One Killed, Four Hurt As Party Crashes Enroute To Attend Funeral At Tyrone

Five Vandergrift Residents, All Negroes, Come to Grief When Car Leaves Road at Bottom of Cresson Mountain and Wrecks

One man was killed and four others of a motor party were injured last Thursday at noon when their car was wrecked while enroute from Vandergrift to Tyrone to attend the funeral of George Dorsey Dixon.

The accident occurred about one-half mile west of Mountain Lake, Blair County, at the foot of Cresson Mountain, and was caused, it is believed, by the blowing of a rear tire.

The dead man was identified as Moses Tucker, 38, who suffered a broken neck and fracture of the right leg.

The injured were: Henton Heron, 48, in serious condition at the Mercy Hospital, Altoona.

Stringer and Stern told motor police they believed the tire blew out just as they reached the bottom of the mountain, causing the driver to lose control of the machine which left the highway and crashed into a tree stump, upsetting on its side.

George Dorsey Dixon, whose body was being taken to Tyrone for burial, had died at Vandergrift earlier in the week.

Summer Memo

TO KEEP AUTO PRICES DOWN.

Leah Henderson, federal price administrator, has asked five automobile manufacturers to withdraw immediately recently announced price increases.

They were asked to cancel the advances "to aid in resisting inflation."

The request was made in letters to the presidents of the Ford Motor Company, the Chrysler Corporation, the Nash-Kelvinator Corporation, the Studebaker Corporation and the Hudson Motor Car Company.

"Recent price advances," Henderson said, "are inconsistent with favorable earnings position of the industry as a whole during recent periods."

Henderson gave assurances, however, that in "event of specific hard-pressed prompt adjustment of this request will be made."

U. S. PLANS FOR ASSOCIATION OF NATIONS

States government in the present world struggle. Although the formulation of details for the establishment of this association of nations is being withheld pending the more urgent problem of saving Great Britain from collapse, State Department experts already have started a tentative study of the political and economic aspects of the peace plan which this government has in mind.

Memoranda on the subject is being compiled gradually by Assistant Secretary of State, Adolph Berle, Jr., and Dr. Herbert Feis, State Department adviser on international economic affairs.

The tentative study of the peace plan does not mean the American government is contemplating any peace move in the near future. On the contrary, it is felt the plan cannot be put into effect until the German people renounce Nazism.

Once the German people become convinced they cannot defeat Great Britain and are prepared to abandon the policy of European and world domination, it is hoped it will be possible to start making headway with the plan.

The aim of the association of nations would be to make membership so beneficial economically that no nation could afford to remain outside.

The benefits envisaged by those who are giving thought to the plan include the following:

1. A system of open trade among the member nations, guaranteeing non-discrimination in commercial relations.

2. A fair distribution to all member nations of sufficient raw materials to meet their reasonable needs.

3. American financial assistance for essential enterprises, such as public works programs, in those countries which do not possess the capital for such development.

4. Strict regulation of the supply of commodities among member nations so as to protect the interests of consumer countries and their people.

5. A cooperative movement for the rapid expansion of trade among the member nations.

In the sphere of political security the United States would agree to assist those member states which were engaged in forcible resistance to unprovoked aggression.

In return for these benefits, the member nations would have to fulfill the following conditions:

Youths Go To Pen For Attacking Girl

Blair County Judge Severely Scores Defendants in Passing Sentence

Her fractured jaw swathed in bandages, Miss Hulda Estep, 22, of Williamsburg, victim of an attack by two Altoona youths, appeared in court at Hollidaysburg last Friday as the two young men were given 10 to 20 years sentences.

After pleading guilty to charges of rape and sodomy the young men, Sydney Kaiser, 21 and George Dent, 22, were sentenced to serve terms of separate and solitary confinement in the Western Penitentiary for the duration of 10-20 years.

Judge Patterson, in passing sentence said: "These are the maximum sentences which this court can give you under the law. We have gone over your confession, carefully and have listened attentively to counsel for both sides. We find this one of the most dastardly crimes ever committed in Blair county. You are fortunate you are here, now, charged with murder."

You best this helpless girl with a bottle and grazed her frail body over the ground in your bestial attack. It is our desire to emphatically impress upon criminals like you that this kind of crime will not be tolerated in this court."

