

Echoes From the Past

Fifty Years Ago

The Knights of the Golden Eagle, of Bellefonte, leave this morning in full force to attend the convention of that order in Huntingdon. The Pleasant Gap band accompanied them to make things merry.

J. S. Reed, on the 3rd inst., caught in Bald Eagle Creek, near Julian, a pike that measured two feet and four inches in length. On the same day he caught eleven other pike, ten of which averaged 18 inches in length.

Edward S. Bittmiller, of Williamsport, inspector for the telephone company, died at his home last week. The deceased was formerly employed at this place and married Mrs. George Cook, widow, who with one child survives him.

We are under obligations to Mr. William T. Hillibish, secretary of the local Steam Engine Company for a copy of the proceedings of the 11th. Annual Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania, held at Chester last September.

There seems to be considerable discussion in Bellefonte at present in regard to the erection of a stand pipe in our present reservoir, for the purpose of forcing the water upon some of the higher points of town. A great many think it would be more advisable to erect the stand pipe on Curtin Street, which would assure a constant supply in that part of town. There appear to be good reasons for erecting one at the latter place. The water committee should fully consider this matter before going ahead. It costs money to build stand pipes and the bore taxes are heavy enough.

Mr. Olie Meek, now engaged in the drug business, at Washington, D. C., was in Bellefonte this week taking a short vacation. He is looking quite well. Mrs. W. H. Yearick and Mr. Samuel Faust, the carriage builder, both of Centre Mills, were in town on Monday with a fine lot of new buggies. The railroad company has a work train at Centre Hall this week, building a large siding for the Patrons picnic grounds. Mr. Thomas Mitchell is acting as commissioner for this week, while Corp. Robert Hunter is doing the elegant at camp. Mr. C. M. Bower, Esq., and family are spending this week visiting friends in Pennsylvania.

Rev. Robert H. Kline, of Allentown, delivered an able sermon in the Episcopal church last Sunday morning, and in the afternoon delivered an address at the Y. M. C. A. They say that W. F. Reynolds will have about 25,000 bushels of wheat from his farms in this section. That will be enough to keep hunger from his door until next harvest, with a little to spare for the benefit of the poor. The state committee appointed to select a location for the new State Asylum will visit Bellefonte soon, likely next week. Dr. Curwin was pleased with one location seen when here and it may be the final selection. Garman's Opera House is undergoing renovation inside and outside. Williams, the painter, has his men at work on the outside giving it several coats of cream-white paint, after which it will be nicely lettered.

Twenty Years Ago

John P. Shafer, an official at Rockview penitentiary, suffered an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, compelling him to return to his home in Lock Haven to recuperate.

The Bellefonte Match Factory was being equipped on the automatic fire extinguishing system. The extinguishers was located throughout the plant and were set to spray water when temperatures reached 155 degrees.

The Rev. Edward M. Frear, of Honesdale, who had been rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church at State College, from 1911 to 1917, had been reappointed to that office to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. George E. Zachary.

The small department store at Hecla Park, owned and operated by Charles Workman, was broken into Saturday night and robbed of two revolvers and several other small articles. The cash drawer was broken open, but Mr. Workman had taken the cash with him when he closed for the day. Police were investigating.

While enroute to the Business Men's Picnic at Hecla, County Auditor Herbert H. Stover and family of Smulton, had a narrow escape from burning. The muffler of the car was defective and while the machine was passing through Little Sugar Valley, the floor of the car broke into flames. Several buckets of water from a nearby stream were required in extinguishing the blaze which did little damage.

The Crider Lumber Company yard the foot of Lamb Street was purchased by the Bellefonte Lumber Company. Blanchard was to lose two of his school teachers. Prof. Shuman S. Williams, who had been principal of the Blanchard schools and teacher of the Liberty district high school for six years, had accepted a post in the State College High School. Fred Hunter, who taught the grammar school, had accepted a post at Oriskany.

