-Belleforie Council has issued a warning to residents of Bellefonte who have found the ashing of icy streets a convenient way of getting rid of their ashes. Many residents, rather than dispose of ashes elsewhere, carry them out to the streets and gutters and scatter them about, evidently in the belief that the borough will believe that the covered when one street was swept clear of ashes one day, and the following day, although no snow or ice had formed, sections of the street were found liberally besprinkled with fresh ashes. The practice is quite common, and Council Monday night issued orders for the arrest of persons who alleys or in gutters. # Can Cure Cancer

It is true that cancer is in some cases difficult to diagnose in the early stages. On the other hand, thousands die each year from cancer because they did not realize the gravity of symp-toms, from which they suffered long before consulting a doctor.

A woman who can, with the palm of her hand, detect a lump in the breast that does not belong there, should at once have it looked into. Not next week, but at once. If there is an irritation, sore-ness or bleeding condition, at the mouth of the womb; a tumor or any abnormal indica-tions, have a thorough exam-ination made. It may not be serious, but you should be sure.

A person having constant attacks of indigestion should, by a careful examination, be sure there is not an ulcerated condi-tion of the stomach. Digestion tablets and nostrums may only lull one into a dangerous false security. Should you have an ulcer, sore or tumor on the lip, nose, face, or any part of the body, that fails to heal, let your doctor look at it, now. It may not amount to anything, but better be safe and sure.
