

OBITUARY

J. NEWTON HOOVER
 J. Newton Hoover, father of Mrs. Clair Stern of State College, died early Friday morning, June 20, 1941, at the Altoona Hospital, in his seventy-first year. A resident of Piney Creek, Blair county, Mr. Hoover was the first fire warden appointed for the Pine Creek district and served in that capacity for 12 years. Surviving are nine children and five brothers and sisters.

MISS SARAH W. VALENTINE.
 Miss Sarah W. Valentine, native of Bellefonte and member of one of the community's most prominent early families, died at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, July 19, 1941, at her home in Haverford, after a long illness with a complication of diseases. Miss Valentine was a cousin of Mrs. George R. Meek, Miss Louisa Valentine, and George and Robert Valentine, all of Bellefonte. She was a daughter of George and Emily Jacobs Valentine and was born at the Forge House, south of Bellefonte. When she was 13 years of age her father built the house on North Allegheny Street which is now the Widdowson Funeral Home. The family resided there for many years before moving to Ruxton, a suburb of Baltimore, Maryland. Some time later they moved to Chestnut Hill. After the death of her cousins, Anna and Carolyn Valentine, of Burnham Place, Bellefonte, Miss Valentine and her sister, Miss Mary D. Valentine for three years resided at Burnham Place, now the home of the William P. Sieg family. She and her sister traveled extensively. The only survivor in the immediate family is the sister. The remains were brought to Bellefonte and funeral services were held at the Widdowson Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in the Friends' cemetery, Bellefonte.

GEORGE H. JOHNSTONBAUGH
 Following a week's illness with a streptococcal infection, George Harold Johnstonbaugh, prominent Mill Hill business man, died early Saturday morning at the Lock Haven Hospital. Born in Bethlehem, Pa., Mr. Johnstonbaugh had been a resident of Mill Hill since 1918 where for the past 18 years he operated a milk products establishment on Beech Creek avenue. He was a member of the Knights of the Golden Eagle lodge, and of Woodward Grange, served on the Mill Hill borough council for eight years, four of which he acted as president; and at the time of his death was chairman of the Mill Hill Boy Scout troop committee. Surviving are his wife and the following sons and daughters: Leonard, Joseph, John, Kay, at home; and Mrs. William Welch, Lock Haven; also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Johnstonbaugh, Nittany Road; and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Lorna Packer, Beech Creek; Mrs. Samuel Schabeca, Millheim; Mrs. Clarence Kistinger, Williamsport; Miss Meda Johnstonbaugh, Philadelphia; Mrs. Russell McGill, Mrs. Jacob Fox and Nelson Johnstonbaugh, Mill Hill. Services were held at the late residence Monday at 2 p. m. in charge of the Rev. John S. Lonsinger. Burial was made at Cedar Hill cemetery.

CURTIS E. BECHDEL
 Curtis E. Bechdel, 70, of Howard, R. D., died Saturday morning, June 21, 1941, at the Lock Haven Hospital following an illness with complications. A retired farmer, Mr. Bechdel had lived at the Bechdel homestead until his retirement about ten years ago. He was born at Blanchard. He is survived by four sons, William J. and Harry, Blanchard; John, of Ranerma, O., and Frank, of Howard, R. D.; one daughter, Miss Florence, of Williamsport, and Miss Edith, of DuBois; a brother, Harris, of Danville, and four grandchildren. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church, Blanchard, Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Ralph Davie. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

SHIRLEY LOU ROAN
 Shirley Lou Roan, daughter of Jerry and Margaret Kline Roan, died at the home of her parents in Coleville early Friday morning, June 20, 1941, of complications after a nine weeks' illness. The child was born near Coleville on January 23, 1924, hence was aged 7 years, 4 months and 27 days. Surviving are her parents and these brothers and sisters, Mary, Joan, William, and Jerry, Jr., all at home. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Pilgrim Holiness church, Coleville, with the pastor, the Rev. J. A. Byrd officiating. Interment was made in the Meyers cemetery, Buffalo Run Valley.

CLAYTON A. BRICKLEY.
 Clayton Arthur Brickley, 64, died at the Lock Haven Hospital shortly after midnight Saturday morning after an illness of two years. Born at Romola, Mr. Brickley had resided in Clinton county all his life, and farmed for 13 years at Abderea before moving to Mill Hill area three months ago. He was a member of the Church of Christ and of the Knights of the Golden Eagle lodge. Surviving are his wife, Jennie, five sons and two daughters, Edgar, Richard and Doyle, Mill Hill; Charles and Mrs. Bud Poorman, of Lock Haven; and Miss Viola, at home; by a brother and sister, Edgar Brickley of Baraboo, Wis., and Mrs. James McCloskey, of Avis; and by 11 grandchildren. Funeral services were held at the late residence Wednesday at 3 p. m. in charge of the Rev. William Verner Nelson and the Rev. William M. Long of Howard. Burial was made at Romola.

