where he played ten weeks and equalled the records established by his brother Tommy, who immediately preceded him. Eight weeks of theatres, including two at the Strand on Broadway followed, and then he went into the Meadowbrook, popular roadhouse in New Jersey Just fifteen miles from New York City.

At Meadowbrook he was originally booked for four weeks, but within that time he had not only broken Larry Clinton's and Tommy Dorsey's all-time records for the spot but made it possible in fact necessary, for the management to build an out-door garden, seating a thousand, to accommodate the crowds. His engagement stretched from four to ten weeks, and ended then only because of previous booking for theatres and ballrooms. On the road, he again broke records everywhere, climaxing his tour on Labor Day at Wildwood, N. J., by playing to 6,000 people against the combined opposition of Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey and Rudy Vallee in Atlantic City just thirty miles away.

NYA Jobs Are Now Open To All

ently there are no youth workers available.

"This is a healthy and most pleasing situation," said Mr. Scott, "if it is true." However, we are certain there are unemployed youth in every locality who can make use of our services, and who can meet our specifications. We want to build up a waiting list so that when we lead young folks into private jobs—and we are doing that every week—there will be those who can be called upon for replacements."

Among the work enterprises that have to be held in abeyance are public school improvements, borough and community projects, and a few related to national defense. For their efforts on such projects, NYA employees will receive eighteen dollars for sixty hours work each month. Moreover, they will participate in the guidance activities that are carried on by the National Youth Administration for the benefit of all young people.

To be eligible a youth must be a citizen of the United States between the ages of 18 and 24 inclusive, unemployed and not returning to school in the fall. In making application for an NYA job, the young man or woman should first register at the State Employment office and secure two letters from responsible persons testifying to the need of a job. It is no longer necessary for an applicant to be a member of a relief or a WPA family.

Mr. Scott urges that clergymen throughout the county scan their pastoral records and recommend their young people. Service clubs, civic organizations and public-minded citizens are also entreated to help NYA find candidates and send them in.

The Bellefonte office of the National Youth Administration are open from 9 to 5 o'clock, Monday through Friday. For the convenience of youth living in other parts of the county, the applicants will be interviewed by members of the NYA staff at the following locations:

Port Matilda—Tuesday, August 6, Pennsylvania Railroad station, 1:30 to 3 p. m. to 12 noon.

State College—Tuesday, August 6, second floor lounge, Old Main building, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Howard—Wednesday, August 7, Pennsylvania Railroad station, 1:30 to 2:30 p. m.

Millheim—Thursday, August 8, Lutheran church, 3:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

B. C. R. R. Adds Auto - Railer

rear, fitted with hydraulic dumping facilities will haul an 11-ton load. The machine is rated to carry 8 tons on the highway, or 11 tons on the rails.

In operation on the road, the truck is handled like any other motor truck. It has two sets of rear wheels, tandem style, and all four wheels are drivers. To place the machine on the rails, the driver merely drives to a crossing, swings the truck parallel to the rails, sights through a periscope to line the front wheels on the track and presses a lever, which drops a set of railroad wheels to the track. He then drives forward slowly until the rear wheels are sighted through a periscope from the driver's seat, are in line. Pressing another lever, a rear set of railroad wheels drop to the track. The rubber-tired wheels are thus held on the rails, and power is supplied through them just as is the case when traveling on the road.

When on the rails, 60 per cent of the truck's weight is borne by the railroad wheels, and 40 per cent by the rubber-tired ones. To leave the tracks, the operator touches a lever and compressed air raises the front set of rail wheels. Turning off the track, he touches another lever and the rear wheels are lifted. While in operation on the rails the steering gear is disconnected with the front wheels locked straight ahead. All wheels, both the six rubber-tired ones and the four rail wheels, are connected with an air braking system.

The machine, purchased in Washington, D. C. last week, was driven to Bellefonte by highway, making the 200-mile trip in 10 hours, which is considered excellent speed for a truck of its size. It is particularly needed by the Bellefonte Central in the dismantling of the Fairbrook Branch of that road. Out of service for several years, the Fairbrook branch right-of-way is in such condition that it would be dangerous to operate a locomotive over the tracks. The new truck will be used in hauling rails, ties and other equipment from the branch road during the dismantling process. Derailments of the truck in such service can be corrected by the driver in a matter of a few moments, while derailment of a locomotive would entail hours of labor and much delay, in addition to the danger of damaging equipment. The truck also will be valuable for general maintenance work and for hauling on the railroad.

In a test on the Bellefonte Central railroad the other day the new equipment reached a speed of 40 miles an hour with no difficulty and apparently with no danger. The motor is powerful enough to haul at least one heavily-loaded railroad car and its braking equipment is far more effective than the brakes of the ordinary locomotive, due probably to the difference in weight and to the tractive qualities of the rubber tires.

Equipped with a distinctive air horn, the truck is operated in the same manner as a train, signaling for all crossings and observing the same rules demanded of regular trains.

Will Abandon Local Airport June 30, 1941

is bounded on the south by Nittany mountain, and on the north by rolling hills.

Chamber of Commerce officials and residents of the Bellefonte area are seeking to have the borough take over the field as a municipal airport. Henry Noll, Pleasant Gap aviator, has indicated that he may take over the field as a private enterprise in the event Bellefonte does not take steps to preserve the airport for future use.

Many persons are of the belief that it would be a great mistake to allow the local airport to fall into disrepair. They contend that in a few years aviation will play a much more important part in the everyday lives of the average person than at present, and that the town or city without an airport will be definitely off the beaten path. This group contends that a well maintained airport is Bellefonte's best guarantee for future growth and development.
