Badly Burned

Anthony Covaleskie, a 17-year-old Shamokin boy, was badly burned when his clothing caught fire while he was assisting in fighting one of the most serious forest blazes in years in Northumberland county.

LETTER:

Monday morning by the first mail this department received the following letter: "The Falls, Spring Creek, Bellefonte, Pa., March 4, 1942. Dear Sir: Phoozy to the d--- ducks! Sincerely yours, GRANDPAPPY TROUT, Grandparent, Association of Bellefonte's Famous Trout."

IRKS:

Men, forced to wear cuffs trousers and abbreviated suits to save materials during the war, should arise and get some permanent benefit from this emergency. We speak specifically of neckties. What good are they, anyhow? They cost money, have to be tied every morning and untied every night. They must be cleaned and pressed frequently. They get in your soup or blouse around your face unless you buy one of those trick chains or holders designed to do nothing but keep your tie anchored to your shirt. We defy anyone to prove that the necktie is anything but an unmitigated bother and sabotage of the nation's war effort!

QUESTION:

Why is it that every time a mirror is hung in a bathroom the lady of the house finds a towel rack, a cabinet or some other piece of furniture to place directly under it? We have yet to find a place where the man in the house can shave without bending over some totally unnecessary piece of furniture. Many a case of premature sciatitis, we feel, could be traced directly to the fact that pap has to stand like the Tower of Pisa every time he shaves.

VALUE:

It doesn't take much to please people, after all. Chicken eggs are selling for about 25 cents a dozen. Duck eggs, although being more scarce, wouldn't be worth any more than 50 cents a dozen. Nine duck eggs would be worth about 38 cents. For 38 cents worth of duck eggs, hatched out, look what fun Bellefonte has been having! You couldn't buy one of the little ducks for love or money, and anyone who would harm or steal them would be promptly labeled Centre County's Meanest Man. All for 38 cents, plus an ocean of the Milk of Human Kindness! It's the ocean that counts.

MOVING:

Several months ago, we learn belatedly, it was decided to move some unused files from the vaults of the County Recorder's office to the vaults of the Register's office in Court House. An old county firm submitted a bid of about $700 to perform the task. Court House janitor Clayton Royer, learning of the incident, volunteered to do the job, and with the aid of a prisoner at the county jail completed the task in short order. There was no cost to the county.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE:

This corner agrees with Council President Sleg in that while every loyal citizen will do everything possible to assist in the Civilian Defense program, good judgment should be used in making expenditures. There is a definite danger at a time like this of making unnecessary and expensive provisions for emergencies. We are of the belief that fire department heads should be consulted in all such moves. We have unlimited confidence in our firemen. They face emergencies every day in peace time and their experience, we believe, is doubly valuable at times such as this.

WE'LL TAKE CHOCOLATE:

Latest suggestion for air-raid warning signals for Bellefonte is to use aerial bombs, such as are used in Fourth of July celebrations. We might as well be killed by bombs dropped from airplanes, as to be scared to death by the unexpected blasting of aerial bombs set off to warn of the real thing.

CITIZEN GOES:

This corner is sorry to see George Carpeneto leave Bellefonte. He is a man who up to this time has studied fire-fighting as a hobby, and the wealth of information and experience he has amassed on that subject has been passed on to the town, free of charge. Today, his lifelong hobby becomes his means of livelihood and he leaves this community. Those of us who remember what the Bellefonte fire department was in years gone by, and who have seen the tremendous improvement in the past ten or fifteen years, must give credit to the George Carpenetos of the town for that improvement. Bellefonte has other firemen who will carry on equally well, but at a time like this, particularly we hate to lose a single one of them. We wish George good luck. We know he'll do well in his "new" work.
