HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Plant Growth
Make a mixture of 1 tablespoon of epsom salts and 1/2-gallon of cold water. Dissolve thoroughly. Pour this solution over the roots of the plants and it will hasten their growth.

Colored Icings
Cake icings and candy can be nicely colored by using orange juice or egg yolk for yellow, spinach juice for green, blackberry juice for lavender, or red beet juice for pink.

Threading the Needle
The thread can be more easily inserted into the needle eye if it is clipped on the bias. Slipping silk threads through the needle eye twice will prevent their constantly slipping out.

Attractive Garnish
Cook two eggs until very hard, remove the shells and let them stand in vinegar, with which beets have been pickled. The result will be an attractive shade of red, and when sliced will look very pretty against the green lettuce leaves.

Preserving Window Cords
The window cords will last twice as long if they are rubbed every six months with a cloth dipped in linseed oil.

Eye Wash
After you have removed a foreign particle from the eye, or when the eyes are inflamed after a severe strain, wash them with warm salt water to cleanse, and soothe them with 1/2-teaspoon of salt to one pint of water.

To Grease Griddles
A small cotton bag filled with salt and rubbed on the griddle, instead of lard, when making griddle cakes, will keep the smoky odor out of the house and the cakes will brown nicely without sticking.

Piano Keys
Stains on piano keys will disappear if rubbed with a mixture of whitening and methylated spirits.

Broken Cork
When a cork breaks and falls into the bottle, put enough ammonia into the bottle to float the cork and lay it aside for a few days. The ammonia will either eat or destroy the cork enough to permit its removal.

Improving Starch
To improve starch, add to each bowl one teaspoonful of epsom salts and dissolve in the usual manner by boiling. Articles starched with this will be stiffer.

Skees, 53, of Altoona, a Pennsylvania Railroad yardmaster, died in Roaring Spring Hospital Thursday of injuries received in an automobile accident Tuesday night which caused the death of his nephew, Harry B. NATION SEES 67,000 TRAINED AS ENGINEERS

All the engineering schools in the United States cannot meet the demands of government, industry, and the armed forces during the next 17 months, Dean H. P. Hammond, of the School of Engineering, reported.

"The road to victory demands that engineering colleges be filled to capacity," Dean Hammond said. "The war is a competition of armaments which calls for both quantity and quality of engineering talent."

In support of his statement Dean Hammond pointed out that the latest tabulation of the U. S. Civil Service Commission reveals that 27,000 engineers and 49,000 inspectors are wanted during the period ending June 30, 1942, and that colleges can normally supply only 24,000.

After the war, he said, these technically-trained men will be in demand to fill the need for civilian commodities and devices which have been curtailed for the duration.

New High in Ship Production

Bethlehem ship production this year will represent the greatest all-round shipbuilding output by any company in the history of the country.

Speed, speed and more speed is the constant objective; and always speed with quality, for a jerry-built ship is virtually useless in the grim tasks of maritime war.

The first Liberty ship which recently discharged supplies at a Red Sea port was built in a yard that was virtually nonexistent a year ago. A battleship will be delivered 14 months ahead of schedule.

Carzo ships are being built in less than one-half the time required in the first World War. Comparable speeding up has been achieved on other types of ships and the schedule is being constantly stepped-up.

Expanding old yards, building new ones, tripling employment in a year's time, training thousands of new men, putting every effective facility to use, adopting pre-assembly and mass production methods—all these spell tonnage and more tonnage, a steadily-mounting output of ships from Bethlehem yards.

All hands are doing their utmost for Victory, working to achieve the maximum for the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Maritime Commission, so that the "bridge of ships" shall be maintained and steadily enlarged.
