PORT MATILDA DRENCHED BY HUGE CLOUDBURST

Port Matilda was flooded by a 2 1/2 hour cloudburst Wednesday night of last week which resulted in several thousand dollars worth of damage.

The storm broke about 6 o'clock and ended at 8:30. Damage estimated at $2,000 was done at the McFeely Brick Company and railroad crews worked all day long to clear the main line Pennsylvania tracks.

Officials at the brick plant, located near the base of the Bald Eagle mountain, reported that water washing down over the mountain side washed out the tracks to the stone quarry and on the brick siding. Cars could not be taken out Thursday and it was several days before the quarry could be reopened.

The lawn and dirt behind the retaining walls at the plant were washed out and employees described the scene as a "mess."

Considerable damage was done in Port Matilda. Basements were flooded, railroad track cinders were washed over the adjacent area.

Flooding of the Bald Eagle creek and the bad storm failed to interfere with Port Matilda's blackout, however, and immediately after the "all clear" was given train crews started repairing the damage to the tracks. Steep highway banks in the vicinity were washed down by the rain and slides occurred on the highways in some places.

ted to hasten the fire in the range by pouring kerosene from a small can on the embers. The resulting blast is believed to have hurled her across the kitchen and into the dining room, where she was found a short time later by her husband, Mr. Bennett and the children were asleep in bedrooms on the second floor at the time, and when flames and smoke poured up the stairway they leaped to safety from a low porch roof.

