Sale Register Carries Ad For Sale Next March

Notice of a public sale to be held next March appears this week in The Centre Democrat. Sale Register leading medium of public sale news in Centre County. Advertisement of spring sale dates as much as six months before the day of sale is not a rare practice among Centre County farmers, particularly among those who have exceptional lines of livestock and farm machinery to be sold. Because the Sale Register is used by auctioneers and farmers throughout the county as a guide to sales, publication of a sale date has the effect of reserving the date for the advertiser. There's no compulsion about it—it's a matter of good business. No one wants to have a sale on the same day that another sale is scheduled in the (Continued on Page Four)

Court Finds Man Improperly Sentenced

Centre County Judge Ivan Walker, of Bellefonte, specially presiding in the Dauphin county courts at Harrisburg during the weekend in the case of Franklin C. Houser, of Bellefonte, ruled that Houser will not have to go back to the penitentiary. In October 1937 Houser was sentenced by former Judge M. Ward Fleming to serve 2 1/2 to 5 years for burglary and 2 1/2 to 5 years for larceny. In a subsequent habeas corpus proceeding in Allegheny county the court cancelled the larceny sentence, and Houser served three years on the other term, being paroled at the end of that time. Picked up, presumably for a parole violation, Houser was about to be returned to prison to serve the remainder of the time, when he claimed that the original sentence was not a proper one. His claim was sustained by Judge Walker, who was assigned by the State Supreme Court to hear the case. Houser will not be released, however, for new charges are said to be pending against him.
