

Modern Etiquette

- 1. Does a well-bred girl accept valuable gifts of jewelry from men acquaintances?
2. When a person is eating alone in a public dining room, is it permissible to read a book or a newspaper?
3. Is it proper to use ragged edged paper and envelopes for social correspondence?
4. Is it permissible for the bride and bridegroom to receive congratulations in the church?
5. When one is in a hurry, is it all right to ask a clerk in a store to wait on you, when there are two or three other persons ahead of you?
6. When entering a room together, who enters first, the hostess or her guest?
7. Isn't it gracious for a hostess to urge more food upon a guest who has refused?
8. When a woman is traveling alone on a train and wishes to have a stubborn window shade raised or lowered, or a piece of heavy luggage moved, what should she do?
9. What is the most becoming color to a girl who has "greenish" eyes and golden brown hair?
10. Whose duty is it to see that the bride and bridegroom's cars are ready and waiting for them, at the wedding reception?
11. When a man is with a girl and wishes to light a cigarette, should he offer her one?
12. At dinner, which fork should be placed nearest to the plate?

Answers to Modern Etiquette

- 1. No. The only gifts a girl should accept from men acquaintances are such inexpensive things as flowers, candy, stationery, or perhaps, ice skates, tennis rackets, and such. Anything that is too elaborate or costs a great deal of money is taboo with the well-bred girl.
2. Yes.
3. No; straight cut edges are the most suitable.
4. No; they do not receive any congratulations in the church, but should go at once to the place where the breakfast or reception is to be held.
5. No; it is extremely discourteous to do so.
6. The guest, a hostess going first only when it is necessary to show the way.
7. It is very rude and distasteful to the guest for a hostess to do this. She should never make but one offer, and under no circumstances should she urge or scold because the guest "is not eating enough."
8. Ask the porter to do this.
9. Jade green.
10. The best man should attend to this.
11. Yes, and light it for her if she accepts. If she declines, then ask if she objects to his smoking.
12. The salad fork.

Words Often Misused
Do not say, "I saw that book somewhere." Say, "I saw that book somewhere."
Do not say, "Everyone has their (or have their) faults." Say, "Everyone has his faults."
Do not say, "I propose to accept their offer." Say, "I intend to accept their offer."
Do not say, "It was saturated with water." Say, "It was saturated with water."
Do not say, "The store was filled with patrons." Say, "The store was filled with customers."
Do not say, "Give us proof of the veracity of these statements." Say, "The truth of these statements."

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Water Stains
If a few drops of water are spilled on the hardwood floor while watering the plants, rub the spots with a cloth dampened with turpentine, using a circular motion when rubbing. Dry with a clean flannel cloth and the spots will have disappeared.
The Ironing Board
Often the ironing board will warp and become uncomfortable for ironing. When this happens, reverse the coverings to the other side, and in a short time the heat of the ironing will straighten out the board.
Baked Potatoes
If bacon fat or olive oil is rubbed over potatoes before baking, it will keep the skins from shriveling, and also add to the flavor.

Fingermarks
Remove fingermarks from wall paper by rubbing the marks with a gum eraser or with soft bread until the marks disappear.
Pie Crust
If pie crust is made up at least a day in advance of the pie baking, wrapped in wax paper, and stored in the refrigerator, it will roll out better than crust that is freshly made. This also applies to rolled cookie dough.

Poets' Corner

NO USE TO BE KICKIN'
There is folks on this old planet Sittin' straddle 'o' the fence, Doin' nuthin'-just a-squattin' Without even good "hoss sense." Always buckin' and a kickin'. With a whinner now and then— You might think a watchin' o' 'em Taint no wuz mules instead o' men. Taint no use to be a-gruntin' An' a-kickin' up a fuss. Just 'cause things don't jibe to suit You, When they might by far be wuss. I can't see the sense o' frettin'. Bein' alwus in a stew —est as you thought the good Lord Orter fix things all for you. Jest you cheer up now a little, Don't be gruntin' 'cause it's wet. What suits you may not suit others— There are others! Don't forget— God knows best what you are needin'. And if He finds you true, He will let some little sunbeam From the dark clouds filter through.

A REQUEST TO GOD

Trees dark against a flaming sky, A bird to their shelter homing; A lamp glow in a window ring, Beckons to a comrade roaming. Peace, peace and rest, and sweet content; A Haven secure from the night, Wait the weary one homeward bent; Guides the wanderer in his plight. "God! Spare it the cannon's wild blast, The shatter of bullets flying, Horror of demons from the air! Cries of wounded, the dying." "It speaks of a life that is free; For the vagabond spirit—rest, Close to the earth, the sky and the sun, In this star spangled land so blest." —Marie Christine Peters.