Blanchard Man Gets Year In Jail

 as to what action would be taken at that time.
 Story of the Trial
 The only defense offered was the testimony of five character witnesses, all residents of Blanchard and vicinity, who stated they had known Kunes since his boyhood and young manhood.
 The defendant did not take the stand. The only time he was called upon to testify during the entire trial thus far was during the testimony of Laubscher, the first Commonwealth witness.
 Defense Attorney Lipes asked the two to stand side by side so that the jury could see the difference in size. Laubscher is 6 feet 3 inches tall and at the time of the stabbing weighed 165 pounds. He has lost a little weight since then. Kunes, a middle-aged man, is of slight build and is 8 inches shorter.
 The testimony of Laubscher and the other Commonwealth witnesses did not differ from that given at the hearing before Alderman T. Mark Brungard who held Kunes for court.
 According to the stories of Laubscher and five other young men who were at the hotel at the time of the argument—Floyd McCloskey and Jack Gundlach, of Beech Creek; Samuel Haines, of Mill Hill, R. D.; Leonard Holter, and Duane Strouse, of Blanchard—the victim of the stabbing was dancing a square dance inside the hotel when Floyd Kunes, a mute and a brother of Dean, started to swing Laubscher around in the dance. When they let go, Floyd Kunes struck his head against a door frame as he fell to the floor, apparently unconscious.
 He was carried to the porch of the hotel where he was revived. There was testimony to show that Laubscher wanted to call a doctor and take Floyd to a hospital. When Dean Kunes arrived on the porch, according to the witnesses, some one pointed out Laubscher as the man "who knocked out your brother," giving rise to an argument during which Kunes was alleged to have called Laubscher names.
 Witnesses Saw Knife
 Laubscher, the testimony revealed, finally warned Kunes if he called him another epithet, he would "let him have it." Kunes did, and Laubscher hit him.
 Two of the men, Gundlach and Holter, testified they saw the open blade of a knife in Kunes' hand some minutes before the stabbing.

NYA Plans Open House

 He further pointed out that the Open House demonstration will serve to illustrate that the NYA, the public schools, and industry are cooperating closely so as to meet the urgent needs of the expanding industrial defense program regarding semi-skilled and skilled labor.
 The local NYA head, Mr. Scott has indicated that several of the local projects will be open to the public. He explained that final plans for the anniversary affair are now being completed and will be announced soon.

MINER INJURED, WPA WORKER TAKEN SICK

A drifting miner, injured in the Grassflat mine of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corp., and an Osceola Mills resident, who became ill, on the three-lane WPA road project near Osceola Mills, were rushed to the Phillipsburg State hospital Friday for treatment.

Edward Polmar, 58, the miner, had his right arm fractured above the elbow in a rock fall at the mine.
 Peter Marko, the WPA worker, became ill while he was at work on the project. He was taken to the Phillipsburg hospital where it was stated he had a severe heart attack.

Announce Winners In FFA Contests

Centre-Clearfield High School Students Rank High in Competition

Twenty-four vocational agriculture students from high schools in Centre and Clearfield counties took part in the contests in connection with the 12th annual Future Farmers of America gathering held at State College early last week.
 Competition in judging livestock, farm mechanics, plant diseases, feed identification and other contests were held. Winners of the groups from the two counties and their places among the 1,000 from all parts of the state who took part were announced by W. J. Tucker, Pleasant Gap, vocational agriculture supervisor.

