

Kiwanis Hear School Plans

Architect Draws Word-Picture of New Building at Meeting of Club

By invitation of the Kiwanis Club, Paul M. Hayward, of Altoona, who is affiliated with the firm of Hunter & Caldwell, architects for the new high school building, explained at Tuesday's meeting many of the architectural features of the new building and the layout of the structure.

The exterior walls will be of red brick of varying shades, which permits the elimination of much architectural ornamentation which is used when cost is not an item. There will be native limestone belt courses and trim. The doors will be mostly of metal because of the hard usage which they receive in a building of such a character.

The foundation will be of concrete and the roof will be of asphalt plank over which there will be a bonded built-up roof guaranteed for twenty years. The windows will be of the best possible grade of steel that can be bought. The construction, Mr. Hayward stated, will be semi-fireproof. The building will be of modern design without going too much modernistic.

The structure will accommodate from 900 to 1000 students and will have 35 class rooms and other rooms for school purposes. There will be an auditorium seating approximately a thousand people, and its construction, it is believed, is such that there will be great ease in hearing in every part of the room. The shops will be of fireproof construction and account has been taken in the plans for the placing of each piece of apparatus. Safety devices are being installed in the shops to prevent accidents to students and one button will throw all machines out of operation should it become necessary.

The gymnasium, the speaker said, will be equipped with lockers and showers to which there is easy access from the outside. The electrical service will enter the building from underground conduits and all controls will be centered in one room. The building will be well ventilated and heated. A roadway into the court from Lamb street will lead to a three-door hopper into which the coal can be dumped from trucks. The boilers will be fed by a concrete slabs. Over the concrete control of heat. Each room is equipped with a cabinet register and a fan. Air from the outside will pass over heated coils and the temperature will be controlled thermostatically.

In addition to the room control there is a pressure control regarding the steam heating. The heating system will be efficient and modern in every respect and has been designed for maximum ventilation and economical operation.

The floor joists will be of steel and the classroom floors will be concrete slabs. Over the concrete linoleum will be placed in the class rooms and asphalt tile in the corridors. Acoustical tile is used in the ceilings to cut down noises and to make better hearing conditions.

Along Linn street the building will be continuous for practically the entire length of the lot. It will be in thirteen feet from the old retaining wall. A new retaining wall will be built and a moat to give light and air will be made between the retaining wall and the building. Concrete bridges will give entrance from the Linn street side. Along Allegheny street the building will not reach over to Lamb street, while there will be a court facing the Lamb street side, the building being in a "U" shape.

In response to the question as to when the building would be completed Mr. Hayward said that conditions were such that this could not be safely predicted; that orders for the steel had been placed some time ago; that being a school building materials would be favored by priority, and that they fully expected the building to be ready for use in the autumn of 1942.

Earl J. Gentzel was inducted into membership of the club. Roy Wilkinson, Jr., was appointed chairman of the Boys' and Girls' Work Committee, replacing A. L. Roselle, who is now engaged in business on Staten Island. Other guests at the meeting were J. P. Shannon and D. H. Rindard, of Harrisburg, and O. M. Deibler and D. D. Strugone, of Greensburg.

Parking Meters To Be Installed

Council's favor at that time, they may be removed.

The meters are of the manual type, which means that a lever must be operated after a coin is deposited. They will provide one hour of parking for a nickel; 15 minutes for one cent; or 24 minutes for two cents. The minimum fine for violations of the parking meter regulations was reduced from $1 to 50 cents at Monday's meeting. The maximum fine is $50. In default of payment of fine a ten-day jail sentence may be imposed.

The meter ordinance provides that meters shall be in operation from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. except Sundays and holidays, and on Saturdays between 9 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Meters are to be installed in the following places:

- On Allegheny street: from the southern line of Linn to the northern line of Logan, on both sides.
- On High street, from western line of Allegheny to eastern line of Dunlop, on both sides.
- On High street, south side of north branch, from the eastern line of Allegheny to Decatur Alley.
- On High street, south side of south branch, from the eastern line of Allegheny to the eastern line of the Garman Hotel.
- On Bishop street, from western line of Allegheny to eastern line of South Spring, both sides.
- On Spring street, from northern line of Bishop to southern line of High, both sides.
- On Spring street, from southern line of Howard to northern line of High, both sides.
- On Howard street, from eastern line of North Spring to western line of the entrance to the postoffice property.

