When police closed in, Baughman was found to be the owner of the car. It is reported. Police yesterday said that he subsequently signed a full confession to the hit-run accident.

Arraigned before Lock Haven Alderman Mark T. Brungard, Tuesday afternoon, Baughman is reported to have entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was remanded to the county jail.

Motor Police at Lock Haven said yesterday that Baughman may appear in Clinton County Court, Saturday morning, and enter a plea of guilty.

The young man, whose home is reported to be in the Clintonville vicinity, has been employed for some time at night as a counter clerk in the American Hotel, Renovo.

Young Shearer, his brother, Richard, aged 11, David Gilmore, 13, and Richard Miller, the latter two of Mackeyville, were walking along the south berm of the short cut-off on Route 220 west of Mill Hall about 7:15 p. m. when the car hit Carl and hurled him 15 feet into a field.

Miss Hilda Wian, of Bristol, visiting near the scene of the accident, placed the boy in her car and rushed him to the Lock Haven Hospital.

Clinton County Coroner Dr. W. J. Shoemaker said the youth had died instantly of a fractured skull.

Police reported Baughman confessed to the knowledge that his car had struck something the evening of December 1, but that he did not realize a person was involved. He said that his conscience had bothered him, but that he had been unable to summon sufficient nerve to report the accident, police explained.
