> Wrong Numbers SLOW DOWN War-Time Telephone Service

Make sure of the telephone number before you call. Even the best memory gets numbers jumbled sometimes.

Look in the telephone directory if you're in doubt. You will save time and spare others the annoyance of being called by mistake.

Listen for the dial tone before dialing a number. If you dial before you hear the hum, you will get no number or a wrong number.

VOUR cooperation helps us provide fast, dependable telephone service, which is more important than ever in time of war.