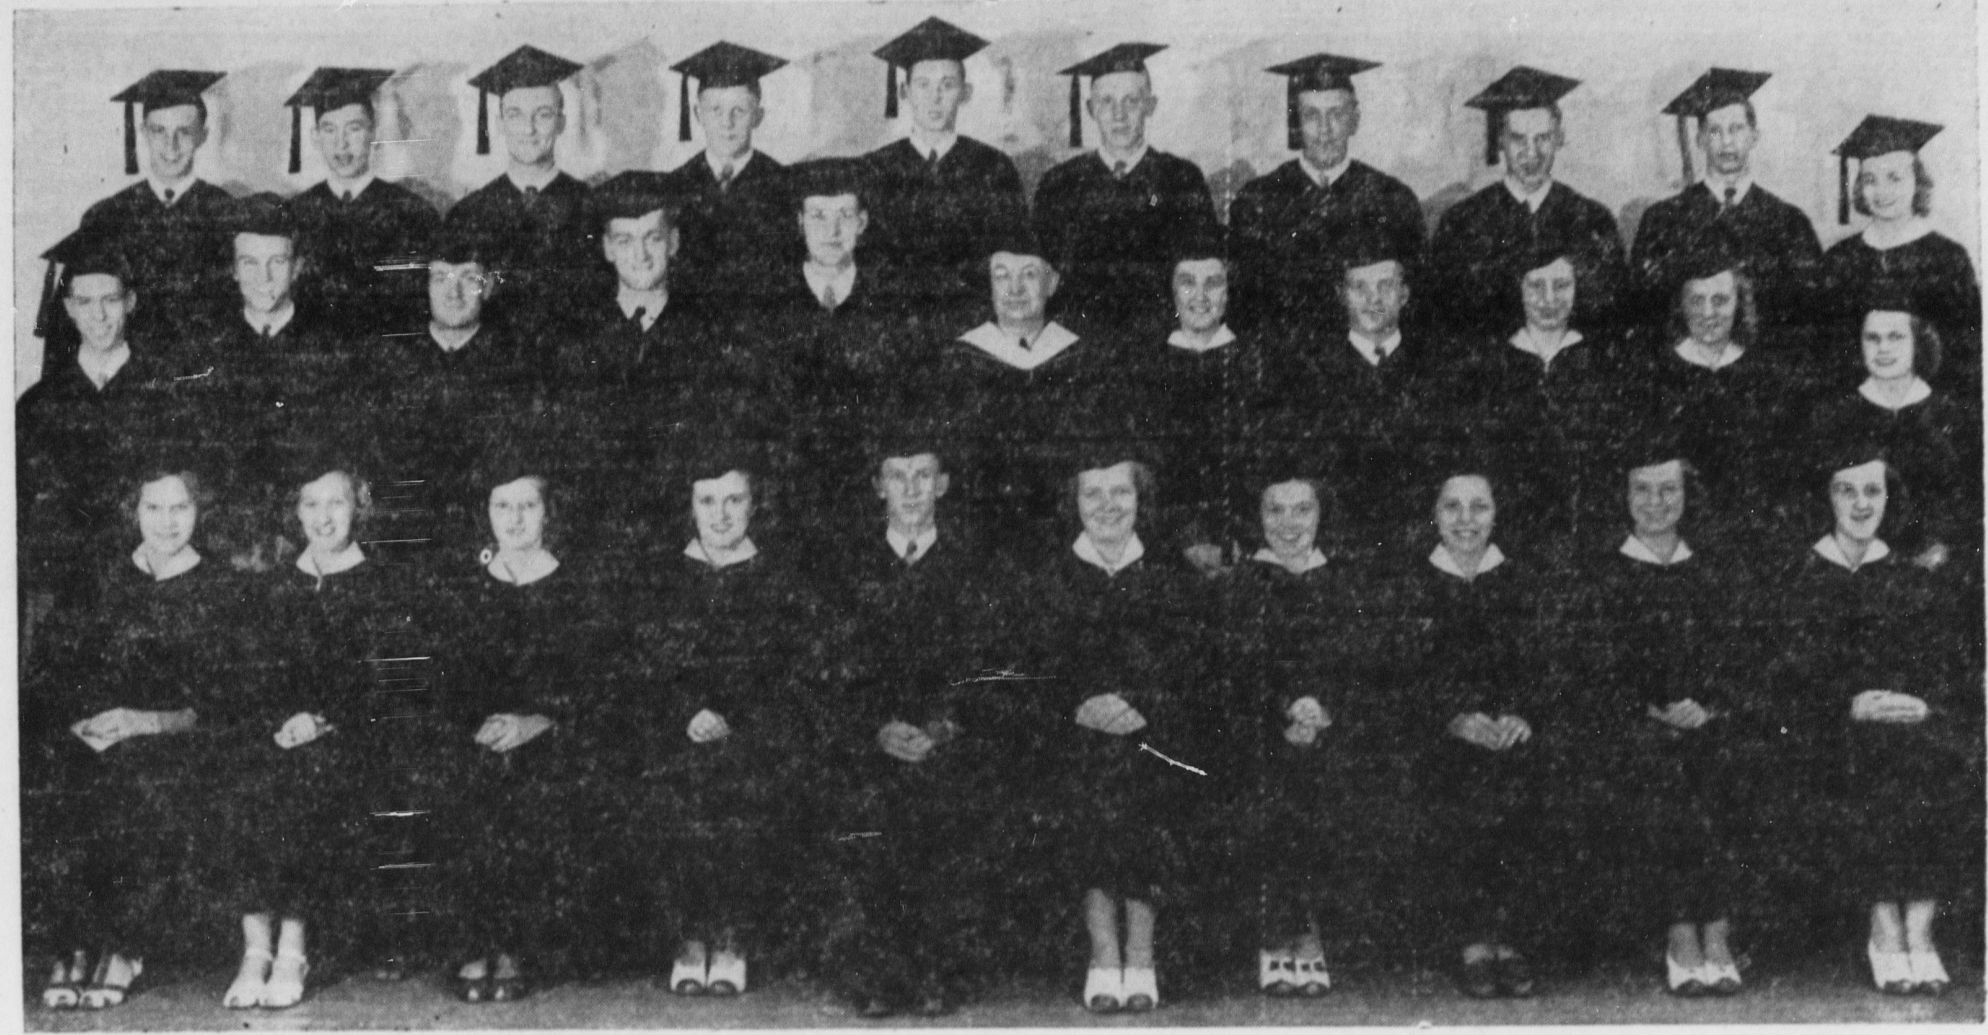

Neighbors summoned to the scene succeeded in getting the fire under control, although considerable damage resulted to the kitchen, dining-room and porch.

