

Echoes From the Past

Fifty Years Ago

Dr. R. G. H. Hayes has leased the Somerville residence on South Spring street for five years, and will soon occupy the same. A house owned by Mr. Isaac Dawson, at Coleville, was destroyed by fire last week.

The musical convention at Centre Hall this week is being largely attended. Prominent singers from over the county are present to contribute to its success.

The new United States postal cards are a great improvement on the old ones, both in size and beauty of appearance. There are two sizes, the largest of which admits a great deal of writing.

A dispatch from southern France where Dr. E. W. Hale, of Bellefonte, went some time ago for the benefit of his health, states that he is on his death bed.

The postoffice at Boalsburg has been advanced, as has been over a money order office which will prove a great convenience to the citizens of that community.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Benner bid their many friends in Bellefonte adieu as they left for Atlantic City, which they will make their future residence.

There have been an unusually large number of deaths in this section during the past few weeks. Our physicians are kept busy day and night visiting the sick.

Past Department Commander Austin Curtin, who has been prominently and officially connected with the National Guard of Pennsylvania, has recently been promoted from Brigade Commissary to the rank of Colonel.

Twenty Years Ago

Frank B. Wythe, whose name was sent to the U. S. Senate for confirmation as postmaster of the Philadelphia post office, was approved.

While making a coupling on a stone car at the American Lime & Stone Company, Harry Peese, son of Thomas Peese, had his right thumb badly crushed.

The men's furnishing store of D. I. Willard & Son, was broken into and robbed of a quantity of merchandise.

Louis Hill, of Bellefonte, narrowly escaped death Sunday morning when he was overcome by fumes from his car, which he was warming up in the garage at the rear of his residence on East Bishop street.

Joy and excitement over the present of a large doll at Christmas time, caused little Miss Mary Elizabeth Miller, aged 4, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Miller, of Yarnell, to recover her speech after two years of whispering.

To have the wheel of a loaded coal wagon pass over his head and survive to tell the tale was the experience of George Weaver, aged 70, of Romola.

James Klingler, aged 30, of Tusseyville, died in the Bellefonte Hospital as the result of injuries received when he was kicked in the head by a coal. Klingler took the coal out of the barn to give it some exercise.

Most people have an amazingly high opinion of the importance of what they have to say.

THE OFFICE CAT

THE OFFICE CAT

"A Little Nonsense Now and Then. Is Relished by the Wisest Men"

You Know the Symptoms

I cough, I sneeze, I snort, I wheeze, I'm in a perfect frenzy; My head is dough, My nose won't go, I've got the influenza.

Between Hugh and Me

Voice (on phone)—"Hello, is this Hugh?" Second Voice—"Sure it's me. Who's this?" Voice I—"This is Me."

Hen's Party

Out in the country, far from the sinful city, a gentleman farmer decided to raise chickens. He built himself a very fine establishment with hen houses and a separate house for the roosters.

Finally I did my

"I never had such a tough time in all my life. First, I got angina pectoris followed by arteriosclerosis. Just as I was recovering from these, I got tuberculosis, double pneumonia and phthisis.

English, as She Was Spoke

The fine art of conversation back in the year 1930: "Listen, you big boob, I hope you have bumps in your potatoes and all your children are radio announcers."

Bigger and Better

Traveler—"Did you find a roll containing fifty dollars under my pillow?" Pullman Porter—"Yes, sah; thank you, sah."

A Big Help

We'd like to see some fellow invent soft rubber mouthpieces for telephones. Then when you get real mad at the phone, you could bite it.

Yours Received, Etc.

The corresponding secretary of a large business firm had been invited to dinner by a friend. At the table the host asked him to say grace. It was a new experience, but he was not to be fazed.

Going Strong

Filbert Finch stopped in to tell us that his cigarette lighter (the one his wife gave him for Christmas) is now working so that he can light it with one match.

That Would Be Too Much

Trusty—"I'll do anything I can, Warden." Warden—"Well, don't put yourself out."

Dirty Crack

Jack—"What did your father say when first he saw you after you were born?" Jerry—"He asked the doc how many more there were in the litter."

What Do You Mean?

Bill—"Where are you working now?" Jill—"A. & P." Bill—"Oh, you're one of the chain gang."

So They Did

A Frenchman and an Englishman were having quite an argument. "Well," said the Englishman, "you don't ever see any half-breed English."

