The first Mission Band Oratorical contest to be held in any church in the Williamsport district in which the contestants tried for the gold medal, was held in the First Evangelical church, Bellefonte, H. H. Jacobs, pastor, on April 19.

Most of the membership of the Mission Band and a good attendance of the church membership were thrilled by the fine way in which the contestants delivered their orations. These contestants had to be silver medalists before they could compete for the gold medal.

Gladys Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Campbell, was judged winner. Her subject was "Good Citizenship."

Cathryn Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson, and Peggy Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peters, were the contestants. Miss Johnson's subject was "Bob Finds Himself," while Miss Peters' subject was "The Boy Who Changed the Map."

County Library Has Cancer Literature

Educational literature on the nature and control of cancer has been supplied for the Bellefonte County Library and the Bookmobile by the Women's Field Army for the Control of Cancer, according to Mrs. Iverson, county librarian. The leaflets and other publications are prepared by the American Society for the Control of Cancer for the purpose of preventing spread of the disease by informing the public how to combat it.

Instruction sheets for the poster contest open to seventh to twelfth grade school children are also available from the Library and Bookmobile. Entries for the contest must be in by May 1.

The Centre County Division of the Field Army, headed by Mrs. D. R. L. Robinson, is now participating in the national campaign for enlistments, held annually in April, the month designated by Congress for Cancer Control. Mrs. Isaac Egolf and Mrs. C. A. Lamm of State College, have been appointed co-chairmen of the drive this year.

A quota of one dollar for every hundred of the county population is the April goal of the Field Army. Contributions are sought to enable the Field Army to carry out local educational projects and to help defray the expenses of the national organization in publishing and distributing literature to teach the public how to fight cancer by conquering fear, delay, and ignorance.

Pledge Drive Great Success

Centre county's regular savings for the war effort will make a most creditable contribution to national defense. Complete figures are expected to be released in the near future.

A special radio broadcast is scheduled for 10 to 10:30 p. m. today (Thursday) over the blue network when Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Claude R. Wickard and other national leaders will speak on the National War Bond Quota System and the Payroll Savings Plan.

Other speakers will include Lt. Commander Edward H. O'Hare, who recently became one of the war's outstanding heroes; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Philip Murray, C. I. O. president; W. P. Withers, president of the National Association of Manufacturers; John W. O'Leary, chairman of the executive committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and T. C. Cashen, chairman of the Railway Executives Association.

So-called housekeeping around the farm premises brings its own reward in the reduction by farm fire losses, says County Agent R. C. Blaney. Trash should be cleaned out wherever it is.

With the possibility of fire from the sky at any time, it is well to remember that several buckets of water have saved a barn from sparks when a house has burned. A few barrels of water conveniently placed may be the means of keeping a farmer in business.

As the season of lightning storms and hot hay threats come nearer, the farmer should look to his protection before it is too late. The burglar alarm system developed at the Pennsylvania State College not only gives the alarm when stealthy intruders enter but also sounds the fire alarm if the circuits are burned. In addition, a thermostat to go down a water pipe into a hot spot in a hay mow is a refinement which may save almost all of a crop, as well as the barn itself. Plans for an easily installed alarm are available at the Agricultural Extension Association office in Bellefonte.

Modern Etiquette

1. What is the proper manner of eating soup?
2. When a hotel guest desires information about a train schedule, or the transfer of luggage, what should he or she do?
3. Is it proper for a bridge player to call his partner's attention to the score?
4. Should a man remove his glove if a woman offers to shake hands with him on the street?
5. When should the host seat himself at the dinner table?
6. What form should a bride and groom use when extending invitations to a reception, after they have returned from their honeymoon trip?
7. What should one say, when talking with an acquaintance, and the latter makes some statement with which one heartily disagrees?
8. Should one ever open the mouth while chewing food?
9. When an invitation has been extended over the telephone, is it proper for a wife to say, "May I ask John if he has any other plans for that evening, and then call you back?"
10. Is it necessary to purchase the tickets in advance when giving a theater party?
11. Is it correct to serve a dessert with the silver on the plate?
12. May one "ring off" in business telephoning without saying "Good-bye?"

