

LESSONS IN ENGLISH

Words Often Misused
Do not say, "I have a lot of things to do today." Say, "I have many things."

Words Often Misspelled
Compliment (praise); complement (that which fills up or completes.) Aught (anything); ought (should).

YOUR HEALTH

From the Educational Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, of which the Centre County Medical Society is a component.
Human beings do not suffer from ptomaine poisoning. There are many different kinds of ptomaine, but it is not the ptomaine in putrid foods which make one ill, even if a lot of the food has been eaten.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Stubborn Jelly
When preparing jelly and it refuses to "jell," a slice of carrot will furnish the necessary pectin and produce a clear, firm jelly, with no trace of the carrot flavor.
Liquid Toilet Soap
If one has a very sensitive skin, or has undue oil secretions of the skin, the following solution will be found beneficial: mix and bottle four quarts of rain water, four ounces of borax, four ounces of baking soda, and two ounces of ammonia; shake before using. This will be found an excellent toilet soap.

Health And Beauty

DISEASE AND IMPROPER EATING.
"I always feel so bad when spring comes," said Mrs. Jones to the doctor who was calling on the little Willis because he was suffering from a severe cold. "I don't understand it, for I certainly eat plenty of good food all winter and am well nourished."

AND THE NEW JOB SOCIAL SECURITY

Many workers are now changing jobs or taking their first jobs as a result of the national defense program. Most of these jobs are covered by old-age and survivors insurance under the Social Security Act.
Mr. Weiland J. Michael, manager of the Williamsport Social Security Building office at 307 Post Office Building has prepared a series of eight brief articles for the "Centre Democrat," explaining the steps each worker should now take in connection with his social security account to avoid delays or difficulties when he or his family are ready to collect insurance benefits.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Lucas-Eckman
Doris R. Eckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Eckman, formerly of Bellefonte, now of Williamsport, and Elmer P. Lucas, son of E. P. Lucas, of Unionville, R. D., were married in the rectory of St. Patrick's Cathedral at Harrisburg at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis A. Kerchner. They were attended by Ann E. McGovern, of Bellefonte, and Harold W. Smith, of Centre Hall. The bride wore a beige dress with a navy coat and accessories to match, while Miss McGovern wore navy blue with red accessories. The bride is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, class of 1938. For the past year she has been employed by the Public School Employees' Retirement Board at Harrisburg. Mr. Lucas is now employed by the Titan Metal Manufacturing Company at Bellefonte. They expect to go to housekeeping in Bellefonte in the near future.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College of Agriculture
Petunias Selected—Four varieties of petunias are included among the 1941 All-American selections of flowers, announce floriculturists of the Pennsylvania State College. The varieties are Blue Brocade, Radiance, and First Lady, all silver medal winners, and Violet Gem, which received honorable mention.
Plant Peas Early—Early planting is essential for producing large yields of high quality peas, say vegetable gardening specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. All early and late varieties should be planted as soon as the soil is suitable. Condition of the soil at planting time influences both yield and quality.

AS I SEE IT

By HORACE SENTZ
It's hard to finger John Bull out, when he begins to fight. He starts out with a lusty clout. Now take this Libbia campaign. He sure has Mussey on the run. But now he's losing all his gain, while his men retreat before them Hun. They call it strategy of war, n'say its all planned out. But just when they think they have John's Alleys don't know much about. War tactics ain't so very plain, to one like me what's dumb, but I can't see what John's gain, gain back to where he started from. Then Axis boys takes back Bengazzi, n' then Derna gets retook, Ole John's tactics might be enazy, but they don't make sense in my little book. The way I size up this war stuff, is to out guess, outsmart n' out run, so after John's called Mussey bluff, he shoulda kept him on the run. But now he's spread himself too thin, by sendin' lotsa men to Greece. There's jist a chance that he won't win, them Nazis' milt coot British ease. It kinda looks to me as if John ain't all of the stuff he needs, to hand Adolf that knockout buff, he shoulda kept Mussey in the weeds. 'n' 'n' it was Uncle Sam, who packed the knockout punch, to save the Alleys from their jam, a repeater now is a safe hunch. To say we won that there last war, gives patriotic Britons pain, n' if they can't put the screws on more, we'll hafia help em out again.

AMERICAN OIL COMPANY DEVELOPS NEW GASOLINE

Returning today from a sales and advertising conference held at the Schenley Hotel, Pittsburgh, E. E. Lane, of the Imperial Refining Co., local distributor for the American Oil Company, stated that through the completion of the world's first commercial hydroforming unit, his company is marketing a new type gasoline.
Pioneers did not pass with the covered wagon. Scientists and chemists are pioneering in new fields daily. For many years, petroleum chemists have been searching for efficient methods to "reform" or convert low octane naphthas into high anti-knock gasolines. Hydroforming, which is a new process involving the use of high temperatures and pressures, carried out in the presence of hydrogen gas and a newly discovered catalyst, has now solved this problem.
The hydroforming process, he stated, is of great interest to National Defense because it not only produces a new high anti-knock gasoline for automobiles, but it opens a new source for the production of high octane aviation gasoline and a large potential supply of toluene, a substance vitally needed in the manufacture of T. N. T.
Mr. Lane further stated that comprehensive tests of the product indicated that it would give smoother, more efficient high octane road performance. He concluded his remarks by stating that this new hydroforming process has been enthusiastically acclaimed by the petroleum industry.

Clearfield Seeks Industry
Clearfield residents are considering raising $50,000 in order to secure a new defense industry for the town. The group of more than 100 business men, meeting to hear the plan, was told that defense orders could be obtained and that the first order would be for $150,000. A total of $25,000 would be needed for machinery and another $25,000 would be needed to meet the first payroll.

BRITISH CONVICTS DO BIT

Convicts and prisoners in British prisons are helping their country win the war. Nearly all of them are engaged in some work of national importance and are receiving wages, which vary according to the nature of the work.
Defense contracts are not apt to be sources of permanent economic benefits.

PRISONERS KEPT BUSY

Prisoners at the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, manufactured about 41,000 storage cabinets and 59,000 other small special items in the metal factory there last year, bureau of prison officials told a house sub-committee on appropriations.

$500,000 A WEEK!

As Pennsylvania swings full speed ahead into the national preparedness program, this company is tackling the biggest job in its history. Day by day the demands for service mount. A year ago we launched a huge construction program to enlarge our plant. This year an even greater program is under way. Right now in Pennsylvania we are spending half a million a week on new construction! We are making an all-out drive—with manpower, materials and money—to keep telephone service fast, adequate and dependable to speed Pennsylvania's production.
