world and putting men out to work in zero weather without adequate clothing and inadequate wages is one of them. If they received more wages they could afford to buy warm clothing. But the wages received by WPA workers is hardly enough for one person let alone a family. There are a group of men that rise in a truck 32 miles to work each morning and work eight hours in the cold. One night last week we saw one poor old man get off this truck who could hardly walk because his feet were so cold and he had more than a mile to walk to his home. Is this right? Some one is to blame. But who? Why criminals are created better than that in this state. And in some places in Pa. the WPA wages are $60.00 a month here $39. Aren't all men equal? Lincoln said they were.

A family birthday dinner was held at the Mrs. Mary McKinley home in honor of Mrs. McKinley's eighty-fourth anniversary. She also became a great grandmother this month, when a son was born to her great granddaughter in Ohio. Mrs. McKinley has been in poor health for the past couple of years, but is some better at this time. This month also is the anniversary of her daughter Laura and her grandson Hassel Lose, of Bellefonte. Those present for the dinner were: Mrs. McKinley's
