CHRISTMAS PRESENTS:

William B. Troupe and A. L. Roselle, who annually delight their youngsters with complicated electric train lay-outs, are busy setting up their outfits.

Only a Certified Electrical Engineer will be able to operate the countless gadgets and controls on the Troupe outfit this year, and rumor has it that the layout will include a glass enclosed cage in which the youngsters will be safely imprisoned while "Daddy" runs the trains.

George: Bellefonte's municipal authorities are more and more adopting in reality a "Let George Do It" attitude. Council, which dumps all old jobs on George, last week made him a present of the job of collecting traffic fines. The school board, Monday night, picked on George for a task no one else has been able to do. Repeatedly the Board has tried to eliminate parking in the Academy driveway, without avail, so the Board happily decided they'd get George to take over the problem. Bellefonte's George, in case you haven't guessed, is George Carpenter, who is employed by the Borough, but who seems to be growing into a municipal institution who is expected to do anything anyone wants him to do.

Witness: A mixup in type in a local newspaper last week, had three Bellefonte residents witnessing a birth instead of a wedding. Since one of the "witnesses" was Mrs. Gertrude Bliger, deputy in the offices of Register Harry A. Corman, politicians may get to thinking and create a new office, Witnesser of Births.

Pine Glen: There will be church at the usual hour next Sunday morning.

Mrs. Schmoke and sons Wesley and Maynard motored to Altoona one day last week.

James Muckel, a jucky hunter this season, bagged an eight point buck the first day.

Among other sportsmen stopping at the Mackel home were a number from Philadelphia. Red killed his deer the first day of the season and Al the second day.

There will be a play at the Community Hall on Friday night, Dec. 13, admission 10 and 20 cents.

A number of friends called at the Mackel home over the weekend.

Wesley Ramsey and William Mock of Altoona, are stopping with Mr. Ramsey's sister Mrs. Schmoke.

Hunter Granted Parole From Jail

Walker noted that the Court was influenced favorably because "the behavior of the applicant has been of the highest order." At a hearing on the application a week or more ago those appearing in Williams' behalf said he has been a model prisoner, since he has been confined in the county jail.

Shortly after being committed to the jail Williams was made a trusty, and in that capacity he won the complete confidence of jail officials for honesty and trustworthiness.

DRY TOP BOGGS TWP.

Deer then more deer. Saturday the Scribe heard two shots and opened her kitchen door to see 14 year old Clyde McKinley dragging a nice size deer toward the house. "Is your man there," was Clyde's query. "No Clyde." Then the little fellow who is small for his age, stepped astride of the deer and took out the entrails, he started home hauling his deer by a rope fastened to its neck. Other deer gotten from a crew of men some of who had $15 licenses were the Wyland crew and friends from Ohio, who each got a deer, six in all. John Burns one; Eugene Burns one and his girl friend one.