Borough Police Officer Ralph Eyer is to go on duty July 1, as parking meter officer. Although machines will not be in operation at that time, Officer Eyer will be assigned to the task of enforcing orderly parking within the white lines, in preparation for metered parking. It was pointed out that when meters are in use, unless every motorist places his car properly in the spaces, meters will be ineffective. The drive on proper parking within the lines is to be enforced with fines, according to instructions to be given to Eyer. When the machines are in operation, Eyer will be detailed to check on violations, present plans provide.

Council heard a report from the fire and police committee that after December 7, when dial telephones go into operation here, the Bell Telephone Company will no longer be able to sound fire alarms as is now the practice. It was claimed that with dial phones in use only a general alarm could be sounded, the sounding of a general alarm would mean unnecessary use of equipment.

The matter brought up a discussion in which Council members expressed a belief that the borough offices, water department offices, and police headquarters should be combined, either at the Big Spring or at the Logan House. Under this suggestion a man would be employed to work at night. His duties would be to receive police calls, sound fire alarms, and do clerical work for the water department in his spare time. During the daytime regular water department employees would take care of fire alarm and police call duties.

The fire and police committee was instructed to consider various plans and suggestions and submit a report at a future meeting of Council.

The police report showed the following activities 36 two-hour parking violation tickets issued; 2 far-away investigations; 1 stop-sign arrest; 5 transients lodged in lockup; 1 arrest for parking at fire plug.

The Street committee reported that a fence has been erected along "Stony Battery;" that grading has begun on Shope street, and that a survey is being made to determine the location of parking meters.

Councilman Weber reported that additional street lighting facilities should be provided on Logan street.

Building permits were approved as follows: Don Keeler, house, Half-moon Terrace, and Jack Wilkinson, house, East Curtin street.

The State Highway Department is to be asked to paint a white line in the center of Water street, from Lamb street to the railroad crossing at the C. & H. Store. The street, from High to the crossing, is to be closed to all parking in the near future and the center line will aid in regulating traffic, it is believed.

An ordinance calling for the regular cutting of weeds within the borough limits, passed first reading but is to be amended before final passage, it was reported.

Bartges Family In 12th Reunion

Clan Gathers in Sugar Valley; 3 Members Now in Military Service

The 12th annual reunion held by the Bartges clan in Sugar Valley last Saturday was well attended by nearly one hundred members of the Bartges Freundschaft, who are descendants of the late John William Bartges (born in 1773) and his wife, Anna Margaret Williams. Both died in 1856 and are buried at Heckman's cemetery in Gregg township, Centre county.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Rev. Lee Bartges, Warrensville, Pa. A patriotic selection was played by Miss Mary Igen, Booneville, Pa., on her accordion. Invocation by Rev. Woodrow Bartges, Nescopeck, Pa.

In the order of business it was decided that the next reunion will be held at the Booneville Camp Ground the second Saturday in June, 1942.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Rev. Lee Bartges, Warrensville, president; Prof. N. L. Bartges, Lock Haven, vice president; L. E. Bartges, Millheim, secretary-treasurer; C. C. Bartges, Spring Mills, historian.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and reported that there were two births, namely, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Butten, a son, Alan F. Butten, Bellefonte; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fritz, a son, Donald E. Fritz, Linfield, Pa.

Marriages: Charles F. Bartges, Washington, D. C., to Ava Raines, Romney, W. Va., and Walter Gobbie, Spring Mills, to Miss Orpha Sharp, Spring Mills.

Sons in the U. S. military service: Glen Leshar, Logan; Dean Hettinger, Spring Mills; John Brumgard, Logan.

A very interesting address was made by Rev. Woodrow Bartges, and at the same time it was made known that he has been appointed as a missionary to China and will leave the U. S. A. during the month of September, 1941. The clan wished him well on this long journey.

It was noted that the oldest in attendance, Emery Cupp, Logan, and the youngest, Alan Butten, Bellefonte. The greatest distance traveled, Charles F. Bartges, Washington, D. C. Prizes were awarded to all three parties.

