BETTERS to the Editor

Rebersburg, Pa., Aug. 19, 1940. Editor, The Democrat: I am sending my check for $1.50 for another year's subscription to the Democrat. The Democrat is a welcome visitor in our home every week. I have been a reader of the paper for 56 years. I have seen the circulation of the Democrat grow from 700 to what it is now, over 7,000. About 40 years ago, when Fred Kurtz and his son, Charles, were editors of the paper, I worked for them as solicitor and collector, starting in after harvest and working till after election. I canvassed the county four times and in the four years the circulation grew from 900 to 4500. I found many kind people in Centre county, both Republicans and Democrats. So much, W. H. ZIEGLER. Practically every big business man can tell you why his industry should be exempt from the war profits tax.

Ebbs—Miller

Bellefonte Evangelical Church was the scene of a beautiful mid-Summer wedding on Saturday afternoon, August 17th, at 4 o'clock when Miss Mae Isabel Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Bush Addition, was married to George H. Ebbs, of Coraopolis, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Ebbs, of Port Matilda. The Rev. H. H. Jacobs, pastor of the church read the marriage service, assisted by Rev. J. B. Mayes, of Williamsport, before a large congregation of relatives and friends of the couple. The single ring ceremony was used. The chancel of the church was artistically decorated with baskets of gladioli and dahlias. Miss Miller given in marriage by her father was a picture in her bridal gown of French lace, full length skirt falling into a short train. Her veil was of illusion and finger-tip length with orange blossom wreath. Miss Miller carried a bridal bouquet of white gladioli and rose buds sprinkled with baby breath, from which fell a shower of white satin ribbon. The motion of honor, Mrs. Robert Huck, of Coraopolis, Pa. was attired in a gown of charmese chiffon. She carried an oval arrangement of tallismen rosebuds and baby breath. She wore a toque of matching flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Annabelle and Isobelle Miller, twin sisters of the bride were gowned in baby blue with full length skirts and silver slippers. They carried oval arm bouquets of tallismen rose buds and baby breath. Their toques were also of matching flowers. Robey Huck, of Coraopolis, was best man for Mr. Ebbs, and ushers were Joseph Ebbs a brother of the groom and Malcolm Taylor, brother-in-law of Miss Miller. White gaberdine suits were worn by the men. A large reception followed at the Miller home in Bush Addition. A buffet luncheon was served and a table for the bride party, parents of the bride and groom and the ministers and their wives was set in the spacious dining room. A tier wedding cake adorned the center of the table. The table was otherwise beautifully decorated with pink tapers, unique place cards and gliding swan favors.