Mrs. Bennett is the former Hermine Burd, daughter of Mrs. Edward Burd, of Moose Run. The seven children in the family range in age from 15 years to 1 year. Mr. Bennett, who operates a sawmill near Jacksonville is a son of E. S. Bennett, well known resident of Runville. The home is owned by the family.

Pleasant Gap Abandons High

will be increased by 110 pupils from Pleasant Gap, and the total enrollment will be more than 1900 pupils. The new building will provide ample facilities for that number, it was reported.

The agreement mutually approved by the two boards includes the transfer of the two Pleasant Gap High teachers: Forest, Bedford, principal, and Philip Mion, to the Bellefonte High School faculty. The Spring township board is to provide transportation for all its students and will pay the regular tuition rates for their education here. The board submitted a list of supplies and equipment of the Pleasant Gap High School, in the belief that some of the material may be of use to the Bellefonte district.

The board also cancelled the lease for equipment used in the Academy property. This lease called for a $25 monthly rental.

The township school district was represented at the meeting by the following board members in addition to Mr. Rhoads: Roy "Mickey" Adams, Larue Hazel, and Edward Rhoads. Cancellation of the lease was unanimously decided upon after R. C. Blaney, chairman of the building committee, recommended such action. He declared that the board has been given assurance that unless some unforeseen complications develop, the classroom section of the new building will be ready for occupancy this fall.

Mr. Blaney said that school may be several weeks or a month later than usual in opening but declared that even if schools were opened in the Academy property and the move into the new building made during the year, several weeks, at least, of school time would be lost through the moving.

Blaney said that lockers are not available and will not be available until after the war. One hot water heating unit and several outside recessed lighting fixtures cannot be obtained, but otherwise, he said, all necessary materials are on hand or have been promised definitely.

Mr. Blaney said all steel work is completed, the plate glass is delivered and is being installed, the auditorium seats have been shipped, and finish lumber, home economics equipment and the loud speaking system are on hand.

He declared he could see no reason for any further delays in completion of the building because of lack of supplies or materials.

Board president, Horace J. Hartman, and Supervising Principal E. K. Stock, submitted a report of a trip they made to Washington last week in an effort to obtain priorities on floor covering for the building. They said that any floor covering containing cork or burlap was "frozen" by the War Production Board and that there was no possibility of obtaining a release for such material. As a result, the board was forced to look for substitutes, and final decision was made to purchase composition tile blocks.

This type of floor will cost approximately $900 more than the battleship linoleum originally specified in the contract, but will have the advantage of additional strength and durability. Because it comes in blocks of any desired color, attractive and varied designs and color schemes will be possible. The board has arranged the color scheme to give a maximum amount of light in the darker rooms of the building, while more subdued tones will be used in rooms that have ample natural light.

The board approved the change in the linoleum and also approved the construction of an additional door under the stage in the auditorium, for convenience in reaching a storage room.

The board unanimously adopted a policy regarding the use of school rooms and facilities by teachers conducting classes not on the regular curriculum. The policy is prefaced with a statement that the board is favorable toward the use of any school facilities for the purpose of giving instruction to persons seeking such instruction. Installed As Pastor Of Valley Charge

Rev. David E. Strasser was installed pastor of the Nittany Valley Lutheran parsonage at the morning worship service Sunday, in St. Mark's church at Snyderstown. Congregations of Zion and St. Paul's churches, also part of the charge, united with the local congregation for this service. The Rev. M. R. Hambley, D. D., president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the U. L. C. A., conducted the formal act of installation.

Following the installation service, a basket dinner was enjoyed, after which a worker's conference was led by Dr. Hambley.

Mr. Strasser came to Nittany Valley parsonage from Christ Lutheran church of Montgomery, after that church was closed by the White Deer Valley ordinance plant. He had served there since April 1, 1941. Previous to that time he had served eight years in the Lutheran-Lutheran parsonage.

The new minister was graduated from Susquehanna University and Gettysburg Theological Seminary in 1929 and 1932 respectively.

