SCORES OF CIRCUS ANIMALS DIE IN COLE BROS. CIRCUS Fire destroyed the main building of Cole Brothers circus winter quarters Tuesday night at Rochester, Ind., and killed scores of valuable animals and birds. A herd of more than 20 elephants saved from the blaze, escaped and several still were wandering through the city hours after the fire. Alarmed citizens flooded police headquarters with calls but no damage by the beasts was reported. Owners Jack Terrell and Jess Adkins estimated the loss was between $150,000 and $200,000, partly covered by insurance. None of the more dangerous animals escaped. Flames cut off the dying cries of lions, tigers, leopards, seals and tropical birds. A hippopotamus, its tank too heavy to be moved, also died in the fire. —Our entire stock reduced during our sale. 300 NEW BOOKS ARE ADDED; LIBRARY EXTENDS SERVICE

Because of the increased demand the hours of service at the Centre County Library will be as follows: Monday evening, 6 to 9 p. m. for adults only. Wednesday, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. for children in grade schools until 6 p. m. only. Saturday, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. for adults and children. Heretofore children in grade schools were not admitted on Saturday evenings but because of the increased registration from outside Bellefonte, it has become necessary to admit children with their parents. An additional evening (Monday) for adults and high school students has therefore been arranged. Registration figures at the main library have reached the thousand mark. Emmy Lou Craig, a student at Bellefonte High school holds card number 1000. Within the last month approximately 300 new books have been added by purchase to the collection of the county library. Although the greater part of this recent expenditure was for children's books, some titles suitable for adults and some for young people were added, among which are seven up-to-date books on aviation, added because of the many requests for material on that subject. Reserves may be placed on books by adults and high school students. Following are a few of the books recently added: Dale Carnegie—"How to Win and Influence People." Henry H. Arnold—"This Flying Game." Richard A. Douglas—"Commonsense in Driving Your Car." Raymond R. Camp—"All Seasons Afield With Rod and Gun." Mrs. Mildred G. Ryan—"Your Clothes and Personality." B. Irnie Lay—"I Wanted Wings." Paul W. Gallico—"Farewell to Sports." Ann Bridge—"Four-part Setting." Maurice G. Hindus—"We Shall Live Again." George Washington Corner—"Attaining Manhood."
