Sampsel, Benner township, and Miss Annie Knoflinger, of Spring township; Irvin Yarnell and Miss E. M. Decker, both of Philadelphia; Summerfield B. Bond, Baltimore, Md., and Miss Julia B. Valentine, Bellefonte.

This week the young men of town opened their new club rooms in the Crider Exchange. They have secured two of the large front rooms on the third floor and have a most desirable location. It is in the center of the town with a good view of the court house and the diamond. The furniture is new, consists of large oak tables, handsomely finished, small tables, large easy chairs, hat rack and other articles. A beautiful carpet adorns the floor and the walls and ceilings are handsomely papered. They have a well selected list of periodicals and magazines for the reading room, and it will be a pleasant and profitable place for young men to spend their spare hours.

"RUX COMPOUND WAS WHAT I WANTED. RELIEVED MY PAINS"
 Pennsylvania Man Says Neuritic-Like Pains Broke Into Sleep—Even Lost Much Appetite For Foods; Pleased to Find Relief!

Confident that others will profit from his experience, Mr. Gibbons, Dilltown, Pa., resident (near Johnstown) tells his story. "In my work I travel over many parts of the country and naturally I have become a little like standing the rigors of traveling. But lately I have been distressed with neuritic-like pains which not only kept me from sound sleep but even made me lose much appetite for food. I was losing energy as a result and it was imperative that I find a good medicine at once. I heard about RUX Compound so I decided to try it for myself.

"I was not disappointed for this fine medicine did not take long to begin relieving my pains and now I am greatly relieved and get more rest and sleep. I know that others speak the truth when they praise this good medicine day goes by, decide for yourself to try RUX Compound, which your own neighbors and friends praise so highly. Just come to the WHITE BROS. Drug Store and ask for the genuine RUX Compound (liquid). Three economical sizes for your convenience.

20 YEARS AGO

The board of directors of the State Centre Electric Company voted to install new boilers equipped with automatic stokers in the plant at Millheim. The installation was to cost about $25,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crytzer and daughter, Dorothy, were making arrangements to move from Bellefonte to New Kensington, where Mr. Crytzer expected to operate a pool room and cigar store.

D. K. Tate, of Lock Haven, who was in charge of electrical work on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, had been ordered to locate at Milesburg and was moving his family to that community.

John Sweitzer, employe of the American Lumber and Stone Company, suffered painful cuts and bruises about the right arm and hand when pieces of stone hurled from a blast in the Buffalo Run quarry, struck him.

Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: Harry M. McMurtree and Clara E. Ernshizer, both of Bellefonte; Edward P. Peters and Estella M. Bruns, both of Flemington; Theodore D. Richards, Perry, N. Y., and Clara T. Pond, of State College; Clair Richner, Milesburg, and Hazel V. Chapman, Howard.

Mrs. George Williams, of Allegheny Street, Bellefonte, fell at her home and fractured her hip. No one else was in the building and the aged woman laid on the floor, unconscious part of the time. For several hours before her plight was discovered. She was taken to the Bellefonte Hospital for treatment.

While taking a load of ice to Lettzell's Meat Market in Millheim, Lloyd Boob collided with a tree in front of J. Spigelmyer's residence on South Penn Street. The force of the collision sent Boob against the windshield, breaking it and inflicting a number of abrasions about his face. The car was badly damaged.

The barn on the Wesley Gobbie farm in Georges Valley burned to the ground early Saturday evening. The origin of the fire was undetermined. Included in the loss were several outbuildings, all the farm implements, 2 horses, a number of chickens and wheat, oats and corn. Mr. Gobbie placed his loss at $3,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

Over The County News

The following have been elected to serve three-year terms as directors of the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce: Centre County Thrift Corp., Bell Telephone Co., DeHaas Electric Co., Keystone Gazette, Penn Electric Co., Yeager's Shoe Store.

Two county girls were leading last week in a contest for co-ed queens being conducted at the College and a third was tied for first place. According to the latest voting figures released, Phyllis Watkins of State College was setting the pace for freshman queen and Gloria Knapper of State College was ahead in the race for sorority queen. Anne Dorworth of Bellefonte was tied with Jean Craighead for dormitory queen honors.