Duets were rendered by Miss Martha Hettinger and Ellen Orr, Altoona; also by Miss Tessie and Ina Bartges, Millheim.

The day was spent very pleasantly and everybody seemingly enjoyed themselves. There was an abundant supply of the best kind of food prepared by the ladies who have the reputation which they deserve, of being good cooks.

After singing that beautiful song "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," the members departed to their homes.

Following is a list of those present: Rev. L. W. Bartges, Mrs. L. W. Bartges, Dairy Bartges and Paul Bartges, Warrensville, Pa.; Samuel Igen, Mrs. Samuel Igen, Sarah Igen, Booneville; Mrs. Edna Mark, Lynn J. Mark, W. B. Bartges, Mrs. W. B. Bartges, Edwin C. Bartges, Mrs. Edwin C. Bartges, Ira Bartges, Mrs. Ira Bartges, Paul Bartges, Mrs. Paul Bartges, Dean Bartges, Elwood Bartges, Mrs. Ellis Leshar, Janet Bartges, Anita Leshar, Alene Leshar, Irene Leshar, Lawrence Bartges, Mrs. Lawrence Bartges, Mrs. Lela B. Bartges, Ernest Guiseville, Mrs. Ernest Guiseville, Janice Guiseville, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Meyer, Josephine Meyer, Mrs. Elmar Emig, H. A. Lamey, all of Logan; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schenck, Howard; H. M. Hettinger, Miss Martha Hettinger, Mrs. Ellen Orr, Mrs. Jennie McKnight, Mrs. Ida Merritt, all of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bartges, Ivy W. Bartges, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bartges, Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bartges, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lena Burton, James V. Burton, Jeanne L. Burton, Leroy H. Butten, Alan Butten, all of Bellefonte; Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Bartges, Nescopeck, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. Bartges, Mrs. W. E. Bartges, Tessie Bartges, Ina Bartges, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bartges, Millheim; Mrs. Lee Snyder, Mrs. A. L. Showers, Francis Showers, Mary Frank, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bartges, all of Green Bury; Mrs. Bruce White, Bloomsburg; Mrs. H. B. Frankenberg, State College; Mrs. W. D. Bartges, State College; Prof. and Mrs. N. L. Bartges, Lock Haven; Mrs. Billy Wolfe, Woolrich; Emery Cupp, Pittsburgh; John Smith, Logan; and Charles Smith, Williamsport.

PINE GROVE MILLS

Two more June weddings to put in print next week.

Our highway foreman, Marshall Barto is driving a brand new Ford V-8, purchased from the State College agency.

Wilbur (Pete) Dean who is training with U. S. Cavalry at Ft. Meyer, Va., was over past weekend visitor with his home folks.

The J. Ed Elder house on the corner tenanted by the Roy Lauck family is being dressed up with coat of snow white paint.

Many of our farmers motored to Centre Hall Wednesday to attend the annual big event, the Farmers-Kiwanis picnic which is growing bigger and better as years go by.

Miss Pauline daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sunday was among the honor students last week in State College high school graduating class and has accepted a position in State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schilling of Shavers Creek Valley were dinner guests recently at their sons home Willis Schilling, enroute to State College experimental farms for annual farmers day.

One of our obliging R. P. D. mail carriers Ira Harpster is enjoying his annual two weeks vacation, he is spending some time in Virginia. Paul Sunday Dept. carrier is hauling U. S. mail matter.

Ben Johnston last week passed the selective service examination and is now one of Uncle Sam's boys and will leave for training camp June 23rd. We all have a hunch some day will read Lieut. J. Ben Johnston.

Mr. Charles Donley and Mrs. Jennie Lamphere of Medina, Ohio, are spending their summer vacation with Miss Sara Danley at the old home on West Main Street and at their Tussey Lodge along the foot of the mountain.

One of our school marm's the past five years has joined the June bride parade, Miss Beatrice Mathias of Huntingdon, R. D., was married recently to Mr. Melvin B. Roddey, of Turtle Creek, Pa. After a two weeks honeymoon trip they will live in the grooms town where he has a nice position.

Miss Mary Ellen Homan is spending this week with her cousin and husband in Reading, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. John Hilsman, Mrs. Hilsman, better known here as Miss Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Homan of White Hall road.

