tion, entitled "Listening In," and at noon the 4-H girls will have lunch. After lunch the three clubs will demonstrate and teach the group three folk songs and the program will conclude with the presentation of awards and pennants on judging.

One of the most worthwhile features of the 1940 Grange Fair midway is Prof. Keller's Jungle Killers. Prof. Keller, an instructor in art at Bloomsburg State Teachers' College, has collected and trained animals almost all his life. At present, he has a really notable collection of jungle cats; in winter he keeps these in a large back yard arena of his home. From July through September Prof. Keller and his cats tour Pennsylvania and New York in a series of one-week stands. According to their owner, these cats like other wild animals, are trained but never can be tamed. During the show they are put through their paces by Prof. Keller himself.

File Answer In Gates Case

tion of Millinder's attorney, Lewis Orvis Harvey.

The court asked for the Commonwealth statement in order that a final decision may be given on Harvey's request that he be given a chance to go over the Commonwealth's evidence before trial. His purpose in making the request, Harvey contended, was so that he could have experts go over the items if necessary, and otherwise prepare to "properly defend Millinder." At a hearing several weeks ago, the Commonwealth intimated the defense in asking to see the "real evidence" was on a "fishing expedition."

The District Attorney in his answer yesterday admitted that the Commonwealth had control over a rock or stone alleged to be the instrument which caused the death of Miss Gates on May 5. He admitted the Commonwealth has photos showing the scene of the crime, as well as photos showing the head wounds of the victim, but the District Attorney denied that he has photos showing footprints and foot-prints about the scene of the crime, identified as those of Millinder.

The District Attorney further contends that it isn't necessary for the defendant to inspect such evidence as photos in order to properly prepare the defense, inasmuch as the defendant has no right under the Constitution of the State, by statute, or under common law to examine such evidence.

Concluding, Gettig's answer states: "The proceeding is irregular and without foundation in law, being without statutory authority and contrary to the principles of common law."

A court ruling finally disposing of this phase of the Gates case is expected to be filed in the near future.

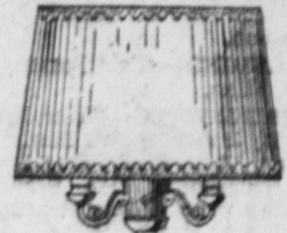

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOLLIDAYSBURG PCA

Officers and directors of the Hollidaysburg Production Credit Association will attend the sixth annual group directors' conference with representatives from five other Pennsylvania associations, at State College on August 21, 22 and 23, according to an announcement made today by Harry Corman, Spring Mills, Director for Centre county.

These annual get-togethers afford the opportunity to discuss mutual problems in open, round table fashion and constitute one of the highlights in the progress that associations have made in providing a sound production credit lending system for farmers, Mr. Corman said.

Much of the conference this year will be devoted to discussions of credit and collection policies and an attempt to seek better means of

CHURCHES

Mr. Corman said that farmers are making greater use of the services of production credit associations than at any other time in the seven years of operation of the system.

It is easy enough to plan to make a million dollars; the execution of the program is what delays the fortune.

If this country ever gets into a war it should not depend upon the French policy of defense.
