The final event of the convention was the National network broadcast of the massed bands, Thursday at 3 p. m. Nearly 1000 players seated in the Niagara Hotel ballroom played "Voice of Niagara March" under direction of John Morrel, the composer. The Banjo Band was seated near the microphone for this number and Charles Smith, Bellefonte's ace drummer, handled the percussion instruments for the entire massed band.

Bellefonte was the first of the bands mentioned by the announcer, who told of the colorful uniforms of the large band from Bellefonte, under direction of V. H. Pifer.

Between playing events band members enjoyed seeing the falls a trip to Canada for a view of colored lights on the falls, a trip through shredded wheat plant, grand ball at hotel and other activities.

The trip was made via train and was paid for by the band treasury through funds earned in concerts, parades, and similar functions.

Band members and parents were delighted upon arriving at their hotel in Niagara Falls, to find waiting for them a telegram from the president of the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce, congratulating the band on its venture and wishing them success.

MOTORISTS ADVISED HOW TO CONSERVE GASOLINE

To the motorist who would conserve fuel for national defense and get a longer run for his gasoline dollar William F. Lowe, secretary of the National Gasoline Association, offers these suggestions:

Have the motor "tuned" often, at least every 5,000 miles. An improper gasoline mixture alone can cause a 10 per cent waste. Set the spark two degrees below the motor's faint knocking point. There is an extremely slight power loss but a gallon of gasoline stretches farther.

Clean and adjust spark plugs frequently. A fine flecter found that cleaning and adjusting them every 1,000 miles cut his fuel bill 10 per cent.

Avoid "jack rabbit" starts and "racing pickups" in second gear. The engine can't burn all the gasoline it's getting.

Watch tire pressures. A low tire offers more resistance to pulling. Properly inflated tires also wear longer.

Park in the shade. Gasoline vaporizes easily and a surprising amount of gasoline will evaporate through the tiny air hole of the gas tank cap during hot weather.

Keep the battery well charged for quick starts. The fuel pump is pumping gasoline away during those slow, grinding starts before the engine fires. Avoid unnecessary chok-

Clean the air filter often. When it's dirty and clogged the carburetor may not get enough air, the gasoline mixture gets too rich and mileage falls.

Finally, drive at moderate speeds. It takes a thin motor gasoline to go a mile at 60 miles an hour than at 40.

NEW DEPARTMENT HEAD NAMED AT PENN STATE

Dr. Glenn W. Hedlund, at present a member of the Cornell University faculty, was recently named head of the department of agricultural economics at the Pennsylvania State College.

Dr. Hedlund will take up his new duties in the fall. He will replace Dr. Fred L. Linsinger, who will devote his full time to duties as vice-dean of the School of Agriculture and vice-director of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new department head graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1930 and received his doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell in 1936. He has been a member of the teaching staff at Cornell since September, 1930.

From August, 1936, to July, 1937, Dr. Hedlund served as professor of agricultural economics at the University of Nanking, China. In 1939 he served as a member of an agricultural investigating committee of three for the government of Bermuda.

Dr. Hedlund is a member of the American Farm Economics Association, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, and Alpha Zeta.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

INSATIABLE, incapable of being satisfied or appeased. "Our mind, possessed by nature an insatiable desire to know the truth."—Cicero.

EPHEMERAL; beginning and ending in a day, third e as in her, a as in at, accent second syllable. "Some synics claim that love is ephemeral."

ABRIDGE; to make shorter; diminish. "I see that time divided is never long, and that regularity abridges all things."—Stevens.

CONVERSANT; intimately acquainted; familiar. "Radic makes it possible for everyone to be conversant with current events."

ABSTINENCE; voluntary forbearance. "Abstinence is whereby a man refrains from anything which he may lawfully take."—Elyot.

CHASTISEMENT; act of punishing. "Mental chastisement is often more severe than physical."

The band in the past has been most generous in turning out free of charge for various town events, and was happy to do so. But we shouldn't overlook the important fact that even though all of us have been generous in helping the organization, it takes money to keep it going. New music must be purchased, uniforms must be cleaned after parades, and there are many other expenses.

The band has been surprisingly active. The writer was amazed in looking over the past record to be reminded of the many towns visited and to see a listing of the many engagements played. As long as the Bellefonte High School Band is in existence and as long as it maintains its present quality, it will be one of the best advertisements for Bellefonte that can be obtained.

"A BHS. ROOTER."

