The Keystone Automobile Club has issued a warning to motorists throughout the state to beware of serious traffic dangers during the Labor Day weekend. Haste, the warning states, is the cause of most Labor Day accidents. It is not recommended that drivers seek long low speeds, but the club suggests that orderly driving within the maximum limit will keep the highways clear of congestion and facilitate the movement of what is annually the greatest holiday traffic volume. The club also suggests that motorists acquaint themselves with secondary roads to relieve congestion on the main arteries of travel. An early start also is suggested as a means of arriving safely at your destination without undue strain. If you're caught in a traffic jam the warning says, horns and other signs of ill temper will do no good. Keep cool, drive carefully and enjoy the holidays.

Damage estimated at $30 resulted from an accident involving a truck and a car at the intersection of Howard and Wilson streets about 3:50 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. A sedan driven by John B. The Bellefonte police force and the street department are currently conducting a mild feud over the manner in which crossings are marked on the streets in the business section. The police contend that lines, preferably solid, are marking the width of the crossings should extend from curb to curb. The street department contends that dotted lines half way across the street are sufficient, and that the system not only saves labor and time, but also paint. The two factions, it seems, will never see eye to eye in the matter and for all the extra time and paint it takes were rather of the opinion that the police idea has merit. If Bellefonte had 1000 or 5000 crossings to mark, the time and labor would be a big factor. With comparatively few crossings, the thing is hardly worth arguing about.
