and at the same time have employment and be of financial benefit to their families.

To be eligible to join the CCC, a young man must be a citizen of the United States between the ages of 17 and 23, unmarried, unemployed and in need of employment.

Immediate application for enrollment will place the name of the boy applying well on the list for selection and will expedite the work of the Department in this respect.

KATHERINE HEPBURN IS LOCK HAVEN VISITOR

Katherine Hepburn, stage and screen star, spent 30 minutes Monday afternoon touring the Piper Aircraft Corporation in Lock Haven.

Miss Hepburn had been staying at the Jay Cooke lodge, Ogontz, located near Salladasburg, while en route from New York City to Hollywood.

Accompanying the screen star Monday were W. B. Harding and his daughter, Laura, Philadelphia, Miss Alma Heflin, Piper employe, conducted the tour.

Miss Hepburn wore blue slacks, a gay bandana and carried a jacket. She came to Lock Haven in a station wagon.

Wed From Hospital Bed

The fact that the bride, Miss Agnes Elizabeth Beagle, was confined to bed in the hospital at Bloomsburg, recovering from an automobile accident, did not prevent her marriage on the date planned.

Catches Large Trout

Jack Horner, of Linden Hall, caught a 19-inch, 2 1/2-pound brown trout near his home at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

43 Firemen To Get Diplomas

Chief George Ferrier, of the Philadelphia Fire Department, and head of the Philadelphia Fire College, who will illustrate his talk with slides.

Other guests who are expected to attend the graduation exercises are: Arthur Espey, head teacher of the fire school division of the Public Service Institute; Michael Clark, chief of the Williamsport Fire Department; M. W. Tawney, former chief of the Harrisburg Fire Department; Mayor Hardman P. Harris, of Bellefonte, and members of Bellefonte Borough Council.

Invitations are to be sent to members of other fire departments in this area, while officials of the school cordially invite the public to be present.

Proceeding the commencement exercises, members of the graduating class and guests will be entertained at a dinner at the Penn Belle Hotel. Suitable entertainment is being arranged for the dinner, although the main part of the program will be given at the Court House, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The titles of the four motion pictures to be presented at the Court House are: "Preventing Fires Through Electrical Safety," "Dangerous Dust," "The Municipal Salvage Man," and "Fires in Review."

The fire school here was made possible through funds made available by the Federal George-Dean Act, which appropriated money for the training of firemen in modern methods of fire prevention and control. The Federal funds are match-dollar for dollar by State monies.

Great interest in the studies and demonstrations was evidenced by members of the class and as an indication of the proficiency attained by the local students, it is reported that the class maintained an average of 81.3 per cent for the entire course.

Firemen who will receive diplomas are as follows:

Undine Fire Company: Steve Rodovich, Edgar Kustanbauer, Albert Knisely, Sr., Joseph Bauer, Frank Rapacki, Albert Knisely, Jr., Luther Smith, Joseph Confer, Henry Casper, Vincent Flynn, Harry Keeler, Paul Emerick, Joseph DeLallo, John Gillen, Melvin Wright, and Charles Saxton.

Milesburg Fire Company: J. M. Roberts, Miles Holt, Malcolm Swartz, P. I. Holt, and Franklin Heaton.

Pleasant Gap Fire Company: Ralston Derr, Thomas Foss, John Mulfinger, W. C. Adams, N. Adkins, F. Benford, A. Beseker, G. Millward, C. Sunday, R. Brooks, S. Beightol, H. Noll, and F. Shaffer.

Elks Complete Plans For Flag Day

prohibited on the following streets from noon Friday until after the parade: Allegheny street, from Bishop to Linn; High street from Thomas to the Diamond, and Spring street, from Linn to Bishop.

Officials of the retail division of the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce yesterday said that it is hoped to have all stores and business places in Bellefonte close at 3 p. m. for the remainder of the day. Stores employing members of bands or marching units are to be asked to excuse such employes at 2 p. m. in order that they may take part in the parade.

Efforts also are to be made to have business places and homes throughout Bellefonte display flags and other patriotic decorations during the holiday.

