Army. Lt. Mull was in Bellefonte from Sunday until Tuesday on a furlough from camp. Mr. and Mrs. Mull expect to reside at Hattiesburg, Miss., for the time being.

—Wonder what's happened to the price fixing order we've heard so much about? Prices on retail goods, such as clothing and food, we thought were supposed to be fixed at the March levels. You'd never know it from the way the cost of living has been sky-rocketing. Sugar is now up to eight cents a pound. Meats are sky-high. Few of us would complain if we didn't have a suspicion that someone, somewhere, is manipulating things so they rake off excessive profits on the things all of us must buy. We'd like to see that price-fixing order given a little exercise.
