to the county poor district. Similarly, there would be no change in State Highway aid to the county.

However, there could be created in the county the positions of assistant district attorney and county detective, neither of which now exist.

Salaries which could be paid to such officers are: Assistant District Attorney, $1,250; County Detective, not over $4,000, and stenographer to assist District Attorney, $750.

A feature of the sixth class county rules is that a county salary board, consisting of the Commissioners and the County Treasurer, would be established.

The unique class which will be the final one of the school is called "New Rooms for Old, for in addition to the ABC's of decorating, one of the features of the class will be a dramatic illustration of how light, properly used, can bring a room to life.

There will be hints on planning color schemes, arranging furniture groupings for both appearance and comfort, how to select lamps and what patterns and materials to use in wall papers, draperies, slip covers and rugs to get the effect you want.

Every woman is interested in making her home more attractive—a part of her job to be the home decorator—and the suggestions given at this class will be the practical, inexpensive ones that anyone can follow to achieve really striking results.

The class will be conducted by Mrs. Sara McCarthy who is well known in her chosen field as a home decorator and lighting adviser.

At all three classes you will have plenty of opportunity to ask questions about anything that isn't quite clear to you—or about your own cooking and decorating problems.

Howard Potts, of Tipton, who with his brother, Raymond, took the unidentified man to Tyrone, said he was in his house nearby the scene of the accident, at about 10:30 when he heard the crash.

The car was dragged 600 feet from the crossing westward, and was torn apart bit by bit, and was difficult to remove from the engine's pilot.

The wreck blocked tracks 2 and 3 with the Liberty train delayed 51 minutes and later trains delayed for some time.

The car was situated at the water tower headed south just below the grade crossing when the Liberty Limited Engineer L. E. Steele and Fireman J. A. Kohr first saw the car's headlights. The machine moved on to track 3 on which the train was approaching, and apparently stalled.

"I saw a man believed to have been the son) pushing the car, as though it had stalled," said Engineer Steele.

The engine struck the car with the pilot which jammed into the machine's door on the operator's side, pinning the elder Mr. Strouse in the car.

ing the blazing oil in the 50-gallon reservoir under the ponderous straightening machine.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. The machine had been in use up until 5 p. m. Saturday, and everything was in order when the plant closed down at that time.

Plant officials report that the reservoir under the machine contained a mixture of fuel and lubricating oils. When the machine is in operation, the oil is pumped over moving points and flows back into the reservoir.

The intense heat of the burning oil warped the heavy castings on the machine, ruined delicate bearings and drew the temper from giant steel rollers. The machine, used in sizing and straightening steel rods, will require complete rebuilding. Part of the loss is covered by insurance.