The court also sentenced each of the defendants to pay fines totalling $600.

Kaiser, who is on parole from the Huntingdon reformatory, made a neat appearance in a well fitting blue suit. Dent's father stood by his side during the trial. Neither boy displayed any emotion.

COLLEGE CAMPUS SITE OF MANY SUMMER MEETINGS

The facilities of the Pennsylvania State College will be used by thousands of Pennsylvanians this summer for a variety of conferences and conventions.

The summer gatherings started last week when 4,000 farmers came to the campus for the annual Farmer's Field Day. This week approximately 1,200 Suture Farmers of America will arrive.

Conferences to be held at State College later this summer include the Hydrology Conference, June 30; the National Fertilizer Association, June 24; the Institute of Social Relations, June 23; the Senior Extension Conference, June 15; town and country pastors, June 16; State Fire School, August 25, and 4-H Club, August 13.

Engine Runs Wild At Block Co. Plant

Stationary Engine at Millfiling Belies Name and Causes Fire

A stationary engine went on a spree and refused to remain stationary at the Union Block Company plant, Millfiling, last Tuesday, and threatened to burn the building.

The engine moved four feet when its vibration tore it from its wooden base and toppled it against the side of the frame building, where it burst into flames.

A broken spring on the engine's governor, causing the throttle to remain wide open, led to the excessive vibration and heat which started the fire, it was said by W. Minnick, superintendent of the plant.

The engine was wedged against the building in such a manner that employees could not shut it off, but turned off ignition wires caused it to burn on its own accord.

Double Trouble Unable to decide between them, youths named to select the "best-around" girl of the eighth grade of the Berwick Orange Street school for the American Legion medal, decided that two medals must be given, one each to Midge and Madge Fuller, twin sisters, who are identical not only in appearance but in school records.

Fixes Execution Date Governor James fixed the week of July 28th at Rockview, for the execution of Harold Frisbie, convicted in the Sullivan county slaying of lumberman Edward Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Corter returned Saturday from a wedding trip to Lac St. Jean, Roberval, Quebec. After September 1 they will reside at Brookport, where Mr. Corter is instructor in social studies at the Brookport high school. He is a graduate of the Ridgway High School and the Lock Haven State Teachers' College.

Mr. Corter, who finished her course last year at the Lock Haven State Teachers' College, taught English and French at the Mill Hall High School this past term. She has the distinction of being the first young woman to complete the Civil Aeronautics Bureau course in flying at the Teachers' College, being the only woman in the first class which finished in May, 1940, and she is a licensed pilot.

Mr. and Mrs. Corter will spend the rest of the summer in Mill Hall.

Two Defunct Banks In County To Make Final Payment To Depositors

Moshannon National Bank, Philipsburg, Pays Total of 91.27 Per Cent. Snow Shoe Bank Pays 83 Deposit Liability

Total refunds amounting to $46,169 have been ordered paid to two defunct banks in Centre county, according to information given out last week.

The largest amount will go to the depositors of the former Moshannon National Bank of Philipsburg, when the sixth and final payment totaling $41,000, will be distributed. The sixth payment will be made this week and will bring the total payments of the closed bank to 91.27 per cent. When this payment is completed, a total of $1,149,193.45 will have been paid by the closed bank.

This final payment of 3.27 per cent in the amount of $51,027.02 brings the total payment to 91.27 per cent of the amount of $1,149,193.45 since the bank closed its doors in 1929.

The 925 depositors of the closed Snow Shoe Bank at Snow Shoe will be paid their final dividend on June 26, it was announced last week by Banking Secretary John C. Bell.

The $5,169 dividend will be the ninth payment since the bank closed June 10, 1931, bringing total paid to depositors to $142,818 or 83 per cent of deposit liability.

The June 26 payment will amount to three per cent.

Fells Bull With Stone Quentin Hayman, Stillwater R. D., Columbia County, saved his brother Homer from possible serious injury when he felled a two-year-old bull while it was chasing Homer on the farm of Gus H. Dippe. The stone knocked off a horn, and quickly the bull was dying, the boys quickly killed it.

Storm Piles Up 28 Inches of Hail Automobiles Stalled in Hail Drift on Lehigh County Highway

Centre county motorists were lucky if they avoided Lehigh county in their Sunday travels, as they escaped one of the heaviest hailstorms known to fall in that section.

