dress was torn off—and there she hung—stark naked. Evidently her sense of humor was not strong enough—or perhaps she was just mad because she was no longer a Good Samaritan—anyway when she was released she went to the police and the members who took part in her expulsion were sentenced to jail for assault and battery.

Emergency Capital—An Akron Ohio representative recently introduced a resolution in the Ohio Legislature asking Congress to establish an emergency national capital "west of the Mississippi and midway between the Rio Grande and Arctic Circle." This would be used in case of a foreign invasion.

Citizenship And Marriage—Before Nome Laage was married she asked her husband whether he was an American citizen. Laage assured her that he was. After the wedding she found out that her husband was not a citizen—and that he was really a Nazi. She sued in New York for annulment of the marriage—and the court granted the annulment on the ground that the husband's lie was a fraud on her and that marriage should not be based on fraud.

Jingle Bells—The Massachusetts law requires that if a person wishes to be drawn on a sled by a horse, there must be at least three bells attached.

Legal Laugh—Lawyer for defendant cross-examining a policeman: "Do you mean to tell us that a man is drunk if he is on his hands and knees in the middle of a highway?"

Policeman: "No sir. But your client was trying to roll up the white line."

HYBRID CORN TESTS TO BE HARVESTED
Hybrid corn has taken an important place on the farms of Centre county this past year, according to County Agent R. C. Blaney. The proper varieties to plant in this section have to be determined by local tests. There are a great many varieties of hybrid corn, all taking a different length season to mature. With this problem in mind, the Extension Service through County Agent R. C. Blaney and cooperators in the county, have put out test plots in order to determine the varieties that would yield best and which are safe to plant in this region.

THE WAR IN EUROPE
Despite a terrific pounding around Moscow and serious losses in the Donets area the Soviet armies continue to fight desperately against the German hordes and the Russian government gives every evidence of a resolute determination to resist the Nazis to the end, regardless of how bitter the battle becomes.

Germany Seeks Precious Oil
With large Soviet forces bottled up and besieged at Leningrad and around Moscow, and with Winter making more difficult the execution of a military campaign in these areas, full German pressure is likely to be applied to Russian forces in the south in an effort to seize the vital oil fields that are necessary to the prolonged fighting that the future promises in the west and around the Mediterranean.

Russians Plan for Long War
News from inside Russia reveals that much machinery is being transferred to safer areas in the east and that there is a steady flow of reinforcements moving westward. The repeated attacks indicate that the Russian armies are still a real fighting force and far from the disorganized state that Berlin reports. Moreover, the Russians continue to plan for a long war and are making their dispositions accordingly.

British Ready for Campaign
The situation is threatening but the British foresaw this development some months ago. Gen. Archibald Wavell has been actively preparing to assist the Russians in just this emergency. Air fields have been constructed and transportation lines prepared. From Iraq, and across Iran, communication facilities have been organized to supply Allied troops defending the Caucasus oil fields. Troops have been gathered and trained in India, Syria and Iraq and air forces, mechanized equipment are either ready or on the way.

Nazis Fall to Crush Red Army
While the loss of territory is not decisive against Russia, the steady retreat of the Red Army has rendered valuable industrial centers and thus handicapped future operations. The exact truth is not known and it may be that the Russians have developed other industrial areas far beyond the information of the outside world. Certainly the Soviets' ability to escape complete military destruction thus far reveals an unexpected industrial capacity, entirely unsuspected before Hitler's sudden attack.

Births Cheap in Clinic
A Chinese mother is required to pay only a registration fee, 10 cents in Chinese currency or one-half cent in American money, to bring her baby into the world at Taiku Hospital, an American Board Mission institution. The hospital was led to open a maternity ward at such a low rate because of the high infant mortality rate in Shansi in 1 in order to educate Chinese mothers in infant care.

$108 Taxi Bill
William T. Reinke, Specialist of the Second Coast Artillery, found himself 350 miles away from camp with only a few hours to make it. When he missed both his train and a boat, he hired a taxi and arrived at 4:30 on time. His record was clear and his pockets empty—the taxi bill was $108.

Plug Catches Tongue
While pulling an extension cord carrying 100 volts of electricity from an overhead socket, the plug prongs caught the lips of Archie Richardson, 22, of New Orleans, lodging against his tongue. His wife found him unconscious and switched off the current. He was taken to the hospital where he was treated for shock and third degree burns.

A Personal Message To Motorists CONCERNING THE '42 FORD

FRED P. SAYLOR, Mgr. DUNLAP MOTOR CO. Bellefonte, Pa.

SINCE OCTOBER 3, when the 1942 Ford cars were introduced, many people in this community have seen them; checked and examined them thoroughly. Before buying, many have driven them and put them through severe tests.

We are publishing this advertisement to tell you that never before in this business have we heard such enthusiastic praise for new models... The reason is that by every comparison, the 1942 Ford is by far the best Ford car ever built—in our opinion, the most improved car of the year.

It is longer, lower, wider, more powerful and more responsive. It shifts, steers and brakes easier. It has greater total seating width—over nine feet. The ride is softer, quieter, and steadier. Its beauty, inside and out, has won warm praise from many who have seen it in our showrooms. And yes, the traditional Ford economy of operation has been retained in full measure.

Thus, we can tell you without the slightest reservation that while all defense requirements have been met, the basic and lasting mechanical goodness of Ford cars was never as high as it is today.

That is why we offer you the 1942 Ford with every assurance you will find in it better transportation for your money than ever before. That is why we say it will pay you to—
