Malcolm W. Wagner, wife and daughter, of Howard, and Mrs. Hilda W. Leathers and daughter, Eleanor, who live at home with Mr. Wagner.

Mr. Wagner was born in Howard on March 24, 1896, and spent his early life in that community. As a young man he went to Lock Haven where he learned the barbering trade and was employed in that city for about three years.

Returning to Howard in 1898 Mr. Wagner opened a shop there which he has conducted ever since, or for more than half a century. A prominent and outstanding citizen of the community, Mr. Wagner has been a lifelong member of the Reformed church and has held all important offices in the church. He served as school director of Howard borough and also held other municipal offices. He has always been a staunch and loyal member of the Democratic party.

Mrs. Wagner passed away in February 1934 Mr. Wagner enjoys good health and can be found at his shop weekdays. The passage of a year has touched him lightly, and he appears more like a man in his early thirties than one well past the threescore and ten year mark.

The Centre Democrat joins with Mr. Wagner's legion of friends in wishing him the privilege of enjoying many more birthday anniversaries.

Honor Howard Man Has Been Crying Sales 48 Years

steady, he said, expressing the opinion that what the country needs is more farmers starting up in business to take up the surplus of farm machinery.

Mr. Wise, who is past the threescore-and-ten year mark, predicted that before long all public sales will be cash transactions. Sales of household goods now are strictly cash, and the trend in farm sales is toward a cash basis. Today, at sales where 60 or 90 days' time is allowed, few buyers take advantage of the terms, Mr. Wise commented.

Mr. Wise's largest sale was in March, 1916, at the Clegg Stover farm in Woodward. The sale totaled $10,600.

When asked how he happened to get into the auctioneering business, Mr. Wise explained it this way: "One day when I was only 23 years old, the auctioneer for a sale at Rebersburg failed to show up. The man having the sale urged me to act as auctioneer. The only experience I had was in auctioneering off cakes at church socials, but I accepted and sold the stuff. Two weeks later a neighbor came to me and asked me to cry his sale."

"I've been at it ever since," Mr. Wise concluded.

Since at least one other county auctioneer, L. Frank Mayes, of Leont, got his start because the regular auctioneer failed to put in an appearance, it may be concluded that the best way to become an auctioneer is to cry a public sale, sometime.

Welfare Drive To Open Soon

her Company. Sutton Engineering Company, C. Y. Wagner and Company, and the telephone, gas, power, and railroad companies.

Team No. 4, with Ralph Blaney as captain, will visit all the employees of the post office, court house, schools, penitentiary, highway department, unemployment office, and persons connected with other public works. Philip H. Johnston's team, No. 5, will canvass all the people in the professional group, doctors, lawyers, insurance agents, and bank employees, also the barbers, and newspaper offices. Bossart DeHaas, team No. 6, has charge of seeing all persons in retail and wholesale businesses. Earl Orr, team No. 7, takes care of all others—clubs and organizations, Milesburg, Pleasant Gap, and Spring township.

The directors tried as far as possible to apportion the various groups according to their income capacities, with a goal of $3000 to be reached by each team. Feeling that past welfare campaigns have dragged through too many weeks, the leaders have planned to push the 1941 drive through in one week, May 1 to 10, inclusive. It will start off with a dinner of all the workers, and each noon during the week of activity, a street banner will be carried. Captains and lieutenants will lunch together to turn in reports and compare notes. A record of their daily accomplishments will be written on a large chart in the lunch room.

On the First National Bank corner the large campaign barometer will be in evidence, a street banner is to be strung across High street, and all contributors will be given window stickers. Saturday, April 5, Bellefonte Boy Scouts will canvass the business houses for employe lists.

Today, April 3, the directors, captains, lieutenants, and representatives of the agencies to be benefited by the drive will meet for dinner to talk over their final plans. The directors of the welfare drive are as follows: J. M. Curtin, chairman; E. Keith Anderson, Henry Brockhoff, J. Bossart DeHaas, H. J. Hartman, Lewis Orris Harvey, B. H. Johnston, Lewis Lerr, George Newman, E. S. Orr, C. C. Rhoads, W. W. Sieg, Fred Warner, Mrs. E. E. Widdowson, and Mrs. Roy Wilkinson.

