MANS AIR-WARNING OBSERVATION POST AT 91 Photos Become

The oldest person in Centre County's Civilian Defense organization is Charles F. Cook, aged 91, of East High street, Bellefonte, who is pictured above as he served his watch at the Centre County Air Raid Warning Information Center. Mr. Cook's fine act of patriotism, despite his advanced years, sets an example which many a younger person could follow to good advantage. "I'm only too happy to be able to do my bit," Mr. Cook told an interviewer who visited him during his watch at the communication center, which in time of an air raid would be vitally important to the County's civilians and industries. The aged man, who will observe his 92nd birthday next August 15, is secretary of the Center Building and Loan Association and several years ago resgned from the treasurership of the Bellefonte School District after more than 30 years of service in that position. He recently recuperated from a fractured jaw and other injuries suffered in a fall on a sidewalk.

(Continued from page one) to show patrons at any time photographic reproductions of any checks charged to their accounts. Advantages to patrons of such records are that they are exact copies of the originals, down to the smallest detail, and represent a strong safeguard against forging, dishonesty and carelessness

The device with which such recards are made is manufactured by a subsidiary of the Eastman Kodak Company and the photographing process is speedy and trouble-free In announcing further details of the new system, in an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue bank officials invite the public to call at the bank and see the device in operation
