Women Sought For Nurse Duty

Recruiting To Open Sept. 11, With Goal of 10,000 For Nation

Recruiting of women for the enlisted ranks of the WAVES will open on September 11 when the first application blanks are mailed out, the Navy announced yesterday.

Women who wish to enlist in the women's naval reserve organization may write in to the Office of Naval Officer Procurement to request application blanks.

The office, which ordinarily handles only the commissioning of officers, will serve as a recruiting station for enlisted WAVES. The same procedure used with WAVES officers will be followed. Only written requests for application forms will be considered. After the applications are filled out, likely applicants will be interviewed and given aptitude and physical tests. Those who pass muster will become WAVES.

Women from eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and South Jersey should write to the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Widener Building, Philadelphia, for application forms. Those in western Pennsylvania should address Branch Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Keystone Hotel Building, 3rd avenue and Wood street, Pittsburgh.

Officers in charge of WAVES recruiting emphasized that it will be impossible to issue any applications before September 11 because of the rush of selecting WAVES officers, who are to go into training before the enlisted personnel is chosen.

Here are the principal requirements for enlisted WAVES:

- Age—Over 20 and under 36.
- Education—High school diploma or its equivalent in the form of business school education plus business experience.
- Marital Status—Single or married women eligible, latter provided they have no children under 18. WAVES cannot marry during training.
- Physical Condition—Minimum height, five feet; minimum weight, 98 pounds; eyes 12/20 correctable to 20/20 or normal with glasses; teeth, minimum of 18 including four molars and eight incisors.
- Minimum Skill—Sufficient aptitude and ability with typewriter to qualify for ratings in clerical and communication work. Short-hand will qualify for still higher ratings.
- Pay in the ranks of the WAVES will be identical with Navy pay, which ranges from $50 for apprentice or untrained seamen to $138 a month for chief petty officers. All enlisted pay is in addition to keep. WAVES also will receive a total of $200 worth of uniforms or cash to purchase them.
- A total of 10,000 WAVES are to be enlisted over the nation. The number to come from this district has not yet been disclosed.
- Among those eligible to apply for enlistment after September 11 are many who sought commissions but failed all the necessary qualifications.

Justice of Peace Needs Improvement
A two-year survey of the local judiciary showed that the justice of the peace must improve, according to the Committee on Minor Judiciary, assisted by the Institute of Local Government at the Pennsylvania State College, in a report to the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

Most of the criticism leveled against the local justice of the peace in his cases are in favor of the plaintiff. Other charges include: no qualifications required except legal residence, lack of court supervision, and absence of docket books furnished for records of cases.

However, the fault as the peace is not as much at justice as the system, the committee reports. It suggested that the fee system be abolished, a new plan be established for a centralized system of courts, and that the procedure be simple and informal.

The committee says that this public office has served an average six-year term on the average, had 969 school education, is 50 years old, is either a farmer or skilled or unskilled laborer, and tries only 194 cases per year.

The Navy Needs Men, Help Us Enlist Them

Due to the increased demand for information regarding Navy Enlistment, the following information has been announced by the Navy Recruiting Sub-station in Altoona.

Navy enlistment is open to all men over 17 and not over 50 years of age. Men under 21 must have the written consent of their parents while married men must have the consent of their wives. Naturalized citizens must have their, or their parents' certificate of citizenship.

Only single men 17 and under 31 are accepted in the Regular Navy. All men in the 17 to 50 group are accepted in the Naval Reserve. Men who are in the Selective Service Draft can enlist in the Navy up to the day of their scheduled induction.

Enlistments in the Regular Navy are for six (6) years while in the Naval Reserve they are for the duration. Regular and Reserve men receive the same treatment and same benefits.

When a man enlists and passes the physical examination he is sworn into Navy Service and from that day until his enlistment expires he is a Navy man.

That happens following enlistment:

Men are sent to training stations for the necessary training period, after which they are detailed to duty with the Fleet, at the shore station or base, where their talents can best be utilized.

Or they may be selected and sent to the main Navy schools for further training and study to prepare them for specialized duty. In many instances men who are sent to schools come out with petty officer ratings.

This briefly explains Navy Enlistment procedure. However, full details and information may be obtained, without obligation, by contacting the Altoona Navy Recruiting Sub-station.

Two new booklets "The Navy Makes Men—Men Make the Navy" and "What Kind of a Job Can I Get in the Navy" may also be obtained completely by contacting the Altoona office. These booklets contain complete information on the various classes of the Naval Reserve and the large group of trades of which they are composed.

Towers of Truth

Chinese, Finnish, Tagalog, Dutch, Spanish—programs in more than a dozen tongues go out from the towers of General Electric stations WGEA and WGOE, Schenectady, and KGEI, San Francisco.

- They provide authentic war information for news-starved peoples around the globe, entertainment for U.S. forces abroad. These G-E short-wave stations...
- ... have special antennas "pointed" at Australia, South America, China, Europe—making reception there almost as strong as from local stations.
- They provided the only U.S. programs that reached Bataan. People in conquered lands risk their lives to listen. Smuggled letters say they bring hope of release.
- Some announcers are regular G-E production employees, working on war work. They tell people in their native lands that America is determined on victory.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

OPA INSISTS ON STRICT PRICE LIMIT REGULATIONS

The Office of Price Administration, now conducting a survey of merchant-compliance with terms of the General Maximum Price Regulation, is proceeding with the knowledge that every retailer in Pennsylvania has been notified of his duty.

"With the kind assistance of 13,500 volunteers throughout the State, the OPA last month gave into the hands of every retailer in the State, copies of the regulations.

"With such long advance notice—dating back, in fact, to April, when the regulation was issued—there can be little reason for retailers failing to abide by the requirements of this great regulation to combat the disease of inflation.

OPA is now going to proceed with a survey in the interest of the general public. This regulation is not of interest to the retailer alone. It is of the most pressing concern to every household and every wage-earner in the land. For that reason, OPA must insist on observance of its provisions."