The winners, with the place in the two-county group first and the place among all contestants in parenthesis, are as follows:
 Livestock, 244 contestants; Clair Williams, Clearfield, first, (45); Frank Homan, Harris township, second, (55); Guy Fiedler, East Penns Valley, third, (66). Others who competed are Glenn Wolf, Gregg township; Samuel Houbec, Bellefonte; Glenn Orndorf, East Penns Valley; Fred Evans, Clearfield; Paul Stitzer, Walker township.
 Potatoes, 165 contestants; Sam Houbec, Bellefonte, first, (54); Oscar Dunkle, Walker township, second, (60); Fred Evans, Clearfield, third, (105). Other competitors were Howard Hudson, Clearfield, and Dean Zettle, Gregg township.
 Plant diseases, 82 contestants; Carl Stitzer, Walker township, first, (13); Paul Stitzer, Walker township, second, (42).
 Dairy cattle, 268 contestants; Oscar Dunkle, Walker township, first, (31); Fred Wilson, Walker township, second, (118); Budd Cori, Bellefonte, third, (177). Other competitors were Ervin Eisenhauer, Bellefonte; Melvin Millron, Phillipsburg; William Turner, Phillipsburg; Carl Stitzer, Walker township; Dean Wert, Harris township.
 Corn contest, 165 contestants; Dean Wert, Harris township, first, (3); Budd Cori, Bellefonte, second, (58); Melvin Millron, Phillipsburg, third, (113). Others were William Turner, Phillipsburg, and Clair Williams, Clearfield.
 Poultry judging, 238 contestants; Blair Hurley, Clearfield, first, (10); R. Pifer, Clearfield, second, (12); Harry Bailey, Harris township, third, (27). Others were William Thurston, Clearfield; David Shroy, Bellefonte; Fred Miller, Bellefonte; Howard Hudson, Clearfield; Dean Zettle, Gregg township; Blair Hurley, Clearfield; R. Pifer, Clearfield.
 Feed identification, 149 contestants; William Thurston, Clearfield, first, (15); Blair Hurley and R. Pifer, Clearfield, tied for second; their state-wide score, 30.

NYA STUDENT CENTER AT COLLEGE DEDICATED

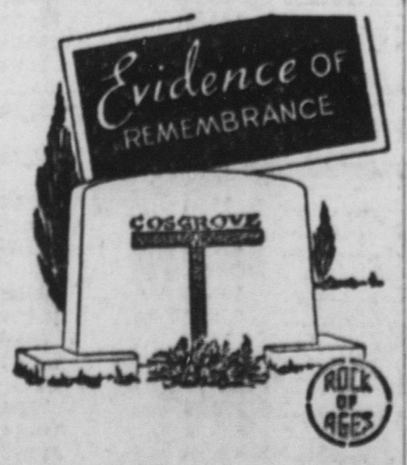

The building and camp site of the National Youth Administration student center at the Pennsylvania State College were formally dedicated on June 12. This student center was opened in March, 1939, and the five cottages and their furnishings have all been constructed by the 250 boys who have attended the center.
 Dr. S. W. Fletcher, dean of the School of Agriculture, represented the College at the dedicatory ceremonies, and Professor W. V. Dennis, chairman of the committee on registration at the center, represented the School of Agriculture. Walter S. Cowing, former state NYA administrator, Harrisburg, made the chief address.
 Boys spend six months at the center, alternating week by week in study and in work of building and operating the establishment and practical farm work directed by the School of Agriculture. These boys are not able to attend school without financial assistance, but some have made such creditable records that they have entered the two and four-year agricultural courses at the College.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

For the Dog.
 It is a good idea during the hot weather to keep a lump of sulphur in the dog's drinking water. It will cool the blood of the puppy and help keep him in good condition through the summer.
Moth Prevention
 Blotting paper saturated with kerosene and placed in the drawers and closets where clothes are kept, is a fine moth preventive. The furs can be treated by sprinkling them with pepper. This does not leave an unpleasant odor and can easily be shaken out.
To Make Mucilage
 A good mucilage can be made by mixing equal parts of gum arabic and tragacanth. Dissolve in hot water to the required consistency.
Stains on Concrete
 Stubborn stains on concrete can often be removed by rubbing them with a hot solution of 4 ounces of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of water, to which may be added 4 ounces of washing soda. After scrubbing, rinse thoroughly with clean water.
Searched Linens
 When linen has been scorched, cut an onion in half and rub the scorched parts well with this; then soak in cold water, and usually the scorched spot will disappear.
Enameling Furniture
 Before enameling a piece of furniture, go over it with sandpaper. Then clean with naphtha. Allow five minutes for drying, and then proceed with the enameling.
Removing Old Wall Paper
 To remove old wall paper, put a heaping tablespoonful of salt-peter into each gallon of hot water, and apply liberally with a brush. Keep the water hot and after a few applications, the paper can be pulled from the wall very easily.
Care of Chamolis
 After having used the chamolis, wash it carefully in warm soapy water; then press carefully on a flat surface to dry. Do not hang it in the air or place on the radiator, as this will make the skin hard and dry.
Cooking Macaroni
 Cook macaroni in quickly boiling water for twenty minutes. Then drain and rinse well with cold water, and the macaroni will not be sticky nor starchy.
Fresher Sponges
 To purify and whiten a sponge, soak it in milk and rinse thoroughly in warm water to which a little carbolic acid has been added. This will make it look like new.
Ice Cream Sauce
 A delicious sauce to spread over vanilla ice cream is chocolate covered peppermint candies, melted in a double boiler.