Answers to Modern Etiquette

1. Dip the farther edge of the spoon into the soup and direct it away from you and towards the outer edge of the plate. Do not fill the spoon. Put the side, and not the point of the spoon into the mouth. And swallow the soup without the slightest bit of noise.
2. Phone the hotel desk and ask for the "Porter Desk" or "Transportation Desk."
3. Never; nor should he ever indicate his approval or disapproval of a bid, pass or double.
4. This is not necessary if the woman is wearing gloves.
5. The host should be the last person to take his seat.
6. These invitations are issued on cards, after their new home is in readiness and they wish to give a reception.
7. Merely say, "No, I do not agree with you, I think, etc." However, one should do this pleasantly, and avoid provoking an argument.
8. No. The lips should be kept closed while chewing. This is not difficult if small bites are taken.
9. Yes, this is perfectly all right. It is really the only thing she can do to avoid embarrassment, in case her husband cannot accept the invitation.
10. Yes, it is much better to do so, as it is often embarrassing to have one's guests stand in line while the tickets are being purchased, particularly when necessary to discuss different locations and prices.
11. Yes.
12. No; it is rude to leave the other person ignorant that you have rung off.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Wall Paper Cleaner
Wall paper cleaner can be made as follows: Put 2 cups of vinegar, 1/2 cup kerosene, 1 cup salt, 1 tea-spoon lye in a clean granite pan and boil for five minutes. Then add enough flour to form a stiff, but not dry, dough.

Care of Hands
While the hands are still a bit moist after dishwashing, drop a little lemon juice into the palms and rub it well over the hands, to keep them soft and white.

Soak a cork in oil for a few minutes and it will become both air and water tight.

Spilled Water
If water, or any liquid, has been spilled on the hardwood floor, and a mop is not convenient, quickly spread a few layers of newspapers over it, and see how readily it absorbs the moisture.

Rusted Screws
A screw or nail which has become rusted in wood can be loosened by applying a little hot paraffin to it. Let the paraffin soak in for a short time and see how easily the screw or nail will fly.

Nose Bleed
Nose bleed can often be stopped by applying cold compresses. Or, wrap a piece of ice in a cloth and place it at the back of the neck.

Silver Tarnish
Many times housekeepers find their silver tarnished in spite of the fact that they have polished it carefully before putting it away. If a piece of camphor ice is put away with the silver, it will be kept free from tarnish.

Orris Root
Add a lump of orris root to the boiler on laundry day and see what a delicious fragrance it gives the clothes.

Enamelware
One of the best cleaning agents for enamelware is a paste made of salt and vinegar.

Dyeing Hints
If necessary to remove the color in a piece of goods before dyeing, wash in hot soap suds, or boil until faded. Then rinse very thoroughly, as any soap left in the fabric will ruin the dye. Goods for dyeing must be clean and free from grease.

The Linen Closet
A coat of blue enamel paint on the shelves of the linen closet will not only make the closet more attractive, but will keep the linens a good color.

Fatally Injured
Lewis Trussel, 63, resident of Elk county Home at St. Marys, was killed by a special train carrying newly inducted soldiers through the St. Marys section to the New Cumberland reception center. The home is near the scene of the accident, two miles east of St. Marys.

Red Cross Nurse Submits Report

In Bellefonte, a total of 650 children were tested; sixty-nine, who showed hearing defects were retested; twelve will be given further tests.

The chapter nurse held a conference with Mrs. Ravenna Rittenhouse of Millifin county, concerning the surplus foods for use in school lunches. Mrs. Rittenhouse is superintendent of the school lunch project in Millifin county. St. John's school is the only one in Bellefonte using the service.

Two classes in home nursing completed their course last Friday. One was conducted in Bellefonte and taught by Miss Mary Segal, state health nurse, and the other in Zion taught by Miss Catharine Ventry.

Those in Miss Ventry's class were: Mrs. Grace Armstrong, Mrs. Myrtle Bechtel, Mrs. Grace M. Corman, Mrs. Mabel Garberick, Mrs. Kathryn Harsh, Mrs. Amanda Hockmeyer, Mrs. Anna L. Kane, Mrs. M. Vonada, and Mrs. Mary Way.

