Two Injured In Motor Accidents

Price was arrested on charges of driving on the wrong side of the road.

Alice B. Smith, of Howard, R. D. 2, received injuries about the back at 12:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the car in which she was a passenger just east of Hubersburg. Mrs. Smith was riding in a coupe driven by O. C. Smith, of Howard, R. D. 2, when the machine ran into a sedan operated by Elizabeth I. Graden, of Lock Haven, as the Graden machine halted to let a herd of cows cross the highway. Damage to the Smith coupe was placed at $20, and to the Graden car, $40. The injured woman was brought to the offices of a Bellefonte physician for treatment.

A coupe operated by Walter S. Masden, of Howard, R. D. 2, and a truck-trailer driven by Roy Brown, of South Williamsport, were involved in an accident in Howard about 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon when one of the cars stopped suddenly, police reported. Damage to the truck was placed at $40; to the coupe, $35.

A truck-trailer driven by Earl D. Quiggle, of Jersey Shore, was damaged to the extent of about $20 when it struck a sedan driven by Robert F. Berkstresser, of Bellefonte, about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon on the Bellefonte-Milesburg road. The accident happen-

When one of the vehicles turned into a lane. Damage to Berkstresser's machine was estimated at $40.

Kitchen Shower

On Saturday night, May 25, a kitchen shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Korman at Reopersburg, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Young, who were married recently. Mrs. Young is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Korman. Many useful gifts were received by the newlyweds. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Forest Young, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Korman and children, Savilla and Ralph, Frank Young, Mildred Young, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Young, Jack Dunkleberger, Verda Korman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Korman and children, Helen, Harold, Dorothy, Catherine, Patsy, Leonard, Richard and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson and son Dale, Mrs. Ira Wright and children, Mildred, Betty, Ann and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harper and children, Pauline, Dean and Ada, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robinson, Marlon Behers, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Johnstonbaugh and children, Paul, Madeline, Grace, Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnstonbaugh and daughter, Shirley, Charles Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ishler, and son Robert, Mrs. Jennie Simmonds, Mary A. Emehlzler, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller and children, Catherine, Eleanor and David.

Anglers Jam Paradise On Opening Day

beginning at 8 o'clock Friday morning. Of this number 920 were killed. The fish killed were classified as follows: 73 brook, 503 brown, and 342 rainbow.

Most of the trout taken were fish that any angler could be proud of. The largest brown trout caught the opening day measured 24 inches and weighed 4 pounds, 3 ounces. The largest rainbow taken measured 22 inches and weighed 4 pounds, 12 ounces. As for the hundreds of other fish taken, most of them were well over a foot long. In the afternoon a long line of successful fishermen waited their turn to check-out of the Paradise and have their catches recorded. Although extra help was employed in the office, the steady stream of fishermen was too great for the facilities at hand.

Although most of the anglers remained only for the opening day, Saturday found a goodly throng in the mile-long preserve. A total of 934 anglers registered—858 men and 76 women—and they caught 925 fish. Of that number 467 were killed.

Attendance figures at the Paradise opening have showed substantial gains nearly every year. The first year 361 anglers registered. Figures for the other years are: 1935, 470; 1936, 461; 1937, 586; 1938, 1222; 1939, 1249, and 1940, 1553.

Some idea of the tremendous catch Friday may be obtained from the fact that if the average fish killed weighed only 2 pounds, the day's total would have tipped the scales at nearly one ton.

In addition to the 1553 fishermen in the Paradise during the day there were additional hundreds of spectators and visitors. Parking space was at a premium, and motor police on duty at the site were hard pressed to find sufficient space. Virtually every county in the State was represented among the anglers, while there were some who had come from neighboring states.

Fish Commissioner C. A. French and other members of the Commission spent most of the day at the Paradise. Fishing experts and sports writers, some of them nationally known, were on hand to witness what is probably the biggest inland fishing event in the United States. The Paradise will close Wednesday, July 24.

For the fourth successive year the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club prepared the way for the opening of the Paradise with a fishermen's dinner at the Penn Belle Hotel Thursday night. Nearly 120 followers of angling from near and far gathered in the hotel dining room for a trout dinner and a program designed to whet the angling desire of even the most disillusioned fisherman.

George Harvey, director of athletics at the Mt. Alto forestry school, and promoter of the first fly-tying class in Centre county, in an interesting address expressed the belief that underwater lures, such as nymphs and wet flies, are most successful on limestone streams, while dry flies are most effective on freestone streams. He based this belief upon the results of a long study he has made of trout feeding habits in various streams.

Fish Commissioner French commended the acts of Centre and Huntingdon county sportsmen who recently reported facts which led to the conviction of two anglers on charges of violating the rules on a restricted area of Spring Creek. Mr. French termed the act one of true sportsmanship.

Harris Breth, hunting and fishing commentator for radio station KDKA in Pittsburgh, and sports writer for Philadelphia and Pittsburgh newspapers, stressed the fact that hunting and fishing are among our most valuable natural resources and that they must be used intelligently unless hunting and fishing are to revert to the status they hold in the old countries—where only the landed gentry may hunt and fish.