The hail, falling in exceptional quantity, covered a four square mile area near Tripoli, in the foothills of the Blue Mountains, Sunday evening. The stones reached a depth of 28 inches at one place, covering secondary roads and retarding motor traffic. Men with shovels dug a path for two automobiles stalled in a hail drift.

The section is in Lehigh county's potato district and large fields of plants were leveled. Wheat fields were crushed and fruit trees were stripped.

The hail, accompanied by wind and rain, fell for about 20 minutes. The average depth of the stones in fields was ten inches.

The Monterey section, east of Lancaster, also felt the effects of the storm. Shovels were necessary to clear the hail stones from walks and roads. A heavy downpour of rain which followed washed the hail into piles as high as 30 inches in some low spots.

PLEASANT GAP COUPLE HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mulberger, formerly of near Zion but now living on William Noll's farm at Pleasant Gap, celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 15. They received many presents including a set of silverware from their daughter and son, Albert.

Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Mulberger and son Harold, John Witmer, Charles Mulberger, Charles Lyons, F. R. Scandrial, Lemont, George Dolan and daughter Janet, H. E. McCartney and son Bud, L. L. McCartney and children Pat and Bonnie, Walter and Betty Wilkins, of State College; Donald Johnsonbaugh, Pleasant Gap; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mulberger and son Albert, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rockey and three children, Anna Elizabeth, Beatrice and Donald.

General Alarm Old age finally caught up with the fire alarm box at Bloomsburg town hall and the box, fastened to the rear of the truck when it hit the embankment. All the men, including Paul Osewalt, received brush burns.

Joseph Moulson, Houtzdale, driver of the truck, was not injured.

Tank Truck Burns A tank truck from Mansfield caught fire at the top of Browntop mountain near Towanda. The cab and all wooden portions of the big machine were destroyed and the heat was so intense that much of the aluminum about the tanks melted. Laceyville and Towanda firemen aided in fighting the blaze, and a state motor policeman from Towanda directed traffic.

Request to Church Announcement has been made of a bequest of $1,000, which was made to Christ's Lutheran church, Lewisburg, by Mrs. Wesley Nogle, of that place, whose death occurred last weekend. She was a member of the church for many years.

Democracy depends upon average men for its success but it has a hopeless prospect if the average man hasn't sense enough to vote right on issues.

Lost New Car Private Raymond D. Anderson, of the State Motor Police, now at Shamokin, formerly of Milton, only "thought" he had a new car. When the sedan was being unloaded from a railroad car several days ago, the machine rolled off the platform and crashed on the tracks, scoring a wreck before it was operated by the new owner.

TICKET SELLER: Youth selling chance tickets the other day asked Register Harry Corman to take a chance on an automobile. While the ticket said he had a number of officials on the car, the youth piped up: "How about a chance on Niagara Falls?" (A member of the Bellefonte Banjo Band, he referred to tickets being sold by that organization to determine who shall go to Niagara Falls early in July as guests of the band at the National Banjo Band convention.)

NOTE TO COUNCIL: Sometime you might invite S. H. Poorman, South Water street garage man, to one of your sessions to outline his ideas on how South Water street could be widened without incurring any great damage claims. We're convinced that Sam has spent considerable time and thought in the matter, and his plan makes sense to this department. (Continued on Page 6)

Showman, Elephants Killed in Crash

Paul Miller, 39, showman with Lewis Brothers Circus, and two elephants which were the feature attraction of the show, were killed Sunday when a New York Central passenger train struck one of the circus trailers at a crossing near Conestoga, Ohio.

Miller, an elephant trainer for 15 years, was mutilated beyond recognition.

Charles Osewalt, of Sunbury, Pa., driver of the vehicle, and his companion, William Wood of Peoria, Ill., escaped injury as the train struck the trailer from the cab.

Leaps to Death to Avoid Bees

Mrs. Ora Barker, 47, of Elmira, N. Y., was instantly killed Sunday afternoon near Towanda when she jumped from a car in which she was riding with her mother and a sister. Her skull was fractured. The women were on their way to a picnic when the car ran into a swarm of bees on the highway near Guillett. As the swarm struck the windshield some of the bees entered the car and Mrs. Barker opened the door and jumped before the machine could be stopped. The others were not injured.
