Light From Man's Face Turned Into Electricity

One form of electron tube does from a man's face, change it into a image of a face.

Suppose the image were that of a germ, and that it were magnified millions of times. Wouldn't that give us the most powerful of microscopes? Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, as we know it today, thinks so, and has built an experimental instrument which, when it is perfected, will enable science to penetrate still more deeply into the unknown of the infinitely small.

The potentialities of such an invention surpass prediction. For example, there are about 20 diseases caused by viruses-among them infantile paralysis, smallpox, chickenpox, the common cold, typhus, rabies, measles, mumps and encephalitis (the so-called sleeping sickness). What are these viruses? Nobody knows. If they are germs that lie beyond the microscope, as some believe, the electron microscope should reveal them.

When the electron microscope is perfected-a matter of 10 years or so-prepare yourself for another Pasteur. In some university laboratory, in some hospital, he may be already at work, a youngster of 25, doing the best that he can with such magnifying lenses as the most skillful experts can produce. What a bound medicine will make when he studies the ultramicroscopic with electron tubes!

Fifty-Three Dam Workers Jury Returns Discover Gold Out West

Fifty-three men working on the Ruck-a-Chucky dam are prospective millionaires. The structure is on the American river, about eight miles north of Auburn, Calif., and Robert Shiroda of Reno, who was on the ground, tells how Dame Fortune flirted with the workers.

"Several weeks ago one of the contractors was building a road across a hill in the vicinity with a tractor and shovel when he cut through a ledge without being conscious of it. A passerby soon after picked up a piece of quartz that contained about half its weight in gold. The act was witnessed by others and soon there was a scramble. To avoid complications, it was agreed to form an association including all the men working on the

"In a few hours gold to the value of about $5,000 was saved and in four days the men estimated that they were about $20,000 to the good. A miner named Prescott, who had formerly been in Goldfield, Gold Circle and other Nevada camps, was selected as superintendent and as they were being bothered by outsiders taking rich specimens of ore, Prescott ordered that the shovel be used to cover the apex and a tunnel was started on the vein further down the hill.

"Prescott went to the mint in San Francisco to sell some of the wonderful ore and, according to report, he was immediately arrested as a highgrader and was not released until be had been fully identified. Further, it was ascertained that the discovery was on the dam reservation and the matter must be taken up with the interior departmentand what will Mr. Ickes say?"

Butcher Bird Handsome

But Feared by Insects About the size of the robin, with large head, sturdy neck and strong ravish. and somewhat hawk-shaped bill, the northern shrike, or butcher bird, is a handsome and bold fellow, but no favorite with lovers of song birds. It nests in the far north, moving south to our northern states in the fall and returning north in early

The shrike gets its name as a butcher from the habit of spitting its prey upon thorns or the barbs of a wire fence, or wedging them in the crotches of limbs. Having the relatively weak feet of song birds, the shrike kills its prey with his efficient bill, says Nature magazine. Since the English sparrow is a favorite food, the shrike is often seen within the limits of cities. It kills shrews and small rodents, as

With a color scheme of light gray, and black and white wings, with a vermiculated breast and a black blends well with the surroundings.

It is frequently seen around farms where the supply of rodents and English sparrows is likely to be large.

> Walker Twp. Schools to Open According to official announcement the public schools of Walker township will open Tuesday, Sept.

> Dance Around Corpse Typical of certain dances in Celebes is the so-called ma'badong mbating, meaning literally to sing mourning songs for the dead. In this dance men form a circle and, while chanting in solemn chorus words of lament or praise for the deceased, slowly stretch and bend the knees, occasionally making a step sidewise. One hand is laid on the shoulder of the next dancer and the other arm, bent at the elbow, is slowly brought forward and then extending sidewise to the rhythm of the song

This dance is usually executed in front of the house where the corpse is lying and, later, also at the place where the sacrificial bulls are being slaughtered, writes Claire Holt in Asia magazine, for slaughtering of bulls is one of the most important features of all big Toradja celebrations. The higher the rank of the person who died, the greater the number of slaughtered bulls.