Kelly and Calder alleys, State College, were completed during the weekend when amiesite was laid on the stone base. The alleys, used as by-passes from the business section, were improved under general borough WPA street programs. Workmen brought the amiesite spreader from the State College-Rockview highway and began laying the base concrete at 6:30 o'clock last Tuesday morning. The work was completed by early afternoon. Other streets improved under the WPA project will receive the coating of amiesite at a later date, it is reported.

A prowling peeping Tom peered into a window of a home at State College last Friday night without knowing that at the same time the town's chief of police was watching him from the bedroom of his home as he was about to retire. The result was that the youthful peeper was ordered to leave that town after paying a fine of $25 following a hearing before Burgess Wilbur F. Letzler. Chief John R. Juba happened to look out of his bedroom window when he saw the youth peering into the window of a neighbor's home. The peeper was caught when he was involved in a number of similar incidents reported in State College.

Prof. Sheldon C. Tanner of the department of economics at Penn State, has been designated sole arbitrator for the second time this year by the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. and the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, CIO, for settlement of a labor dispute in the Pittsburgh area. Earlier this year Prof. Tanner adjudicated a strike in the steel mills at Aliquippa. Both parties again agreed to accept his decision as final. The arbitrator was chief clerk to the state workmen's compensation board from 1931 to 1934 while former Judge Arthur C. Dale of Bellefonte was the board's chairman. During that time he had his office in that of Judge Dale in the Heverly building where he also spent two years as a law student.

A shooting accident, that fortunately did not have serious results, occurred last Saturday at one of the hunting camps in Poe Valley. A group of Lancaster men were spending the weekend in the camp and were shooting mark with a 22 calibre rifle. One of the men walked in front of another who was holding the rifle. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball striking the one man on the right side, penetrating the belt and trousers and ploughing a furrow beneath the skin from above the hip bone to the center of the abdomen, where it made its exit. The man was taken to Millheim and treated by a local physician. The patient is recovering—no doubt much more careful while in the vicinity of a loaded gun.

Tuesday morning, while picking grapes in the back yard of her East Main street home, Millheim, Miss Orpha Gramley fell from a chair and broke two bones in her left leg, just above the ankle. She was taken to the Centre County Hospital by her brother, W. C. Gramley, where the bones were properly set and a plaster cast applied.

W. S. Malie, who will be ninety-one years "young" next January, seems to still have the old "zip" that keeps one going right along. And just to prove that he can take it, he went along with his son-in-law, Hans LaFlamme, in the latter's truck, to Shamokin for a load of coal—a trip that involved about 150 miles of riding. What's more, he was ready to go again.

S. W. Gramley, of Millheim, left for Omaha, Nebraska, where he will be in attendance at the sessions of the General Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, which meets only every two years. He will represent the Central Pennsylvania Synod of which the Aaronsburg Lutheran pastorate is a unit. Traveling companions of Mr. Gramley on the trip West were Dr. Jacob Diehl, of Lock Haven, and Rev. John Harkins, of State College, who will also attend the Synod. Mr. Gramley expects to be gone about ten days.

The Millheim Girl Scouts spent from Friday afternoon until Saturday afternoon at the Mark-Yonada camp in Shillington Hollow. Some of the girls passed scouting requirements during the outing, and hiked to Penns Valley before returning home. The following members of the troop composed the overnight party, which was chaperoned by Miss Margaret Cunningham, captain, and her lieutenants, Mrs. Stanley Shirley Benner, Kathleen Springer, Grace Miller, Nancy Houston, Julia Ocker, Phyllis Bohn, Mary Duck, June Stover, Jean Krape, Judith Mueser, Kathryn Jodan and Betty Browne.

The man was taken to Millheim and treated by a local physician. The patient is recovering—no doubt much more careful while in the vicinity of a loaded gun.

A shooting accident, that fortunately did not have serious results, occurred last Saturday at one of the hunting camps in Poe Valley. A group of Lancaster men were spending the weekend in the camp and were shooting mark with a 22 calibre rifle. One of the men walked in front of another who was holding the rifle. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball striking the one man on the right side, penetrating the belt and trousers and ploughing a furrow beneath the skin from above the hip bone to the center of the abdomen, where it made its exit. The man was taken to Millheim and treated by a local physician. The patient is recovering—no doubt much more careful while in the vicinity of a loaded gun.
