MISS VIRGINIA SOLT HEADS BANJO BAND

Officers for the ensuing year elected by the Bellefonte Banjo Band are: president, Virginia Solt; vice president, Tresa Enrtick; secretary-treasurer, Helen Decker; business manager, Paul Houck; property manager, Lester Reese; parent advisors, William Tarman, Mrs. Pauline Torsell, Roy Baylett, and Mrs. Bert Tigue.

The secretary reported that the band had earned over $500 since the trophy winning trip to Niagara Falls in July, and that $429 remained in the treasury, with all expenses paid. It is estimated that $1500 more will be needed for the proposed trip to Springfield, Mass., next July. According to the band constitution this amount must be raised through band activities, concerts, and parade fees, since money cannot be solicited.

Band members are instructed that they must attend each rehearsal at 6:30 p. m. every Monday.

150 Attend County Supervisors' Meeting

A regular meeting of the Centre County Association of Township Supervisors and Auditors, held Monday at the Court House here was attended by more than 150 township officials and their guests.

Speakers during the morning and afternoon sessions were Herman Reinhold, Lancaster, of the auditor general's office; Thomas V. Hodges, Harrisburg, engineer for the Department of Forests and Waters; H. A. Thompson, Drexel Hill, secretary of the State Supervisors' Association; D. A. Bailey, Clearfield, township engineer for the Highway Department, and Former Sheriff George H. Yarnell, of Mingo.

At noon the supervisors, auditors and their guests attended a roast turkey dinner served in the Methodist church by the ladies of the church. A. R. Houser, of Rockview, secretary-treasurer of the county group, was in charge of the brief program at the church.

15 Attend C. E. Rally at Academy

Fifteen young people from Centre county attended the District Christian Endeavor Convention at the Academy on Friday and Saturday of last week. Christian Endeavors from seven counties gathered to discuss ways of improving their local meetings and the organization in counties that need help.

Officers for the district were elected, among which four were from Centre county, namely: Kathryn Hoffman, secretary; Gilbert Strunk, State College, and Rhoda Sheetz, Milesburg, lookout and extension, and Mrs. Robert Rhodes, Pleasant Gap, recreational superintendent.

Announcement was made at this meeting of Centre county's annual convention to be held at Millheim on November 7 and 8. Definite announcement of speakers has not been made.

Attorney Leaves For Army Duty

Attorney David L. Baird of Philipsburg, well known practicing attorney at the Centre county bar, left last week for active duty with the U. S. Army. Mr. Baird, who holds a first lieutenant's reserve commission, was ordered to report to the Carlisle barracks for assignment to a year's active military duty.

Tylersville Church Centennial

Rev. Arthur E. Yeakey, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Tylersville (shown above) which observed its 100th anniversary over the weekend. (Published by courtesy of the Lock Haven Express.)

The three-day celebration of the 100th anniversary of St. John's Lutheran church at Tylersville began Friday evening when a large crowd attended the homecoming services where former pastors and laymen were the speakers. Feature speaker was Dr. C. D. Russell, pastor of an East Pittsburgh church, the oldest living pastor of the Tylersville church.

Dr. Russell brought greetings along with the following other pastors whose interesting reminiscences recalled many pleasant and humorous memories of former days at the church:

Rev. Fred R. Greninger, Altoona; Rev. A. S. Bierly, Logan; Rev. R. H. Casner, Union Deposit; Rev. I. E. Heckman, Kratzville; Rev. M. R. Smeltz, Pottsgrove, and I. R. Mckley, Stewartstown. Greetings were also read from Rev. C. N. Wolfe, of Reading.

Special musical numbers were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Haasinger and Ted V. Weld, instrumentalists, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watts, vocalists, of Lock Haven.

Community night was observed Saturday at 8 p. m. with special music by the choral groups of the Nittany Valley charge. The speakers were the Rev. T. R. Husler and the Rev. Fred Denbeaux, pastors of local churches, Dr. C. H. Stein, Lock Haven, The Rev. P. J. Keller and the Rev. Dale Kohr, from neighboring Lutheran churches.

Following the Sunday school service Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Dr. M. R. Harshar, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church, spoke at the 10:45 worship service and the choir of the host church sang. The Rev. A. W. Steinfurth, Lutheran pastor at Wilkingsburg, preached at the concluding service Tuesday evening and the quartet from the Lock Haven Male Chorus sang.

The church gathering was in the nature of a joint centennial celebration and homecoming for former residents of Sugar Valley as well as for those who were affiliated with the Tylersville church in former years.

One of the former ministers of the church, St. John's Lutheran, ran across quite by accident an interesting experience. The couple at whose home he stayed during the celebration turned out to be the first couple he married 44 years ago, after becoming an ordained minister. It is Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lytle.

MANY ATTEND RECITAL AT BLANCHARD CHURCH

Carl Coleman, Buffalo staff organist of the Buffalo Broadcasting System, presented a fine recital on the new pipe organ in the Blanchard Church of Christ Monday evening, playing to a capacity audience.

The organ was first used for the worship service Sunday morning, and the church organist, Joseph M. DeHaas, presided at the console.

During this week of services the following organists will play on the new organ: Monday, Mrs. D. Wilson Clark, of Blanchard; Tuesday, Carl Keller, of Lock Haven; Wednesday, Mrs. David Holter, of Howard; and Friday, Miss Clara E. Lucas, of Lock Haven.

Next Sunday evening Miss Virginia Long, of Howard, will play for the dedication service.

The choir of the Methodist church of Weston's Mills, N. Y., 18 in number, attended Monday evening's services in a body. The director of the choir assisted in installing the organ.

