

ROAST TURKEY IN OPEN PAN

It can no longer be said that turkey makes its appearance on the family table only once or twice a year, but it cannot be denied that this royal bird still remains the favorite for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Not all homemakers can take the pick of their flock but must depend on market birds. For those who lack confidence in their ability to select a good turkey, they can go to a market that handles government graded poultry, says Miss Helen S. Butler, home economics extension representative of Centre county.

The best turkeys are graded U. S. Prime, and are the highest in price. Next in line is the U. S. Choice, followed by the U. S. Commercial.

When buying a turkey, make a note of its dressed weight, that is, the weight of the bird before it is drawn, with the feathers removed but the head and feet still on. This dressed weight is the guide to the time and temperature for roasting.

When it comes to roasting the bird, Miss Lucy Alexander, poultry cooking specialist with the Federal bureau of home economics, has some helpful suggestions. She urges homemakers to always roast a young tur-

Gibel-Ludlow. Miss Erma Diana Ludlow, of Lock Haven, became the bride of George Gibel, of Bellefonte, at a ceremony performed at 7:30 o'clock last Thursday night by Justice of the Peace, Harold D. Cowher, at his offices on East Bishop street, Bellefonte. Attendants were Helen K. Witmer and Ralph Packer, both of Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Gibel will reside at the Garman House, Bellefonte where Mr. Gibel has been employed for the past three years.

Witmer-Emel. Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Hannah Louise Emel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emel, of North Penn street, Bellefonte, and Earl Witmer, of Roopburg. The ceremony took place October 25 in Winchester, Va. There were no attendants. For some time Mrs. Witmer has been employed on the sewing project at the County Home in Bellefonte. Mr. Witmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Witmer, of Roopburg, is employed at the Martin Miller lime quarries near Jacksonville. For the present Mrs. Witmer is living at her parents' home while Mr. Witmer is at the home of his brother, Kenneth, at Coleville.

President Plans 'Fund' Campaign

Authorizes Use of Birthday to Aid Nation-Wide 'Paralysis Fight'

President Roosevelt this week appointed Keith Morgan, National Chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday to conduct the "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

The President also authorized the use of his birthday, January 30 next, for the raising of funds to aid the nationwide fight against the crippling disease.

Declaring in a letter to Mr. Morgan that the health of America's children is one of the front lines of our national defense, Mr. Roosevelt said that plans for the campaign already worked out by Mr. Morgan and associates had his "heartiest endorsement." The President added:

"I am sure they will meet with the whole-hearted response and cooperation of all of the birthday committees and the American people."

Chairman Morgan announced that organization for the drive for funds which will reach its climax on January 30, 1941, the President's fifty-third birthday anniversary, was already under way and would proceed at top speed.

Members of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday were quick to respond to the new call for action.

Eddie Cantor, noted radio, screen and stage star, told Mr. Morgan at headquarters he was happy to again serve as chairman of the "March of Dimes" of the air.

Grantland Rice, widely-known sports authority, immediately accepted the chairmanship of the Sports Council for the fourth time.

George Allen of Washington, former District of Columbia Commissioner, at once volunteered his services as chairman of the "Mile of Dimes" committee.

Joseph M. Schenck of Los Angeles, wired his acceptance as vice chairman of the committee. He, like the others, has served for the past three years with Mr. Morgan.

Colonel D. Walker Wear, Assistant National Chairman, announced that State Chairmen already were accepting appointments and that every state in the Union would be completely organized.

The President, in his letter authorizing the campaign for the raising of funds, praised the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday for the splendid fight being waged against the crippling disease. He added:

"Nothing is closer to my heart than the health of our boys and girls and young men and young women. To me it is one of the front lines of our national defense.

"Although the warm heart of the American people will never cool to helping the afflicted children of countries abroad, I know also that this warm heart will always respond to a call to help our own."

Commenting on this, Mr. Morgan said:

"Our Slogan will be: 'Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner. And We will ask all America to enlist in our national defense for health."

"The people of this nation are united in this great cause. All Americans, despite the many demands made upon them by those afflicted by the great war, will be ready to help the children in this country who are stricken with infantile paralysis."

"We are making good progress against this invisible invader, thanks to the whole-hearted cooperation of doctors and scientists, health officials and nurses. This fight will go on until infantile paralysis is stamped out."

The plans for the campaign, Mr. Morgan announced, provide for a division of the funds raised on a 60-50 basis, the same as during the past two years. One half of the net proceeds will remain in the communities where raised for local aid to infantile paralysis sufferers, while the other half will be turned over to the National Foundation. The other fifty per cent will go to the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, to be turned over to the National Foundation. The Foundation's funds are expended in the national fight against the disease in the fields of research, epidemic control, after-effects and education.

Figures released by Mr. Morgan, compiled from United States public health service reports, show twelve states swept with epidemics during this year. The year 1940 in fact will go down in the records, Mr. Morgan said, as the fifth worst year in history.