Tit For Tat

Rabbi Levi and Father Kelly were seated opposite each other at a "get-together" luncheon where some delicious roast ham was served.

Proof of Fraud

"Here's a story about a collar button found in a cow's stomach," called the husband to his wife, as she was making the beds.

Impersonators

Examiner—"You keep a dog, don't you?" Lady of the House—"No; if we hear a noise in the night, we bark ourselves."

Misunderstanding

Old Colored Lady—"Gib me a ticket for Belinda." The ticket agent looked through his stubs carefully. Scratched his head and went through them once more with no success.

A Little Doubtful

There was some doubt as to the selector's qualifications. "Can you write?" asked the examiner.

Every Spring and Fall

Women's clothes were no problem at all in the garden of Eden. All you had to do there was love 'em and leaf 'em.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:

I have been going with a married man who is very much in love with me. When I first met him I did not know he was married but someone told me after a few weeks.

Well, anyway, I kept on going with him and the next thing I knew I was crazy about him. My parents tried to keep me from going with him and here, lately, some of my friends have advised me to stop and said that people were talking about me.

He says he is crazy about me but says his wife won't give him a divorce and yet he takes his wife to parties and on trips. Do you think he is acting fair with me?

You know as well as I do, J. L. B., that you can trust him. You knew when you started with him that you were playing with fire and likely to get burnt.

You made your first bad mistake when you continued to go with him after you found out he was married.

The side streets are filled with disappointed females who sympathized with "miserable" husbands and who were later left high and dry when the safely married man tired of them.

Why single girls will sacrifice so much for something so worthless is really a mystery, but it happens every day. If they could only know that these men are ruining their chances for a normal home and marriage, they would think twice before allowing themselves to fall in love with such men.

I doubt if you will take my advice, L. B., but I beg of you to break off with this man at once—make a clean break and perhaps you may salvage some happiness with a worthwhile person.

Sincerely yours, LOUISA.

UNIONVILLE

Mrs. Sue McEwen visited with relatives and transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday afternoon and evening.

Carl Flick butchered two fine hogs at his residence here last Saturday and is now feasting on sausage and buckwheat cakes.

Young folks of the community are enjoying the ice on Bald Eagle Creek and having some real fun skating in spite of the severe cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest M. Lucas are family expect to move to Tyrone some time next week and wish to announce that they have two heastrols for sale. One is a large size and the other a smaller one.

Defense Registration: The registration for Civilian Defense which was held in the borough last Friday and Saturday was quite successful as they had about 50 registered and ran out of blanks. They wish to announce there will be another registration day in the near future, in the next week or so, to take care of all who did not get in while the blanks lasted. Watch for particulars later.

Miss Anna Hill was taken recently to the Centre County Home in Bellefonte where she is being cared for. Her condition having become so that she was not able to care for herself. We trust she may be comfortably located and her condition may improve.

The members of the W. C. T. U. were entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. W. Bauder, where they transacted the business of the society for the month.

The special Red Cross drive which was put on in the community recently proved very successful for our little town. The proceeds netted around $100 or a little over, besides the many garments which have been made by the good women and knitting done. We feel our community is still faithful and always ready and willing to do their share.

See Hope for New School (Continued from page one) as the time for the annual Academy Alumni banquet and reunion, and in view of the splendid reception given former Academy students at the reunion in Bellefonte last year, this town was chosen as the place for the 1942 reunion.

After the meeting, the committee members were guests of Mr. Hooley at the Bettina-Brown boxing tournament.

Install Additional Parking Meters Here

(Continued from page one) available for the use of postoffice patrons. The hours of operation are the same as formerly, namely 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., excepting Saturdays when the time is extended to 8 p. m.

Borough officials urge the motorists to read the instruction plates which will be found on all meters as it is not the purpose of the Borough to inconvenience or fine any motorists. However, car spaces must be made available for all shoppers and Borough officials feel that with a little co-operation from everyone concerned, the parking problem in Bellefonte will be greatly relieved.

The person who can forget is better off than the person who always remembers.

FOR A HEALTHY AMERICA!

When you cook with your electric range you're keeping those precious health-building ingredients inside the foods you serve. Your family really gets the important vitamins and minerals that Nature has stored away in the raw foods you buy.

In electric cooking the heats are accurate, and they're applied just long enough. Little or no water is used—covered vessels permit the foods to steam in their own juices. It's the EASY WAY to cook, too—and everything's extra tasty.