"Strongest Man" Collapses

Warren L. Travis, sixty-six, who for 20 years went under the circus billing as the "world's strongest man," is dead. He collapsed and died early Sunday at the conclusion of his regular weight-lifting show at Coney Island, N. Y.

B. H. S. Band To Accompany Elks completed Friday night at a committee meeting held at the home of chairman E. E. Widdowson, on North Allegheny street. Present at the session were T. S. Guyer, Albert Smith, Harold Wion, Mrs. Harrison G. Kline, and Mrs. Edward Weaver.

The Bellefonte High School Band has won a total of about $250 in prize money in parades in the past two years. Since uniforms were purchased three years ago, the band has participated in 69 parades, 8 picnics at Hecla Park, 14 festivals, and has given 8 public concerts.

Prior to three years ago the band was much smaller and devoted its public appearances entirely to football games, other athletic events and strictly school functions, but since then the band has paraded in Washington, Lebanon, Bethlehem, Milton, South Williamsport, Tyrone, Lock Haven, Centre Hall, Pleasant Gap, Milesburg, State College, Jacksonsville and Houtzdale. Most of its appearances now are for public purposes, although the band plays for many school activities, including all home games, and some games out of town.

During the past three years the band has lost 38 members by graduation. It began with 36 uniformed members and in recent months the playing personnel has numbered close to 70.

When the band was heavily in debt through the purchase of uniforms, many local lodges, organizations and individuals contributed generously to the uniform fund. Since then the band has augmented its receipts from commercial appearances by notices obtained through festivals, card parties, bake sales and aid given by the Band Auxiliary.

Major operating expenses of the band include cost of cleaning uniforms, purchase of music and other items, but for the last two years the organization has been self-supporting.

The band has consistently followed a policy of turning out free of charge for various town events—a policy which has done much toward keeping the organization at a high peak of popularity among the public.

Band members, directors and managers give freely and unstintingly of their time and effort to keep the band intact as one of the community's leading musical organizations, and friends of the band point out that the least the townspeople can do is to give as generously of their financial support as they are able. The advertising value of the band to Bellefonte cannot be overestimated, and trips such as those made in recent months a long way toward keeping this community in the public eye.

MANY GARDEN TASKS TO BE DONE DURING JULY

There are many tasks to be done in the flower garden during July, reminds County Agent E. C. Blaney.

Flowers border and areas where flowers are grown for cut flowers should be cultivated frequently. A wheel hoe, such as is used in the vegetable garden, can be used to advantage. If flowers which are planted for cut flower purposes have been planted in long, narrow beds parallel to the rows of vegetable plants, it is comparatively easy to do the cultivating at the same time as the vegetables are cultivated.

Sucker growth should be removed from the base of dahlias. If dahlias have not been staked this must be done at once.

Climbing roses do best if the old wood is removed as soon as they have finished blooming. This pruning practice applies to all climbing roses with the exception of Dr. Van Fleet.

Fresh seeds of digitalis (Fox Glove) and campanulas should be sown now. If seed has been collected of columbines, this likewise can be sown.

Bulbs for fall planting can be ordered from the nearest reliable seed house.

Be sure to keep blooms cut from annuals with the exception of those which are permitted to go to seed. As soon as the seed has ripened on collected plants this seed should be collected and stored in small envelopes properly marked.

Delphinium which has bloomed should be cut back to the ground so that the new growth developing at the base will have an opportunity to produce late summer and early fall blooms.

The latter part of July will be a good time to divide Bearded and Japanese irises.

New as well as old varieties of chrysanthemums should be pinched back at this time to make them compact.

Key insects and diseases under control. Suggestions relative to control measures can be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office in Bellefonte.

BANKERS OUTING AT BEDFORD SPRINGS HOTEL

Group 6, Pennsylvania Bankers' Association will hold its third annual social meeting and golf tournament on Saturday, July 26, at the Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford, Pa.

Golf, bridge for ladies, swimming, lawn tennis and other sports will be available. A dinner is to be served at 7:30 p. m. (DST). Members of the Association are urged to make reservations immediately with Don Westover, First National Bank, Hastings.

Youth Critically Injured

Frank Weltosh, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weltosh of Philadelphia, is reported to be in a critical condition at the Phillipsburg State Hospital, as the result of injuries received when the bicycle he was riding collided with a truck. The accident occurred Tuesday when he ran head-on into a truck driven by Albert States of Rossiter. The truck driver was accompanied by his wife and daughter and was said to be hauling a load of cattle to Centre Hall.