Lee Steamer in State College who lost a leg in the World War, nearly lost his left hand and arm as a result of blood poisoning. While operating a lathe in the Engineering building at State College his hand was caught and badly mangled in the machinery. Several days later blood poisoning developed and he was brought to the Bellefonte Hospital, where for several days his condition was so serious that it was feared that the arm would have to be amputated.

Charles Nighthart, son of John Nighthart, of Bellefonte, was seriously injured and Oscar Ostrander of Bellefonte, escaped injury when the car with they were returning from Clarence upset and pinned them underneath. The men had borrowed a Ford touring car from Rolfe Hickoff, of Bellefonte, to make the trip. On the return trip between Snow Shoe and Clarence the right front tire blew out, causing the car to swerve off the road and strike a culvert. The machine then upset. Some time elapsed before aid arrived, and after the men were treated in the offices of a Snow Shoe physician they were brought to the Hospital in the John Confer funeral car. Nighthart had severe head injuries and was unconscious until the following day. Ostrander was only slightly injured.

On account of rain the M. E. choir was compelled to hold its service in the parlors of the Howard, published. The passenger train, en route from Lock Haven to Tyrone struck a cow and the engine and tender were derailed. The engine ran over an embankment and toppled over, killing Frank Wood, the engineer. William Spyrker, fireman and "George" Waite, express agent at Lock Haven, also were on the engine. Since the article was published several weeks ago we learn that "George" Waite is Al Waite who is now retired and living in Lock Haven. He is about 86 years old and is in good health. In the accident he had a coronary age. Mr. Waite had the flesh on one side of his face, from the scalp down, torn back and he was otherwise injured. The scars left on his face are plainly visible today.

On Tuesday of last week an accident occurred on the railroad, near Ooburn, in which one man was so badly injured that death relieved him of his suffering a short time later. John Gray, section boss, with his crew of men started from the E. C. Finkle crossing, on a hand car, and had gone only a short distance when by some accident or slipping of the cogs of the car, the crank caught B. F. Weiser, one of the crew, and hurled him from the car to the track. He struck the track with a high velocity and rolled from the track down a high embankment over the rocks. When he was picked up he was unconscious, but regained consciousness in a few minutes. He lived only a short time after his arrival home, death relieving him of his sufferings. Mr. Weiser was married and was the father of several children.

Sunday School Lesson

PETER ENCOURAGES SUFFERING CHRISTIANS

International Sunday School Lesson for August 17, 1941.

GOLDEN TEXT: "If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf."—1 Peter 4:16.

(Lesson Text: 1 Peter 4:12-19; 5:6-11)

Before placing a new product on the market, a wise manufacturer submits that product to all kinds of tests. Before a new automobile model is put on sale, it is subjected to tests on a proving ground. It is driven under all circumstances which an automobile is likely to meet during the life of the car—over rough roads, in rain, in mud, up hill, down hill and at all speeds from very slow to the fastest speed possible.

Any new automobile, if it is any good at all, can withstand ordinary usage, if properly driven and carefully taken care of. That is to be expected. However, the real test comes when it has to meet and overcome unusual circumstances. How it performs under such circumstances definitely determines its quality—inferior or superior.

The same is true of the Christian life. It is as if every Christian when he goes into the world, when every one about us is interested, as we are, and when it suits our convenience to do the things required of us. But the real test of our Christianity—our love for and faith in Jesus Christ—comes when trials come, when we are ridiculed by our associates for standing for our principles, and when it requires real fortitude to be faithful.

Peter, in writing to the Jews who had been scattered all over Asia Minor because of the persecution of the believers in Palestine, and who were being persecuted because they were Christians, urged them not to be surprised if they had to suffer hardship. Jesus himself had predicted that they would suffer so.

Matthew 5:11-12; John 16:33. Peter reminded the sufferers that through their suffering, they would be better able to understand and appreciate the suffering which Christ had undergone.