Among the musical organizations which have already signified their intention of appearing in the parade are the following: State College American Legion and Auxiliary Junior Drum and Bugle Corps; Bellefonte High School Band; American Legion Junior Band of Bellefonte; Milesburg Band; Pleasant Gap Band; Pifer's Banjo Band; Clearfield Band; Spring Mills Band; Lemont Band; and the Bartges East Centre County Band.

The fire companies of Bellefonte, State College and many other Centre county communities will appear in line, while early returns reveal that a number of fire companies from a distance expect to be here.

At each of the dances to be held that night at the Elks, Legion and Undine homes, Jack Voebergh, Penn State magician, will present a half-hour program of entertainment. Tickets for the dances which will begin at 9 p. m. and continue until 1 a. m., are now on sale at Montgomery's, Everitt's Drug store, and Uhl's cigar store.

The Elks committee this week made the following appointments to reception committees to greet visiting paraders and to escort them about town: Woman's committee, Mrs. Martin Miller, Mrs. Howard Casper, Mrs. Leo Boden and Mrs. W. H. Hampton; Men's committee, W. H. Brouse and Guy O. Bittner.

For the Elks; Francis Crawford and John G. Love, for the Legion; G. Harrison Kline and James Leitler, for the Veterans; Joseph Jack and Bill Mrs. M. L. Cherry and daughters Janet and Mary Anne, Mrs. Elwood Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Addison McCartney, Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd J. Hunter and Boyd, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfkill, and Harris Bealy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sampsel received many useful gifts, including money and anniversary cards.

Being a surprise, planned by relatives and friends, they brought delicious refreshments including two large cakes, each decorated with rosebuds (one pink and the other golden) and "50th Anniversary" in lettering.

At the present time Mr. and Mrs. Sampsel are not in the best of health, but we wish them many more years of happy life, and commemorate to them the following verse:

As a very small token of how much we love them We've brought a few gifts to bestow. And we hope that real often we'll all meet together While we're loving and serving here below.

Boro To Buy Police Car, Traffic Lights

and defroster, for the use of police. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved in order to give Council some leeway to make allowances for the difference in cost of various makes of car.

The vote to purchase two traffic lights was unanimous, although Councilman Broeckerhoff had expressed the belief that more lights are necessary if traffic is to be properly controlled. It was brought out that with short periods between the changing of lights it is hoped to keep traffic moving steadily and to prevent the possibility of long lines of cars blocking streets while motorists wait for the signals to change.

The new ladders to be purchased by the Undines will have a number of distinct advantages over the present wooden ones. They will bend almost double without breaking. Age does not weaken their structure. They are about half as heavy and twice as strong as wooden ladders, and because they will be purchased in sections they will not protrude from the rear of the truck as do the present wooden ladders. This will add greatly to the maneuverability of the large truck and will enable it to negotiate shorter curves than has been possible up to this time.

The Undine ladder team, invited to give a demonstration at the State Firemen's Convention at Lewistown in October, expects to become thoroughly familiar with the use and handling of the new ladders before convention time.

Decision to purchase a police car came after many recent discussions of the matter by Council. The Fire and Police Committee, Monday, reported that a number of second-hand machines had been offered to the borough, but Council did not appear to favor the purchase of a used car. It was reported that State College purchases a new police car annually, and that the cost of a new machine under that system is less than $200. The borough is free of tire replacements and repairs, it was stated.

Officer Ralph Eyer, acting for Chief of Police Dukeman, submitted the police report for the past two weeks. The report showed 11 arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct; 2 for stop sign violations; and 83 for 2-hour parking violations. A total of 21 persons were permitted to stay overnight in the borough lock-up.

Mayor Harris' report showed collections of $114 from the following sources: $24 for parking violations; $45 for license fees; $5 for a show at the school commons and $40 from fines.

Signs designating speed limits on various streets in the borough and other traffic signs have been erected in accordance with Council's recent move to place traffic regulation on an orderly basis, it was reported.

An ordinance governing the size and method of placing signs in front of business places was unanimously approved. The ordinance requires the payment of an annual fee by sign owners, to pay for insurance which the borough will maintain upon signs. The fee, tentatively fixed at 50 cents, may be increased if the cost of the insurance is greater than anticipated.

