Manakin, Va., March 9, 1941.

Gentlemen:—I have received so many replies to my ad for a married man that I have been unable to answer all letters at this time. I have secured two good men.

Will keep the letters. Should I need additional help in the future, or should some of my farmer friends be in need of reliable help, will have them get in touch with the different men.

At present do not know of any available jobs, but a number came to my attention the past year, and did not know who to refer
