

Echoes From the Past

Fifty Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Greeninger, of Mill Hill, will move to Bellefonte April 1 and will open a boarding house in the Howard property on Bishop street.

The Bellefonte Social Club is moving from the Bush building this week to the Irvin property on High street where the organization will have more commodious quarters than formerly.

Garrison & Lukenbach's store will soon be removed from Bellefonte to Phillipsburg. Goods are being packed and preparations are being made to leave the town.

Anthracite coal has advanced considerably in price of late and the dear people must pay for it or do without. So much for the benefit of railroads and greedy corporations.

The Standard Scale and Supply Company was organized here Monday for the manufacture of scales and general supplies, by H. C. Valentine of this place, and William Burnside and Frank B. Gill, of Pittsburgh. The factory will be located here, with the principal office in Pittsburgh.

Mr. William Meckley died on Wednesday night of last week, at his home in Buffalo Run, of pneumonia and an affection of the heart. Mr. Meckley was aged about 55 years; he leaves a wife and two small children. He was the man who won the respect and esteem of his fellowmen and will be missed in the community.

The Philadelphia Times says Gilbert A. Beaver, son of the ex-governor, is visiting in Philadelphia this week, a guest of the Lafayette. He is closely identified with the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and will eventually enter the Presbyterian ministry. Mr. Beaver is a bright and entertaining speaker and quite in demand in the state.

Last week Mr. D. C. Keller of Centre Hill took a carload of cattle to the Philadelphia market. He was engaged about the stable looking after the feeding of the stock and was in the hay mow when by some accident or misstep he fell through the hay hole to the floor below and was seriously injured. On Friday he managed to reach his home near Centre Hill. We are told that his left arm was broken and that several ribs were fractured. The injuries are of such a nature as will keep him confined to his home for some time.

The Clearfield Raftsmen's Journal says "Among the twelve rafts of timber hauled to the river by Leavy, Mitchell & Co. off the Hoyt tract, in Greenwood township, is a stick 100 feet long which contains 366 cubic feet varying but little in circumference from the butt to the top. Lumbermen say it is the prettiest stick of square timber ever rafted in the Susquehanna in that section."

Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: Clymer H. Stover and Annie C. Marsh, both of Aaronsburg; J. H. Comwell and Annie K. Kline, both of Howard township; A. H. Emmenizer and Sadie Rider, both of Spring township; W. H. Condo, Aaronsburg and Annie M. Ketter, Woodward; Jacob Harpster and Annie M. Gates, both of Gatesburg.

Twenty Years Ago

While adjusting farm machinery W. H. Homan, of Centre Hill, got his hand between a cog and driving wheel of the moving machinery, suffering severe lacerations of the first three fingers.

Bellefonte residents were circulating a petition asking that council pass an ordinance permitting the observance of daylight saving time in the Borough. State College was on "fast" time and the Titan Metal Company had gone on daylight saving time.

Mrs. Delmonico, owner of Vogue Hat Shop, Allegheny street, announced that she would discontinue that business. The rooms had been leased by the Wels Pure Food Company, operating a chain of grocery stores, and a store was to be opened as soon as remodeling and redecorating had been completed. The Hartley Music Co., of Freshold, N. J., was to locate in Bellefonte in rooms occupied by the R. C. Witmer family.

Extensive improvements had been underway at Hecla Park since its purchase by William C. Rowe, of Bellefonte, some months previously. A 24-foot waterwheel was installed to operate a generator to supply light to all sections of the spacious ground. The pavilion was being repaired; five sanitary drinking fountains were installed in the park, and more than a score of canoes were to be available to patrons. The lake bottoms had been cleaned of rubbish and glass and bath houses were being erected.

CHECK RHEUMATIC PAINS and ACHEs

Sore, aching muscles are now past memories for thousands of people who use RUX Compound (liquid) to relieve promptly the simple but so aggravating muscular and rheumatic like pains.

RUX Compound is not a liniment or messy salve. On the contrary it combines tried and true ingredients to relieve pains from the inside (where the pains actually are.) That's why relief in many instances is so quick and effective that sufferers are astonished! Even doctors say "No better Compound can be made today to safely relieve rheumatic pain suffering!"

The few cents a day you invest in RUX Compound is nothing compared to the agreeable prompt relief you may experience. So RESOLVE to get your RUX Compound this day.

Telephone or come into our store for one of the 3 economical sizes of RUX Compound. Special at WHITE BROS. Drug Store, Bellefonte, Pa.

Abe Jackson, sexton at the Bellefonte Episcopal church was afflicted with a disease which made him at times powerless to move.

Marriage licenses were issued to these couples: Clair J. Houser and Carrie L. Bailey, both of Spring Mills; Raymond Shawyer, Martha, and Sue A. Walizer, Julian.