The present temporary requirements for enlistment, that applicants be between 18 and 30; between 64 and 74 inches in height. Those found physically qualified will be furnished transportation from Altoona to Pittsburgh for a final medical examination and enlistment.

The enlistment period in the Marine Corps is four years, during which time they are eligible for duty on land and sea and in the air.

Full particulars can be had by asking your local postmaster, or applying at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Altoona, by either calling at this station or by letter.

Woman Wouldn't Talk

The failure of Mrs. Gertrude Homer of Milton to avail herself of a woman's prerogative to talk cost her a 60-day prison sentence. Arraigned in the Northumberland county court on charges of possession and sale of illicit liquor, she refused to defend herself. Judge H. W. Cummins passed sentence after District Attorney R. M. Fortney presented the state's evidence.

Gets Army Promotion

Vincent Gales, of State College, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant in the U. S. Army, according to reports from Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, where he is stationed with Company M, 21st Infantry Gales, a State College High school graduate, enlisted in the Army about a year ago.

Seek Hit-Run Driver

A hit-run motorist who killed John Curley, 51, an inmate of the Northumberland county home, near Shamokin, is sought by state motor police. Curley, struck near the home, died of a broken neck. Multiple fractures of the left leg, an arm fracture and internal injuries.

PORT MATILDA

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cowher and son Willard moved to Morristown on Saturday. Mr. Cowher secured employment there.

Miss Nora Slover of Bellefonte, spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Sue McEwen, also attended the H. M. Miles sale on Monday. She returned to her home Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Pierce Peters entertained some friends and her immediate family to a chicken and waffle dinner on Tuesday in honor of the birthday of her husband.

John Stere would greatly appreciate if they would return it to the grammar school, or see that Mrs. Rosanna Burkholder gets it to return.

James M. Stere is still confined to his bed and not improving as rapidly as his many friends and family would like. We all hope his complete recovery may be speedy.

J. B. Stere is having a modern bathroom installed in his home in place of the old one they have been using for many years. They are greatly handicapped for convenience at the present time.

John Stere and sister, Miss Charlotte, and Miss Louise Tingle motored to Altoona last Saturday and did some shopping and visiting with the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stevenson.

We hope the members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will bear in mind the regular meeting this Thursday evening in the church and to bring your donation of glasses for the use of the society.

Mrs. Gilbert Keatley of Tyrone, spent a couple days last week with relatives in the community and attended to the moving of their household goods from the Anna Hall property into the Presbyterian church vacant room where they will leave it stored for a time.

G. W. Bullock has completed his days of labor for the Pennsylvania Railroad company and is now one of the retired members of the company, having ceased his work at the Howard depot on Monday, March 31. We trust he will enjoy retired life and keep his usual good health.

The Easter Cantata which is being prepared by the combined choirs of the Methodist churches of Beech Creek, Howard, Milesburg and Unionville, will be presented in the church here on Thursday evening, April 4, at 7:30. They will have a full dress rehearsal in the church here this Friday evening, April 4.

and the codes "OSGM" and "MPO29" are said to mark the dangerous shipments.

Hospital attaches and all Bellefonte druggists reported that they carry sulfanilazole tablets in stock, but that none of them are of the suspected shipments. Most of the stock carried here was manufactured by other chemical houses, it was indicated. So far, none of the dangerous tablets have been reported anywhere in Central Pennsylvania.

Skidmore Suspected In Prison Blast

tion operator several years ago Skidmore, a young man with a previously unblemished reputation, escaped to the Centre county mountains. Trapped in the cabin of a fire station at the Rattlesnake, near Unionville, he shot his way to freedom. The late William Fox of Unionville, Rattlesnake beacon light keeper and former friend of Skidmore's when the latter was attending the Academy, was shot through the elbow during the scuffle.

Six years later Skidmore was captured in Idaho.
