WANT ADDITIONAL DEFENSE VOLUNTEERS

"You can help by enrolling for Civilian Defense duty," is the slogan adopted by a committee appointed recently to secure additional registrants for civilian defense in Centre Hall.

Any citizen who failed to register on February 7, may still be given the opportunity by securing the blanks from any member of the enrollment committee or at the First National Bank.

This committee consists of Mrs. Thomas C. Williams, Mrs. Clarence C. Otto, Mrs. Stanley Wykes, J. Ernest Wagner, and Donald Rose.

BASKETBALL BANQUET HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL

The girls of the Centre Hall-Potter High School entertained Coach Donald Rose and his basketball players, runners-up for first place in the district, at a banquet in the school building Wednesday evening.

Other guests were Blaine Leister, who recently resigned after five years' service as janitor, and these other faculty members: J. F. Wetzel, principal, David I. Graybill, Paul Breon, Donald R. Shope, and Miss Beverly Hall.

Members of the team were: Bruce Moyer, Marlin Fye, George Ralston, John Rimmer, Jr., Nevin Rimmer, Robert Ross, Lawrence Bolter, Donald Brouse, Eldon Whitman, William Reese, Edwin Crawford, and Lewis Garbrick, Jr. Managers were Jack Riegel and Paul Bradford, Jr.

The entire school was included in the party which followed the banquet. Dancing, shuffleboard, ping-pong and cards provided the entertainment.

Miss Patty Boozer was general chairman of this social affair with Misses Martha Mowery and Barbara Potter superintending the dining room, and Miss Mary Delaney in charge of the kitchen.

AIR WARDENS STATION BEING CONSTRUCTED

A building to the rear of the Geo. Sweeney home is being converted into an air raid warden's post and will soon serve as a control center for all defense activities in Centre Hall.

This post is under the supervision of chief warden Fred Luse, and six subordinate wardens, each responsible for approximately two blocks in the community.

These wardens have just completed a course on combatting bombs and are now taking a brief first aid course.

The duties of each air raid warden includes: visiting each home in his beat, explaining to the people the fundamentals of blackouts, helping them to select a place of safety during an air raid, and patrolling the beat during a raid to have all visible lights out, to keep the streets free of people and cars, and to aid casualties.

The personnel of the local post follows: Fred Luse, chief warden; George Lutz, in charge of the section from the D. M. Bradford home to the Stanley Brooks alley; D. S. Daup, assistant; and Albert Dufrow, messenger; Reuben Eickert in charge of the area from the Brooks alley to the Diamond, Stanley Brooks, assistant; and Ray Delaney, messenger; Fred Homan, Church street; C. H. I.O.O.F. Lodge In Annual Dinner

Worth of defense bonds. Charles B. Musser, scribe, reported that the lodge now has 92 members.

Brief addresses were given by C. F. Hoy, of Zion, past chief patriarch, and president of the Orphans' Home at Sunbury; Harry DeArmitt, of Lock Run Encampment; V. A. Ausman, of Centre Hall; Mr. Lonerberger, and Lawrence McClure, chief patriarch of the Bellefonte Encampment.

Mrs. Nelson Billeit, of Bellefonte, presented three humorous sketches. Girard Alexander gave the invocation at the beginning of the dinner, and the program closed with the group singing of "God Bless America." Cards and games were played after the banquet program.

The committee in charge, headed by Mr. Wron, included these members: Dr. Nevin C. Jodon, Charles Jodon, Edward Young and V. A. Ausman. Mr. Lonerberger was assisted by Charles Jodon and Frederick Smith.

To Remove Half of Parking Meters

Belleville's proposed new street lighting system, which is to be installed by the West Penn Power Company, has suffered several setbacks from the War Production Board, but work on at least a part of the program will begin as soon as the ground thaws according to a report given by Ralph Lightner, of the West Penn.

Lightner said the program was divided into three portions. One section, calling for the rebuilding of the system from Howard street north on Allegheny street, and on Linn street, has been approved because all necessary materials are on hand ready for work to begin. It is this part which is scheduled for immediate construction.

The second part, providing for the installation of 4 new lights on High street, 1 on Allegheny, and 2 on Bishop, was turned down by the War Production Board, but stands a chance of being approved on reconsideration because much of the conduit duct has been installed and all the bases for the lights have been constructed.

The third part, calling for the change-over of 127 lights from 100 watt to 250-watt size, was turned down completely. Lightner said the War Production Board will not release wire for such a project and its present transformers are too small to handle the additional load. No release would be granted for larger transformers at this time. Lightner added that all the work will be done as soon as releases are obtained, he said.

The West Penn spokesman said that the tree trimming program is continuing steadily and that considerable improvement in street lighting will result from better distribution of present street lights.

Council granted Frank Meter, Water Department employe, an increase of $5 a month.

Joseph Hazel, lowest of three bidders on a contract to install a new boiler at the Springfield, was awarded the job at his bid of $223.

The Fire and Police Committee reported that the "no parking" ban on Perry alley is to be shifted from the west side to the east side of that alley because the west side is relatively free of garage entrances. The committee noted 111 parking meter violations and three two-hour parking violations.

The Finance committee reported that the 1942 budget would be submitted at the next Council meeting. The Sanitary Committee presented the report of Health Officer W. W. Bickett, showing 3 cases of measles in the borough, and the granting of health certificates and other items.

The Police report showed 72 cars tagged for parking violations, 1 larceny investigation, 2 auto accident investigations, and two arrests for drunk and disorderly conduct.

Borough Auditor John S. Walker was named to represent Bellefonte borough in the annual audit of the Pruner Orphanage accounts. The audit is to be made in Tyrone on March 14.

This company will be known as the Scotia Mining Company, and the two men at the head of it are both local men and are known very well throughout the county. This reopening of the mines has been in the minds of these two men for some months.

"There doesn't seem to be any definite plans as yet just how the ore will be transported. One short route would be to Waddle over the Bellefonte Central Railroad, or it could be trucked away or transported over a branch-line run from Waddle to the Scotia mines. Many remember that there was a branch line there some years ago when the mines were in operation.

"As we talked along about many locations where ore could be located, they said they have been all over the bank and have plans to open up many different places where ore can be gotten out much cheaper by hand than by use of a power shovel. Their plans seem to be to run this bank by hand rather than by other power."
