Mrs. John Derstine died at her home on Lamb Street on Sunday last. Her age was 55 years; she leaves a husband, four daughters and three sons. The funeral occurred on Tuesday morning.

Prothonotary L. A. Schaeffer built a new stable on his lot this summer and had it about completed when a bolt of lightning struck the gable end of it last Thursday and did considerable damage.

The citizens of Bellefonte want the electric street lights on all night. No one has said anything about paying more for it, as we are actupaying too much even if we had light all night. Let the borough council study this light ques-

It stirred up a row at our last Council meeting and is the topic of general discussion. A Bellefonte cow now has more privileges than any citizen. No more cows on our streets, please.

Mr. Joseph Rishell, a highly respected citizen living near Spring Mills, died on Tuesday night of last week, of dropsy after an illness of over a year. He was a farmer by occupation until a short time ago when on account of delicate health he moved from the farm to the residence where he died. He was well up in years and a member of the Lutheran church.

Robert Hunter, clerk of the Commissioners' Board, will be away with Company B, one week, playing soldier at Arnold's station. His place will be filled in his absence by his brother, Dorsey Hunter. The latter gentleman was recently chosen principal of the Gettysburg publie schools for the coming year. He Saturday was confronted with a will leave for that place about the first of next month. In the big flood of June 1st, 1889, the store of T. J. Smull at Mackeyville, Clinton Co., was washed away and with it the fourteen hundred pound safe and its contents. Tuesday the safe was found about a quarter of a mile from where it had been, underneath the water from June 1st. 1889, until July 28, 1891. It was, however of no value, as the door was broken off and the contents gone.

On Tuesday evening delegates of the various fire departments met at the Logan House to select fire officers for the ensuing year. It resulted as follows: A. S. Garman, chief of the department; H. P. Harris, first assistant; James Stott, second assistant. The new officers are all good men and if the different organizations work according to the borough ordinance, it will be a benefit in every case of fire.
