For State Senator

Howard J. Thompson, Curwensville, Pa., announced his candidacy for State Senator to represent the 34th Senatorial District (Centre and Clearfield Counties).

Mr. Thompson, a lifelong Demoerat, was born January 12, 1878, at Curwensville, Pa. The public schools of Curwensville provided his education. This was followed by years in constructing power plants, electrifying towns, mines, etc., throughout Centre and Clearfield counties. Many of those years permitted Mr. apson to live in Curwensville (Continued on Page Eight)

pe Revives For oopening Academy

As the time for the third annual reunion and banquet of the Bellefonte Academy Alumni Association AS REGISTRARS at the Penn Belle Hotel, Saturday, May 23, draws near, citizens of Bellefonte recall the thousands of dollars spent here annually by Academy students during the 66 years the Academy was in operation as a boys' boarding school.

The return of former students here for the weekend will give Bellefonte, for a day or two at least, the "school town" character it had for so many years while the Academy was open.

Methods Being Used to Speed Production

"The New Training Program in Industry" was the subject of an interesting address by Calvin Purnell, personnel manager of the American Lime and Stone Company, at the Kiwanis Club meeting, Tuesday noon. The movement of men from non-defense to defense industries which will be accelerated presently, the changing of men from one industry to another or to a higher type of skill, is requiring a new technique of training.

Under the War Production Board schools have been set up to train leaders, who in turn will train others for the meeting of this tremendous wartime need. The technique taught in these schools has been most successful, Mr. Purnell stated. Taking several members of the club as his subjects the speaker demonstrated the old methods of telling and showing how an operation is to be performed. He then demonstrated the new method and gave through it a practical proof that