Children playing with matches at the Mrs. Calvin Green home on Logan street, accidentally set fire to a bed. Prompt action by firemen kept damage to a minimum.

Mrs. Emma C. Bathgate, of Bellefonte, announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Stella Pearl Bathgate, to Ora W. Seeley, of Philadelphia. The wedding was scheduled for late in April.

Miss Mary Royer, former community nurse here, and Miss Pauline Clements, a graduate nurse, went to Philadelphia to enter an emergency hospital for a three months' course in the care of contagious diseases.

Leasing the business location occupied by C. P. Tuley's plumbing establishment, H. Russell Smith, son of W. H. Smith, of Milesburg, was to establish an up-to-date ice cream business there. He planned to specialize at first in wholesale trade.

More than 400 persons attended a poverty party held by the Bellefonte American Legion at the Armory building. Prizes were awarded to John W. Smith and Allen Cruise, for being the most poorly clad men present, and to Mrs. Edward Gehret and Mrs. John Payne, the most poorly dressed women.

The large residence near Mill Hill built by E. E. Mann and owned at the time by Thomas Kelly, wealthy coal operator, was completely destroyed by fire early one morning, resulting in a loss of about $50,000. The blaze occurred during the absence of members of the family, and belief was that the building had been deliberately set on fire. Neighbors reported the fire seemed to break out from the main track. David M. Aurand was at the switch and as the car came along he attempted to jump on. Unfortunately he slipped and fell beneath the car. The wheels ran over his left leg, immediately severing it from his body. His left arm was just as good as off; his body was otherwise badly cut and mashed so that he received internal injuries. He was immediately picked up, and for some time talked to his brother, being conscious that he was going to die. In forty-five minutes from the time of the accident death ended his sufferings. His remains were then put in a box car and taken to Millifillburg where they were put in charge of an undertaker. Later the body was brought to Bellefonte and taken to the McPherson home on Thomas street where he was buried.

Prof. Isaac Harvey, the geologist, was in Bellefonte this week for the purpose of moving his office furniture to Beech Creek where he will be located in the future.

The Daily News has not put in its appearance for some time. The publishers, Messrs. Beers & Dillon, also are among the missing. John G. Miller has opened a real estate and collection office in the Crider Exchange building.

Mr. W. E. Campbell, one of Millheim's leading business men and a prominent citizen of that community for many years, died at his residence on last Thursday. The interment occurred on Sunday and was attended by a large concourse of people. He was a member of the Evangelical church.

On Friday the citizens of Blanchard, this county, were very much surprised to learn of the sudden death of W. H. Lucas, an aged and respected citizen of that place, who was 72 years of age. Mr. Lucas had just recovered from a severe attack of the grippe, and it was thought that he was getting along very nicely. After eating dinner as usual with his family he started down to DeLong's store. While talking to some of his friends in the store he fell to the floor and expired. He leaves a wife and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

On Friday morning as usual the local freight that runs between Bellefonte and Sunbury left at 7 o'clock. This train was number 154 with Jessie F. Cherry as engineer and Samuel Conrad as conductor. Among the brakemen on the train were two brothers, David M. and W. D. Aurand. Everything went all right until they came to Cherry Run. This is a sort of lumbering station, located several miles from Coburn. At 11:45 o'clock the crew attempted there to throw a car in on a switch from the main track. David M. Aurand was at the switch and as the car came along he attempted to jump on. Unfortunately he slipped and fell beneath the car. The wheels ran over his left leg, immediately severing it from his body. His left arm was just as good as off; his body was otherwise badly cut and mashed so that he received internal injuries. He was immediately picked up, and for some time talked to his brother, being conscious that he was going to die. In forty-five minutes from the time of the accident death ended his sufferings. His remains were then put in a box car and taken to Millifillburg where they were put in charge of an undertaker. Later the body was brought to Bellefonte and taken to the McPherson home on Thomas street where he was buried.

George W. Lingle, of Bellefonte, celebrated his 99th birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James W. Clark, of Allegheny street. Mr. Lingle, oldest resident of Centre County, was born in Beech Creek, and early in life began work on the canals between Bellefonte and the east, rising to the position of boat captain. Later he farmed at Beech Creek and in Illinois. He had eight living children, 27 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren. Although he was unable to walk, he was up every day, hadn't worn a pair of glasses since his 80th birthday, and took considerable interest in affairs of the day.

Will Fill Vacancy
The decision which made William Krescher president judge of the courts of Columbia and Montour counties following one of the most bitterly fought election cases in the history of Columbia county, will leave a vacancy in the office of district attorney, which he had held. It will be the duty of the new judge to name a district attorney to succeed himself for his unexpired term.