Breth said that one out of every six persons in the United States holds either a hunting or fishing license and declared that the supplies of game and fish must be replenished if the country is not to become barren of those resources. He urged Centre countians to write to him at KDKA for an interesting and valuable fishing map of Pennsylvania and adjoining states. The map, in natural colors, illustrates the place and types of fish where angling is best.

Fish Commission members introduced at the meeting included: Ross Buller, Ed Nicholson, Harry Weber, H. R. Stackhouse and Fred McKeen. Former Fish Commissioner O. M. Deliber, Tom O'Hara, Dewey Sorenson, H. C. Tanner, Mayor H. P. Harris, and Wardens David Dahlgren, Russell Womelsdorf, Frank Kirschner and many others also were introduced.

Among the ladies present were the following anglers: Ella Skinner, of Palmyra; Betty Miller, Martha Walker, Mrs. S. M. Poorman, Mrs. Samuel McGinley, and Mrs. Hassall Lose, all of Bellefonte.

During the evening group singing was led by Cecil A. Walker, with Mrs. Freda Stock as pianist. Miss Bess Edelblute, director of music in the schools around Bellefonte, sang several solos with Mrs. Musser Gettig as accompanist.

Colonel Matthews announced that the $178,000 WPA project there is slated to be finished July 1. Of this sum $142,785 represents the contribution of the Federal Government and $35,162 of sponsors.

The money is being spent to finish the field and two runways, each 3,000 feet in length, with workmen engaged in surfacing, installing lights, removing surplus dirt, providing dirt "shoulders" and arranging for adequate drainage.

MEMORIAL DAY

We have come to honor these comrades of ours, As they sleep in their graves amidst these flowers; For their work is done as they lie 'neath the sod. While their spirits rest in the bosom of God.

They fought many battles so cruel and grim. But with faith undaunted they fought to win. And only the prayers of loved ones at home Gave them courage and strength to march along.

They only knew as they marched to the front, Of the sufferings, misery, hardships and want; But their lips are sealed and their bodies at rest, While we all know they have done their best.

The good they have done many years ago To our glorious country they never will know. As we honor our flag of red, white and blue We know that they to our country were true.

So sleep till the last bugle calls you to rise And you meet your Maker in yonder skies. We were not in vain. For our loss, O comrade, is but Then you'll know your sufferings your gain.

Fall Proves Fatal to Workman

Joseph Burgess, 55, of Towanda, one of the two painters who fell 40 feet from the roof of St. Mark's Catholic Church in Emporium, died at St. Mary's Hospital as a result of injuries suffered in the accident Tuesday, May 21. The other worker, P. F. Godwin, 32, is still confined to the hospital suffering from a fracture of the pelvis and a serious back injury. Mr. Burgess suffered a fractured ankle and vertebrae.

Police Admit Car Clue May Be False

Five cars between the hours of midnight and 2 a. m.—during which time the Gates girl was attacked and slain.

One of the vehicles was the Howard CCC truck, which passed along the road about 15 minutes before the Gates car. Another of the cars is the much publicized "Plymouth sedan" which is reported to have followed the Gates car from Milesburg to the barrier, and which waited at the barrier until Miss Gates had taken two friends to the home of one of them a short distance beyond the barrier along the highway. A fourth car is reported to have been driven by a Bellefonte man who was with his wife and whose story has been thoroughly checked.

Unknown to the police are the identities of the driver of the so-called "tan Plymouth sedan," and the driver of the fifth car or truck which was checked by the "electric eye" at Curtin.

Police last night said the car which followed the Gates car might not have been tan; it might not have been a Plymouth; it might not have had a buggy whip aerial on the right side; and finally, it might not have been the slayer's car.

The car, they said, could have been driven by a friend of Miss Gates or of her two companions, who merely looked his horn between Milesburg and the barrier as a friendly gesture. He might have passed Miss Gates' car on the detour and continued on his way. Fear of being falsely accused of the crime, police said, may be keeping the driver from reporting to police and clearing his car and himself of suspicion.

Similarly, the driver of the unaccounted-for fifth car has not been located. He may not have had any connection whatever with the slaying, police say, but fear of implication may be keeping him from reporting.

In the hope of inducing these two drivers to report and thus narrow down the possibilities, police issued their statement, it was indicated.

While police declined to discuss the inference, the fact remains that if the drivers of all five cars are located and cleared of suspicion, some person on foot, or someone in Miss Gates' car, might have been the slayer. Whether there are any clues to substantiate this inference was not revealed.

Police will be far ahead in their investigation if the drivers of one or both of the two cars which were among the five which passed over the road on the night of the murder will report to police. Assurance is given that while their stories will be checked they will not receive any unfavorable publicity and will not be arrested or otherwise embarrassed.

If you drove one of the two cars over the "Spook Hollow" road between midnight and 2 a. m. on the morning of May 5, call Bellefonte 1029, or call personally at Rockview barracks of the State Police and tell your story. You will be clearing yourself and at the same time aiding materially in the solution of a brutal crime.