Several short playlets were given by members of the class at the closing exercises. Miss Ventry was presented with a handbag and gloves. Presentations were made to Howard Struble, who, as secretary of the Zion Reformed church, made possible the use of the church, and to Harry Hockey for kindness that made the class possible.

Clair Smith, State College, was elected president of the Central District, Pennsylvania School Music Association, at the district band sessions held in Bloomsburg, Thursday last Saturday.

Next year's band and chorus hosts will be Phillipsburg and Mt. Union, respectively, according to action taken at the election session, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Smith succeeds a Look Haven director, Garth Kleckner. John Manners, Phillipsburg, was elected club president, and Miss Marian Warren, Mansfield, was renamed treasurer.

Arthur Redner was host director for the meet, at which 179 student musicians took part.

LEITZELL IS ELECTED COMMANDER OF V. F. W.

Election of James J. Leitzell, of Millsburg, as commander of Jackson-Snyder-Saylor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Bellefonte, featured the recent organization meeting of that group.

Mr. Leitzell, who has served two previous terms in that office, succeeds William Garis. Other officers chosen were: John H. Mong, senior vice commander; Gilbert M. Boyer, junior vice commander; I. R. Glenn, quartermaster; W. W. Hampton, adjutant; John M. Galadai, chaplain; and W. W. Hampton, service officer.

REGULAR MEETING OF DRAMA DEPARTMENT

The regular meeting of the Drama Department of the Bellefonte Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Jones, of Thomas street, Wednesday night, April 15, with 13 members and 2 guests in attendance.

At the short business session Mrs. Luella Cheesman, chairman of the department, appointed the following to serve on the nominating committee: Miss Christine Smith, Mrs. Ruth Jones and Mrs. Lucille Ward. She also appointed Mrs. Helen Carter to audit the books.

The program "Amateur Night" was presented by Mrs. Nevin Stamm and Miss Christine Smith. Each member was requested to take part in the program.

Refreshments were served following the program. Mrs. C. Y. Wagner and Mrs. Wallace J. Ward served as co-hostesses.

Additional Locals

—Mrs. M. J. Fulton of Johnstown, spent the weekend with her daughter, Miss Jane Fulton, of North Spring street, and with her son Pat, who is a senior at Penn State.

—George Monnell of Half Moon Hill, was treated at the dispensary of the Centre County Hospital Sunday afternoon for operations of a finger received while at work at the Titan Metal Company plant. Monnell, a machinist at the plant, returned to work Monday morning.

—The death of "Bill" Waite, well known Bellefonte man, Tuesday, struck a real note of sorrow in the hearts of many who ordinarily look at death as the sad but inevitable end of every life. There are probably three reasons why his death is mourned so generally. First, because he was young, with most of his life before him. Second, because he put up a game battle against a deadly, but fortunately curable, but rare, physical foe. And finally, "Bill" Waite was a friendly, cheerful person who minded his own business and left others tend to their affairs. There is consolation in the fact that he had the very best medical care available anywhere, and nothing was left undone to give him a chance for continued life and health.

Bee Demonstration Meeting to Be Held

A demonstration meeting for Centre county beekeepers will be held at the home of Mr. A. R. Houser on next Friday afternoon, May 1, at 2 o'clock. According to County Agricultural Extension Agent R. C. Blaney, arrangements are being made for Mr. E. J. Anderson, Extension Apiarist from State College, to be present and demonstrate different spring management practices. It is hoped to be able to transfer bees from a bee tree to a hive.

This meeting is planned to help beekeepers solve their many problems and is especially important this spring because of the sugar shortage and heavy demand being made for honey, so that it is desirable for all beekeepers to give their bees better care so that the production of honey can be increased. In this way beekeepers can contribute to the war effort by increasing the production of sweets to offset the shortage of sugar.

Paul Stephens, president of the Centre County Beekeepers' Association, is anxious for all beekeepers who possibly can to attend this demonstration meeting. Mr. Houser lives on the road from Pleasant Gap to Rockview.