Dinner guests Sunday at the J. H. Gilliland home were the well known Chrysler agent, Mr. John D. Grove and his wife. The Misses Mary and Ella Hutchinson and Mrs. Jesse Hutchinson all of Huntingdon. In the afternoon they enjoyed Mrs. Gilliland's flower garden which is among the best.

Farmer J. Ray Williams was among the bidders last Tuesday at the Reigle weekly auction in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cori of Boalsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buck of Warriors Mark were Sunday dinner guests at the A. K. Cori home.

Mr. George Nearhood of Pine Glen farmer and lumberman motored over Saturday to inspect his saw mills and real estate in our valley.

The C. E. Tate family flitted Saturday from Linden Hall to the Mrs. J. T. Reed house. Mr. Tate is truck driver for the O. W. Houtz Lumber Co.

Farmer Edward Frank last week purchased the fertile farm land from Mrs. R. G. Goeben which adds very nicely and closely to his other farm lands at Baileville.

The Prof. Paul I. Wrigley farm buildings near Meeks' church are now brightly illuminated with West Penn Power Juice. The Prof. has one of the most productive farms in Centre County.

The Harry Gibboney family of Altoona, Pa., were over the past weekend guests with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gibboney on the Prof. S. Cooper Miller farm. Harry was formerly one of our highway force.

Retired P. R. R. engineer C. M. Fry of Altoona, on one of his hurried trips to Centre County, tarried long enough last Wednesday to be a dinner guest with his brother and family F. Reno Fry on Tadpole at the farm home.

Some people, writing in the public prints, seem to think that it is their business to create disunity.

listeners to cherish and protect those freedoms, and the countless other liberties which we have enjoyed for so long we rarely think of them as such.

A history of the flag was given by John G. Love of Bellefonte, while officers of the Elks Club illustrated the evolution of the American flag from pre-Revolutionary days to the present time. John C. Anderson, excited ruler of the Elks, was in charge of the officers' group.

In the line of march in the parade which preceded the ceremonies were the following organizations: Pleasant Gap fire company, Howard fire company, Centre Hall fire company, and Centre Hall-Potter Township High School band, Undine and Logan fire companies of Bellefonte and their marching units, Elks Marching Club, Bellefonte High School band, Bellefonte Banjo Band and the Junior Legion band.

Stores on Summer Schedule
The Dean Phillips and Western Auto stores, South Allegheny street, Bellefonte, which have been keeping open until 9 p. m. every evening, are now closing at 6 p. m. each night, with the exception of Friday and Saturday, when stores will remain open until 9 p. m. on Friday and 10 p. m. Saturday, it was announced yesterday.

Some people, writing in the public prints, seem to think that it is their business to create disunity.

Mr. William Emehizer has purchased a new car recently and keeps it all shined up to perfection.

Mrs. D. H. Custer returned recently from an extended visit with relatives in New Jersey and Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brower and his mother, Mrs. Alfred Brower of Pittsburgh, Pa., spent a couple days last week with friends and relatives in and about the community.

The members of the Woman's Bible Class of the Methodist church were entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of their president, Mrs. J. E. Carper of Dix Run.

Mr. William Barton, student of Pennsylvania State College, is enjoying his summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barton. He is now visiting with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilson of near Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. J. H. Finch has been quite busy the past week, with the help of Mr. Lawrence Reikley has been digging more cellar under his property. Last winter he had a furnace installed which took up the main part of his cellar and left no desirable place for fruit storage.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Amanda Way on Sunday were Mrs. Walter Johnson and three children of Northwood, Pa., and her friend; Mr. and Mrs. Ashburn of Altoona, Pa. In the afternoon they took a drive over the Phillipsburg Pike road and called on relatives for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robison entertained their family at a family reunion on Sunday when their sons were all at home. Those present were, Winfield Robison and family; Basil and Harry Robison and Miss Rose all of Corning, N. Y.; Charles Robison and family and Kenneth Robison and wife of this place, and Andrew and John Robison at home.

Mr. Jesse H. Hall, who has been employed with his son, Harold Hall, on a lumber job at Cherry Tree, Indiana County, met with an accident last week when a tree they were cutting down, fell on him injuring