Bellefonte Academy and completed his junior year at Princeton University.

Always active in the banking and industrial life of the community, Col. Reynolds, the late Fount W. Crider, and the late Joseph Montgomery in 1900 organized the Pennsylvania Match Company, now owned by the Universal Match Corporation. Earlier he and Mr. Montgomery founded the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Company, which for many years was a thriving business establishment. At the time of his death he was president of Whitecock Quarries and vice president of the First National Bank of Bellefonte.

In 1883, shortly after completing his education, he became a member of the banking firm of W. F. Reynolds & Company, later the Jackson, Crider and Hastings Company, and now the Bellefonte Trust Company. He was interested in farming and for years owned and operated the Rockview Dairy at Rock. He owned a large part of the farmland on which Rockview penitentiary was established more than 29 years ago.

Over a period of many years Col. Reynolds took an active interest in the Pennsylvania National Guard. He was captain and adjutant of the 5th Regiment, P. N. G., during the Spanish-American War and was at Chickamauga, Georgia, during that conflict. Later he became lieutenant colonel and served as aide on the staffs of Governors Daniel Hastings, Robert E. Pattison, William Stone and Samuel W. Pennypacker. During World War I, Col. Reynolds served as Major and Ordnance officer in charge of rifle training in the Pennsylvania Militia. Since the war he had devoted himself almost entirely to his banking and business interests.

James White, Noted Engineer, Is Dead

James Gilbert White, 80, founder of a New York engineering firm which supervised the construction of projects all over the world, died Tuesday at his home in Greenwich, Conn.

A native of Milroy, Pa., White was graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1882, and received his Ph. D. degree three years later from Cornell.

White retired fourteen years ago as president of J. G. White and Company, New York investment firm, and the J. G. White Engineering Corporation.

Among the installations made by the engineering firm were oil storage base at Pearl Harbor and the electric and railroad lines at Manila. It also constructed the Walden reservoir in London and the Convent Garden Opera House there.

been set up as follows: Centre Hall, for Potter township; Rebersburg, for Miles township; Spring Mills, for Gregg township; Millheim, for Penn and Haines townships; and Pleasant Gap for Spring township.

Hours in all excepting Rebersburg and Pleasant Gap are 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. through Thursday. Pleasant Gap registration is from 1 to 9 p. m. and at Rebersburg registration will continue through Friday.

John S. Sommerich, chairman of the Bellefonte rationing board, reported that in addition to the regular clerks, Mrs. Samuel Waite and Miss Jean McGarvey, the following volunteer clerks have been assisting with the registration this week: Mrs. Philip B. Ray, Mrs. Marvin Rothrock, Mrs. Milton P. Walker, Mrs. Charles Wagner, Mrs. L. H. Lenhart, Mrs. James Craig, Miss Helen Harper, Miss Emma Lou Craig, Mrs. Paul Sheffer, Jr., and Mrs. Paul McGorvey.

Others are expected to aid during the week ending June 11. A chief complaint heard at the rationing registration points is that the regulation providing that not more than one-fourth of a pound of sugar shall be used in preparing a quart of canned berries is not sufficient for strawberries. This complaint is said to be widespread, but so far no exception to the rule has been made.

Yesterday Bellefonte felt the nationwide scarcity of application forms and instructions were released in Harrisburg to the local board to have forms made up as needed. The office of County Superintendent of Schools, P. Glenn Rogers provided 400 mimeographed forms on short notice to tide over until additional supplies have been received.

Because of the rush caused by sugar rationing the ration board has had to drop virtually all its other duties until the inflow of applications ceases, it was reported.

He was master of Blue Lodge in 1900 and served as its secretary from 1901 to 1903. He was also High Priest of the Bellefonte Lodge in 1904, at the same time commander of the Commandery, and was at the time of his death, grand treasurer of the order.

In May 1941, Mr. Musser was named a dollar-a-year man in charge of Region No. 13 of the third Federal Reserve Bank District of the Office of Production Management, Division of Contract Distribution, and had served as chairman of the advisory