The Market for 2-hour parking collection of $5.00 in market fees. Council approved a request by the Independent Oil Company for permission to erect a servicing "island" at the Decker Motor Company garage at the corner of High and Spring streets.

Boro Home On Auction Block

the purchase price must be paid when the property is knocked down and declared sold, while the remainder will be payable upon confirmation of the sale and delivery of the deed.

Bellefonte Borough bought the property from Harry S. Valentine, and others, in 1914, paying $1900 and assuming a mortgage of $1400, making a total of $3,300. For many years the property was used as the Borough Poor Home, and when local poor districts were abolished and poor administration placed on a countywide basis, the home was taken over by Centre county until last fall when the new County Home on East Howard street was completed. Since then the South Potter street property has been vacant.

Time was when the poorhouse property was one of the show places of Bellefonte. In it were entertained many persons of prominence in the early history of Bellefonte and Pennsylvania.

When the axe-factory was in operation and the dam near that plant was in good repair, the waters of Spring Creek were backed up to within a short distance of the mansion. Giant willows stretched their cool and dense foliage over the water and over the lawns of the property. From these willows, the estate derived its name "Willowbank."

With the discontinuance of the axe factory the dam rotted away, and Spring Creek returned to its original channel a considerable distance to the rear of the stone mansion. Stranded high and dry, the property has lost much of the charm it must have had in its earlier days, but it still retains its dignity and its possibilities for a return to at least some of its bygone glory.

The house is said to be sound and firm. The foundations and walls are in a fine state of preservation, while only minor repairs are necessary to make the home livable. An exceptionally fine boiler, practically new, provides adequate heat even in the most severe weather, it is said.

Nonagenarian Aids At the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new fire house at Turbotville, which followed the Memorial services Sunday for the veterans of the various wars, Levi Stahl, aged 94, turned over the first spade of ground, and sat on the speakers' platform with borough officials and officers of the fire company and the ministers who aided in the ceremony.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Attend Farmers' Day—A well-rounded program showing the latest developments in agriculture is planned for Farmers' Field Day at the Pennsylvania State College Thursday, June 13. Farm families from all parts of the state are expected to attend this annual open house event at the College where they will see demonstrations and exhibits, view experiments, hear talks, and go on tours of the College farms, orchards, and gardens.

Care for Berry Plants—Care of the strawberry planting now will influence the size and quality of next year's crop. Encouragement of early runner plants with fertilizer and cultivation will aid development. Circular 181 available from the Agricultural Publications Office, State College, gives detailed information.

Install Fences Correctly—Electric fences must be properly installed to avoid serious and sometimes fatal accidents. Only approved devices are recommended by agricultural engineers of the Pennsylvania State College. They hope to see maintained the Pennsylvania record of no human deaths caused by electric fences.

Control Cutworms—Poison bait is recommended as a control of cutworms by extension entomologists of the Pennsylvania State College. For gardens the dosage is composed of 5 pounds of bran, a quarter-pound of paris green, and 1 pint of stock molasses.

Pastures Need Clipping—Early June is the time to clip weeds and tough grass in pastures, say extension agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College. A second clipping in August is advisable.

Irrigate in Dry Spells—A portable irrigation system helps to supply moisture to vegetables during dry spells in the summer, garden specialists of the Pennsylvania State College remind.

Relief Payments Decrease Direct relief payments to needy Centre countyans during the week ended Tuesday show a drop of $214 from those of the previous week, and 21 fewer checks required to make the payments, according to State Treasurer F. Clair Ross. Payments for the week totalled $3,391 which was $627 lower than those for the comparable week of last year. However, current payments required 24 more checks than those of a year ago. At the same time Treasurer Ross announced payments for categorical assistance—that is, Old Age Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, and Aid to Dependent Children—all of which are paid by the month. Following is for the month of May: Old Age Assistance, $12,785, 710 checks; Pensions for the Blind, $2,940, 68 checks; Aid to Dependent Children, $4,795, 173 checks.