George Stover found employment at Chambersburg last week. He arrived home over the weekend to look at the needs of the home before returning to work again.

Over the County News

Last week when Mrs. Edward Markley, East Howard street, Bellefonte, went to her basement where she had stored several heads of cabbage, she was surprised to find that one had sprouted. This particular head had grown a stem approximately 18 inches high from which small yellow flowers had blossomed.

Pvt. Frank Ham, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Ham of Boalsburg, was one of the first contingents of soldiers to be sent to Australia. It was learned recently. His parents recently received word from him stating that he had arrived safely. Private Ham enlisted in service about a year ago and is now with the Army Air Corps.

R. S. Stover, Millheim jeweler, was a surgical patient at the private hospital of Dr. Alys at Lewistown last Tuesday. Mr. Stover had 10 polyps removed from his nose, obstructions that have interfered with his breathing for some time past. Five of the growths were taken from the left side of the nose. Mrs. Stover accompanied him on the trip, which was made with S. W. Gramley, who also received treatment for his ears.

Pvt. Norman C. Tussey, son of Mrs. Carl F. Tussey, of West College avenue, State College, has been graduated from the world's largest Air Corps technical school at Sheppard Field, Dayton, Ohio. He has been attending classes for the past several months. Pvt. Tussey, attached to the 318th Technical School Squadron while in the school there was graduated March 22. Prior to enrollment he attended Tyrone High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Hoffer and two children, Freddie and Virginia, are now snugly ensconced in their recently purchased home on Hickory street, Phillipsburg. The purchase was made a month or so ago from Mr. G. Frank Dunkle, and since then the Hoffers have made repairs to the interior that add comfort and a home-like atmosphere. The Hoffers formerly occupied the old Fryberger home on South Centre street. Mrs. Hoffer having been the former Mrs. Dorothy Fryberger. Mr. Hoffer is chief clerk in the office of the County Commissioners, Bellefonte, while his wife conducts the Fryberger Insurance Agency.

What will probably be the largest farm sale in the southern part of the county was held Wednesday of last week at the Frank P. Stover farm, along the Smulton road. The sale, we are informed, totalled better than seven thousand dollars, and almost a fourth of this amount was brought in by the sale of the hog stock. Sixty-eight head being sold for seventeen hundred dollars. This sale was large as farm sales go, but others, with fewer animals on the list, were larger because of that fact. Prices for horses, cattle and hogs are practically the same as at any sale. That is, cattle and hogs are being bid in at history making prices.

RUNVILLE

Last Friday evening, March 27, a wedding took place at the home of Walter Herold, when his daughter, Miss Virginia May Herold was united in marriage to Elmer James Kerstetter of Liverpool, Pa., a beautiful ring ceremony being performed by the Rev. Elmer R. Miller of Runville United Brethren church. The bride and bridegroom were accompanied by David Poorman and Miss Doris Shutt. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Herold and family, Mrs. Herold, the bride's grandmother of Liverpool; Mrs. E. S. Bennett, Mrs. Lena Shutt, Mrs. Richard Gumsalus, Mrs. Gertrude Poorman, and Mrs. E. R. Miller. All present congratulated the couple after the ceremony and wished them well. Refreshments were served. The couple left for Liverpool to the home of the groom, where he was expected to leave to join Uncle Sam's forces at New Cumberland on Saturday. Mr. Kerstetter is a fine young man and had been working down at Indiantown Gap at the military reservation.

Raymond Poorman and family moved last Friday from his farm house to his home in State College, where he lived before he came here to the farm.

Cleveland Packer and family moved last Saturday from the Griffith farm into the Raymond Poorman farm house.

Rev. E. R. Miller and wife and Mrs. John Purl visited with Mrs. Clyde Watson of Bush Hollow last Thursday, who is on the sick list.

The large residence near Mill Hill built by E. E. Mann and owned at the time by Thomas Kelly, wealthy coal operator, was completely destroyed by fire early one morning, resulting in a loss of about $50,000. The blaze occurred during the absence of members of the family, and belief was that the building had been deliberately set on fire. Neighbors reported the fire seemed to break out from the main track. David M. Aurand was at the switch and as the car came along he attempted to jump on. Unfortunately he slipped and fell beneath the car. The wheels ran over his left leg, immediately severing it from his body. His left arm was just as good as off; his body was otherwise badly cut and mashed so that he received internal injuries. He was immediately picked up, and for some time talked to his brother, being conscious that he was going to die. In forty-five minutes from the time of the accident death ended his sufferings. His remains were then put in a box car and taken to Millifillburg where they were put in charge of an undertaker. Later the body was brought to Bellefonte and taken to the McPherson home on Thomas street where he was buried.
