PINE GLEN

The same old 4-H cooking club meeting was held at Gladys Hoover's. The meeting was opened as usual by saying the 4-H pledge, followed by the minutes of the last meeting, followed by the roll call, the roll call was answered, by naming some famous person, following the roll call Miss Butler demonstrated how to receive and introduce people to one another. We then talked about our campfire, the time and date was set for Thursday July 11, we then fled to the kitchen where we prepared the following: corn chowder, quick coffee cake, chocolate corn starch and vegetable salad.

Miss Butler appointed Frances Fye and Betty Dixon to set the table the time, date and place was set for our next meeting on July 23, at Gladys Hoover's, at 9:30 in the morning. The camp fire was well attended by all the 4-H club girls and boys. Miss Butler and Mr. Coolidge were present at the meeting. We did not go out in the open to hold our meeting. So while the girls and boys played games in the room Miss Butler, Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Fye prepared the hot dogs for us. We then set the date for July 18, if the weather man permits, I hope so.

A poem entitled "The Scythe of Time" was written and read by Mrs. F. J. Kaufman in memory of Mrs. Cora Wagner and Mrs. Sara Everts.

Beyond the vale, the guiding star Revealed the gate which stands ajar,

At entrance to the merry bar, To members of our clan: 'Twas then the scythe of time laid claim, Relieving both of earthly gain, Nor did it tarry to explain, Its power and force on man.

Their lives, in age, were near the same, While mothers' bore same maiden name.

With family etchings written plain Upon each kindly face; The guardian angel, on her chart— Deceared a few short months ago— These well lived lives would both depart.

Their deeds, time won't erase.

You see, both left in different scroll While useful living had its toll As daily 'films' of life unroll A family monument; They rendered service through the years—

Sometimes in joy, again in tears, Today those deeds are souvenirs, 'Mongst those where efforts went.

We're missing now this kin of ours, But none of us can stay the powers Controlling all our living hours; And guiding the scythe of time; We know both lives were lived so well

And ready when the summons fell Which brought the final parting knell, That beckoned to His shrine.

—Sara Kaufman.