POULTRY CONVENTION TO BE HELD AT STATE COLLEGE

Centre County poultrymen will have an opportunity this year to attend the annual State Poultry Convention which is to be held at State College on October 27 to 31. According to information received by Co. Agricultural Agent, R. C. Blaney, the program will be divided into five sections: general poultry course, a breeding school, turkey day, annual meeting of the association, and nutrition school. Outstanding speakers of national reputation from seven different states will appear on the program and an effort is being made to have all branches of the poultry industry represented.

Blaney states that this is an opportunity for Centre County poultrymen to attend any or all sessions and learn the new things in the poultry industry. Copies of the entire program can be secured for any who desire them. These programs will be provided upon application to the Agricultural Extension office, Federal building, Bellefonte, Pa.

Additional Locals

—Mrs. Walter Johnson, of Tyrone, spent yesterday in Bellefonte on a business and pleasure trip and all in town called on friends in this area.

—Mrs. C. D. Casebeer, of West High street, who for the past month or so has been suffering from a severe attack of arthritis, last Thursday was taken by ambulance to the Centre County Hospital to undergo observation and treatment.

—Lawrence Hoover, formerly of Howard, but who for some time has been with cousins at Green Castle, arrived in Bellefonte this week and has taken a room at the Wilbur Baney home on East Curtin street. Mr. Hoover, an son of the late Augustus Hoover, of Bellefonte, spent his boyhood years in this community.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bower, Mrs. Jane Bower and D. H. Shook, all of Elburn, Ill., have been visiting relatives and friends in Centre county for the past three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Bower expect to return home Saturday, while Mr. Shook will remain with relatives here for an indefinite time.

—A new federal defense tax for motion picture theatres, affecting admissions between 10 and 20 cents, went into effect yesterday. A one-cent tax is being levied on tickets between 10 and 15 cents; two cents on those between 15 and 20 cents, thus affecting only children's admissions in Bellefonte and State College. The tax is an extension of that previously put on admission above 20 cents.

—While five reconnaissance planes piloted by Norwegian airmen were circling the Bellefonte airport last Thursday morning preparatory to landing the flight commander, Captain Hansen, opened a hatch to obtain better visibility. As he did so his cap blew off and drifted to earth about two fields east of the airport. Searchers failed to find it before the planes continued their journey. Anyone finding the dark blue military cap is requested to turn it in to the airport, or to the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce offices.

—Completing an eight-weeks' flight surgeon course at the School of Aviation Medicine in Randolph Field, Texas, Lt. Richards H. Hoffman arrived in Bellefonte last weekend for a ten-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Hoffman and his brother, Sheldon A. Hoffman, and family, at their home on North Allegheny street. Lt. Hoffman has been assigned to the Army air base at Windsor Locks, Conn., and expects to leave Bellefonte Saturday to assume his duties at that base.

—The display of old-fashioned baby clothing at the Penock Kiddie Shop, West High street last week, revealed that contrary to popular belief baby clothing worn 100 years ago was neither as long nor as heavy as the clothing worn by infants 40 to 60 years ago. For example, the dress in which the late F. Potts Green, Bellefonte druggist, was garbed as an infant 108 years ago, wasn't as long or as heavy as those worn by infants in the Gay Nineties. The Potts Green baby dress was the oldest in the collection of 46 dresses in the display. The next oldest was a dress worn by the late Mrs. William Trippe as an infant 103 years ago. Mrs. Trippe was the grandmother of Malcolm and Jack Yeager, of Bellefonte. The newest of the old-fashioned dresses in the exhibit was 37 years old. In addition to dresses, a number of caps and stockings bore mute testimony to the burden it must have been to be a baby back in the alleged "good old days."

FALL RENOVATED LAWNS PRODUCE BEST RESULTS

Lawns planted in the fall will be seeded nature's way. The young seedlings have a chance to make a good start before cold weather. They will live over winter and start ahead of the weeds early in the spring. If seeding is delayed until spring, grass and weed seeds start together. However, the weeds grow faster and may choke out the grass.

There are many advantages for fall applications of fertilizer and lime, the roots which will produce next year's crop of grass are growing in this fall and the right soil conditions will result in maximum root growth. Then, there is usually more time to apply fertilizer and lime, these materials will work more deeply into the soil and from a chemical standpoint, they will do more good in cool weather. In addition, summer weeds are no longer growing and the grass gets all of the benefit of the plant food that is applied. Poor, thin, weedy lawns may still be renovated with chemicals during the present fall season. Information on the eradication of dandelions is available in the county extension office. The circular, "Care of the Home Lawn," may also be obtained from the county agent.

TWO DRIVERS JAILED AS RESULT OF CRASH

As an aftermath of a motor accident between Pine Glen and Karthaus about 6 o'clock last Thursday evening, the drivers of both machines were sentenced to spend five days in the county jail.

The men are Joseph Watkins, of Woolrich, and John Davis, of Karthaus.

The Davis car struck the rear of the Watkins truck, causing about $5 damage to the car and none to the truck. Watkins was arrested for driving without a license, and Davis was held for reckless driving. The men were given a hearing before Squire E. T. Haynes, in Snow Shoe, and both pleaded guilty to the charges, investigating Motor Police said.

The Department of Commerce says the need for expansion of productive capacity in many raw material industries is great.

Crude rubber cultivation is the basic economic activity of Liberia, the Department of Commerce reported.

DR. WILBUR E. SAUNDERS

Headmaster of the Peddie School, Hightstown, N. J., will speak at the Father's Day morning chapel service of Pennsylvania State College on Sunday morning, October 5th, and at the Inter-Fraternity pledge dinner of Pennsylvania State College, which will take place at the Nittany Inn hall at 5:45 p. m., the same day.