I KNOW A SONG (Marine Hymn)

I know a song, a swell 'ole song, It's all about Gyrenes. How they've fought and bled, to right the wrong, And died like true Marines. Nearly every land on this old earth That you can think to name, Has seen them fight and heard them sing. This song about their fame. It isn't a song of hatred, Nor is it a song of love, It's just about their faith and honor And the billet they'll have above. It tells of death in the jungle Where the sun is hot and the going slow, The fierce hard fighting in Northern lands, And crimson stains upon the snow. Those brilliant nights when "taps" sound clear, This thought seems so near its head; That some will hear "reveille" go next morn. I know a song, a swell 'ole song, It's all about Gyrenes. How they've fought and bled to right the wrong, And died like true Marines. Those pals who were called and had to go, Those bunkies so clean and square; They'll be on watch forever, I know, Guarding those streets up there.

Announce Awards Community Fair

Many Prize Winners at Walker Township School Exhibition
Wednesday, October 21st, marked the date of what was probably the largest and most successful Community Fair ever held in Walker township. The exhibits were particularly good and showed exceptional high quality. Many people won prizes at the Fair. The largest individual prize winner was Janice Ardery, who won four dollars. Thomas Hinds, a senior in the high school, won the poultry judging contest which carried with it an award of fifty pounds of starting and growing mash.

The Senior class won $150 for their prize-winning class display of fruits and vegetables. A new feature of the Fair were the academic exhibits which featured maps, essays, notebooks, displays of handwriting and many other things which illustrated what type of work was being done in the schools. There was keen competition between the various elementary schools with Crawford school, taught by Mrs. Beightol, winning $2.75 for the first prize exhibit. Visitors in the afternoon saw a lively soccer game, when a powerful Greg township soccer team took the field against the Walker township team. Final results showed Walker township winning by a score of 2-0 with Donald Deltrich and Mahlon Bowen scoring the goals.

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

Those of you who are planning to entertain for Halloween will find these recipes helpful in planning your menu.

- Halloween Pies
1-2 cups pumpkin cooked and drained
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1-1/2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons cloves
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
To the pumpkin add the sugar, the well beaten yolks of the eggs, the cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, lemon extract and vanilla. Stir in the milk and the melted butter. Fold in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Pour the mixture into individual tins which have been lined with pastry. Bake for the first ten minutes at 450 degrees, then reduce the heat and finish baking at 350 degrees. Cook at this heat for about 35 minutes. When cold cover the top of the pies with sweetened whipped cream, on which make Halloween faces using strips of preserved ginger.

Jack O'Lantern Salad
Hollow red apples or oranges. Cut Jack O'Lantern faces in the surface and place bits of pimento, green peppers or celery in the openings. Fill the apple with a fruit and top with mayonnaise made stiff enough to stand like a cap on the fruit.

Spiced Tea
1-2 cup tea leaves
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon each of nutmeg, allspice and cinnamon, tied in a bag
10 cups boiling water
4 cups cold water
2-3 cup lemon juice
1 cup orange juice
Boil sugar, spices and cold water for 10 minutes, put in tea leaves which have been tied in a bag. Add the boiling water, orange juice and lemon juice. Let steep until cold. Crystallized rose or violet petals dropped in the cup adds a delightful bit of color.

Satan's Delight
1-2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 squares chocolate
1-2 cups flour
1-2 teaspoon soda
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
3-4 cup chopped nuts
Mix all ingredients like a cake and drop on a greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees.

Decorated Marshmallows
Decorate fresh marshmallows with bats, owls, pumpkin faces or black cats, using a very fine paint brush dipped into melted baking chocolate. Let the chocolate be rather thick and let dry.

Witches' Puffs
2 eggs
1-2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter
Add the sugar to the eggs, which have been beaten very light. Add the milk to the egg mixture to which the vanilla has been added and the flour to which the baking powder and salt has been added. Add melted butter. Drop by spoonfuls (using a dessert spoon) into hot fat and fry like doughnuts. Turn the puffs as they rise. Remove from the hot fat when a golden brown and let drain on paper. Cool and frost with a chocolate frosting, then roll in cocoa nut which has been thinned orange.