By the end of 1940, total cases will exceed 10,000, it is indicated. Already, as of November 2, 8701 cases have been reported for 44 weeks. This total compares with 6,482 cases for a similar period in 1939.

Airmail Pick-Up To Begin December 2

less, Bellefonte, Lock Haven and Jersey Shore. Many surrounding towns also will receive service through these station points.

The inaugural flight over the new route will leave Pittsburgh at 8 o'clock on the morning of December 2, and will arrive at Williamsport at 9:55. The return trip will depart from Williamsport at 3:07 p. m. reaching Pittsburgh at 5 o'clock.

The same schedule will be followed regularly until January 20 when the afternoon flight will be a half hour later at all points. On February 15, the line will go on summer schedule and the afternoon trip will be a full hour later at all stations.

The morning flight will make connections at Pittsburgh with the trunk-line and transcontinental schedules arriving there overnight, and the air mail received through these connections for distribution along the air pick-up route will reach its destination before noon the same day, thus eliminating the delay of a day that now occurs at most places in forwarding this mail by train and truck.

The afternoon schedule has been arranged to make trunk-line connections at Pittsburgh that will give each community on the route the advantage of overnight air mail service to virtually every part of the country. In addition, fast local service will be provided between all points on the line. For example, it will take an air mail letter only 15 minutes to travel between some places.

The new pick-up system which has been developed by All American Aviation since it first began operations of this type will be used on the Pittsburgh-Williamsport route. Both in the plane and on the ground this new system is decidedly different from the apparatus which was successfully operated by the company in the year's trial conducted by the Post Office Department to test the practicability of the air pick-up idea, and which is still in use on two of the present air pick-up routes although eventually it will be replaced by the new equipment on these lines.

A feature of the new system is a portable ground station which is dismantled when not in use. It is considered a great improvement over the permanent-type station particularly for pick-up operations on airports. Another feature is the arm which holds the hook in position for a pick-up. Under the old system the hook trails at the end of a 55-foot cable. The arm is 15 feet long and retracts into the fuselage of the plane, bringing the pick-up burden into the plane at the same time. The arrangement eliminates whipping of the pick-up line in turbulent air, making the pilot's work easier and more accurate. Accuracy in contact also has been improved by making the ground stations 20 feet high instead of 40 feet.

A power-driven unit has been substituted for the hand-operated pick-up mechanism in the plane and a new hook device makes it possible to pick-up heavier loads. The method of making deliveries also has been changed. Instead of trailing from the plane at the end of the transfer rope, the delivery container is now attached to the retractable arm just above the pick-up hook and deliveries are made by the pilot by simply tripping an electrically-controlled release. The outgoing container is attached to a 60-foot loop and is suspended between the masts of the ground station.

Reaching the high steel masts of the present type of station, the poles for the new ground stations have a metal base and a bamboo top which will not damage the plane if they are accidentally struck in making a pick-up. The new transfer rope which is a 60-foot loop instead of a 60-foot strand is stronger and lighter. When not in use, the ground stations and equipment are stored in a box especially designed for this purpose. Following is the regular schedule for this route:

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

Thanksgiving Day and a table laden with all kinds of good things to eat just seem inseparable links in the minds of our people. We guess this idea comes down from olden days when the first Thanksgiving was set apart as a day of thanks to God for his bounteous blessings and a day of feasting and merry-making.

In order for the day to be one of pleasure for the housekeeper, it surely must be planned well in advance and as much of the dinner prepared before as possible in order that she can enjoy the holiday with her family.

We have this Thanksgiving, much to be thankful for and therefore let's make it a memorable day for the members of our family. The menu given below is simple and as inexpensive as could be to be a "feast" at all. Other dishes may be added to make it more elaborate, if desired:

MENU
Fruit Cocktail
Roast turkey with dressing
Cranberry Sauce
Rice Giblet Gravy
Carrots Creamed Peas
Rolls Butter
Congealed Apple Salad Olives Pickles
Celery Pumpkin Pie
Mints Coffee Salted nuts

Turkey Dressing
Combine equal parts of bread crumbs and corn bread. Add 1 onion, 2-3 cup celery, which has been chopped, salt and pepper. Moisten with liquor from the turkey. Add 2 eggs and 1 hard boiled egg.

Mix thoroughly and fill the turkey. The remaining dressing brown and serve with the turkey.

Cranberry Jelly
4 cups cranberries
1 cup sugar
2 cups water
Wash cranberries, add water. Cook until tender, about fifteen minutes. Remove from fire and press through a colander. Add sugar and boil about five minutes or until jelly. Fill molds and set aside to cool.

Congealed Apple Salad
1 cup chopped apples
1 cup shredded cabbage
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 package lime jelly.

Divide jelly in a pint of boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Add apples, cabbage and nuts after 3:00 has become thick enough to hold them in place. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.