POLICEMEN NEVER LATE OR ABSENT FROM CLASSES

The professor's dream—a class that boasted a perfect attendance record and had no member tardy during its entire course—recently completed its work at the Pennsylvania State College.
 The model students were 23 policemen from 11 Pennsylvania cities who attended the fifth annual Traffic Officers training school sponsored by the College extension services.
 Personally, we like the United States of America very much and prefer to live as an American citizen, but if the day comes that sees Adolf Hitler or some of his American stooges controlling the destinies of this Republic, it will be the time for us to move on and believe us, we will move.

To give visual and fitting expression to your love and regard, the medium and the form must be chosen with care. Comforting assurance of a duty well performed will be yours if you choose a genuine Rock of Ages Memorial to stand as your record for the years to come.

1941 Highway Map To be Distributed

Many Changes and Improvements Made for Benefit of Motorists

Displaying a picture of Betsy Ross, patriotic Philadelphian who made the first Stars and Stripes for the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, the 1941 official Pennsylvania road map of the Department of Highways is being distributed. The color of the map is shown in color.
 Betsy Ross is shown sitting on a colonial judder-back chair sewing a star on the first flag of the United States made at the request of General Washington.
 Numerous changes and improvements for the benefit of the motorists have been made in the 1941 issue of the tourist map. In addition many of the old features that have proved popular have been retained.

The map contains the alphabetical indexing of the principal cities and towns. It also has an outline map showing distance between points on the more important routes. "Rules of the Road" again are included in the map in addition to revised traffic sign symbols.
 There are maps of 28 cities and also one for Gettysburg. One new feature is a drawing showing visitors to the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation the names of roads through the camp and the location of the various units.
 In the map showing the State Highway routes through Harrisburg there is a new feature, included in this year's map. It is an enlargement of the capitol group of buildings in relation to their location with the streets of the city. Each building is identified for those persons consulting the map.
 The mileage between towns and cities on the main highways of the system also are shown.
 Highways wide enough to accommodate three or more lanes of traffic also are included in the map. This was done two years ago. The first time that any highway department put this information on a tourist map.
 The 1941 map extends this feature to include extra wide highways on important routes in adjoining states.
 Perhaps one of the most important changes on the new map is the relocation or extension of numerous traffic route numbers. Some of these changes in route designations will not become effective until contracts now in the course of completion are finished. In other instances marked traffic routes have been extended or changed.

FARM CALENDAR
 Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture
Maintain Egg Quality—Proper care of eggs to maintain quality demands low temperature and high humidity in the storage room, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Ventilation also is essential, particularly in the summer, to prevent formation of molds. Best results are obtained with a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit; and a relative humidity of 7 to 80 per cent.
Cultivate Vegetables—Early cultivation, very close to the plants, followed often by later cultivation to prevent weed growth, will eliminate the necessity of expensive hand hoeing. Vegetable gardening specialists of the Pennsylvania State College declare that shallow cultivation always is a safe rule to follow to save roots.
Renew Strawberry Patch—With poorer than usual stands in the new strawberry plantings because of dry weather, it may be advisable to renew the old bed for another year of production. Complete details are found in Circular 181, "Growing Strawberries in Pennsylvania," which you can obtain from the Agricultural Publications Office, State College, Pa.
Control Chicken Pests—Chickens will be more comfortable and efficient if lice and mites are controlled, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Ask your county agent for information.
Label Gladioli—Labels on the gladioli will help you to know your varieties and check on the results, remind floriculturists of the Pennsylvania State College.
Grow Snap Beans—Giant, Stringless Greenpod is a high-yielding round-podded variety of snap bean. Several plantings can be made for a supply from early July to October, say Penn State gardeners.

GARDEN DEMONSTRATION MEETINGS SCHEDULED

Vegetable garden problems will be the subject for discussion at meetings to be held in demonstration gardens in a number of different communities on June 26 and 27. R. C. Blaney, Agricultural Extension Vegetable Specialist from State College, will be present and will discuss varieties, garden management problems such as fertilization, planting methods, insect con-

THE SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS ARE ARRANGED AS FOLLOWS:

Thursday, June 26, 9:30 A. M. EST, Elmer Swope, Jacksonville.
 Friday, June 27, 9:30 A. M. EST, Mrs. J. C. Matern, Stormstown; 1:30 P. M. EST, Henry Stover, Aaronsburg; 7:00 P. M. EST Paul Thompson, Millheim.
 According to County Agent Blaney, these meetings have been arranged for the benefit of the public and anyone interested is urged to arrange to attend the most convenient meeting.
